HALDIMAND PROVIDES GOOD SEED JUDGES

Lorne Porter High Man in Competition

Halimand County is justly famous for its good seed but it is now famous also for its Junior Farmer seed judges. In an elimination contest held at Guelph on Tuesday, December 13th, to pick five men from ten counties represented, three of the five are from Halimand County. Mr. Lorne Porter of R.R. No. 1 Jarvis, was high man of the competition with Mr. Hubert Field of Nanticoke running a close second, being only four points behind Mr. Porter. The third man winning a place on the party of five is Mr. Jerome Dobbins of Celadonia, who stood fifth in the competition. This is part of a program being conducted by the Ontario Department of Agriculture to choose a team to represent the province at the World's Grain Exhibition to be held in Regina next year.

The three boys from Halimand county along with seventeen from other parts of the province will be given some special training at Guelph, after which a final contest will be held to pick the team that will represent the province.

FISHER BODY CRAFTSMEN'S GUILD

More than 20,000 Canadian boys have enrolled this year as members of the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild and have started in to build miniature model Napoleonic coaches in an effort to win some of the $55,000 in prizes which the Guild offers in this year's competition. Many thousands of boys will yet enter the contest. There remains still a month for the young craftsmen to send in their entries to Guild Headquarters in Oshawa, Ont.

Six university scholarships, worth $5,000 each, two to be exclusively for Canadians, trips to Toronto and the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition; and more than 140 awards in gold, are offered.

In schools throughout Canada the work of the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild has been explained to pupils between the ages of twelve to nineteen years. And in many instances, school groups have been organized to study the plans and specifications to build a model free by the Guild, and to build from them a colorful miniature model coach.

Boys may enroll through any dealer in General Motors cars, or write direct to the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild, Oshawa, Ontario. No enrollments in 1930. It is learned, will be accepted after January 15th.

THE NEW LEAF

He came to my desk with quivering lip.
The lesson was done.
"Have you a new leaf for me, dear teacher?"
I have spelled this one!"
I took his leaf, all soiled and blotched.
And gave him a new one, all unspotted.
Then into his tired heart, I smiled:
"Do better now, my child!"
He went to the throne with trembling heart,
The year was done.
"Have you a New Year for me, dear teacher?"
I have spelled this one!"
He took my year, all soiled and blotched.
And gave me a new one, all unspotted.
Then into my tired heart He smiled:
"Do better now, my child!"

BETTER TIMES

If we were given to see into the immediate future, we would indeed be surprised. Most people believe that boom times will be upon us as suddenly as the depression of 1932 came after a period of exceptional prosperity. Nothing so sudden will happen; the change must of all necessity be gradual.

We are now going through a period of readjustment at the end of which normal business conditions will be resumed. There is no question of the stability of our industries or of all the country as a whole. Prices and values must come still closer to actual worth before an upward movement makes itself felt. The bottom is in sight, individual constructive effort only will place our Dominion back on the highway of prosperity.

Our legislators are doing all they can to alleviate unemployment. They are stimulating buying power artificially, the money thus expended comes from the coffers of state. Taxes will be levied on the public. To be able to pay this debt we must create more wealth, therefore we must work all the harder, work is the only means of creating wealth.

Legislation does not do the little maintenance work that we have delayed so long. The money we will put in circulation will change hands and before it reaches the pocket of the laborer it will have lost its value. The cycle of business has benefited a number of people. Too much of our capital is tied up. We have just cause for optimism when we listen to the gloomy predictions of those who say that when values are at their lowest, money well spent or invested is capital working for us and for others in greater need.

HEALTH

JUST A COLD
The common cold is a serious and costly nuisance. It is serious because it is the beginning of a dangerous infection of the respiratory tract—bronchitis or pneumonia. It is costly because it causes more time to be lost from school and work than any other disease. That it is a nuisance is a statement which will be accepted without dispute.

Obviously, it would be desirable to control a disease which causes so much discomfort, which wastes so much time, and which may lead to conditions that endanger life. Unfortunately it is difficult to prevent its occurrence. The very frequency of its occurrence reflects the fact that it is a disease that is recurrent. While other factors may play an important part in its occurrence, it appears to be well established that colds are passed on to the well and so belong to the group of diseases which we call communicable.

When we take into consideration how people with colds continue to go about their business, refusing to stay in bed for "just a cold" and when we further consider the way in which so many of these people cough and sneeze, we need to wonder why colds are of such common occurrence.

The person who has a cold in his head is almost certain to have his hands soiled with his fingers, his nose, and his face. He passes these to everything which he touches. Were he at home and in bed, he would be relatively isolated keeping his germs to himself. The person who goes to work with a cold is almost certain to be able to pay this debt we must create more wealth, therefore we must work all the harder, work is the only means of creating wealth.

Legislation does not do the little maintenance work that we have delayed so long. The money we will put in circulation will change hands and before it reaches the pocket of the laborer it will have lost its value. The cycle of business has benefited a number of people. Too much of our capital is tied up. We have just cause for optimism when we listen to the gloomy predictions of those who say that when values are at their lowest, money well spent or invested is capital working for us and for others in greater need.

CHASSE GALERIE

Down by the seashores of the Maritime provinces many a salty yarn is spun to an admiring circle by old fishermen who contentedly puffing their pipes in the lee of an upturned boat. There too, but more frequently at camps on inland lakes and rivers, are heard the tales of the "Chasse Galerie." As the people of Quebec are deeply religious it is natural that many of these are closely related to the great legends of St. Lawrence, cradle of the French occupation of Canada. As the people of Quebec are deeply religious it is natural that many of these are closely related to the great legends of St. Lawrence, cradle of the French occupation of Canada.

THE SMALL NEWSPAPER

Arthur Brisbane the recognized dean of American editorial writers, in a recent article says: "The smaller newspapers of the country are the most important newspapers, and incidentally in proportion to their circulation their advertising results are the smallest in the country. They are read through end to end. Every copy of circulation means an entire family, not a family that lives in one room with a can opener, but a family that owns its house and lands around it, at least ninety times out of a hundred; a family that buys everything from the roof on the house, to the hats on the mother's head to the boy's feet. The service that their publishers render to the public is in my opinion, the most important service by any class of citizens in Canada. The country editors are distributors of information; they reach the minds of the boys that leave the farm and they are the nation's mental police force."

ROCKFORD

On Friday afternoon, the 20th of December, Mrs. (Rev.) W. Bibson was at home to the Ladies of St. George's Church from four until six. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to meet the wife of the newly appointed rector.

In the accompaniment of the "cup that cheers but does not inebriate" and dainty refreshments, a too rapid passing time was spent in happy companionship. Tea was poured by George's Church from four until six. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to meet the wife of the newly appointed rector.

HOCKEY SIDELINES

We wonder what the end would be to the boys who signed up on the Town Hockey League if they were forced to make their living from salesmanship.

Imagine their embarrassment if they got down to bread and water, at any rate someone is going to be the recipient of one of the greatest raws ever put on the market, even if the hockey boys haven't ambition to put the idea ever to their own advantage.

And we think it is about time the Secretary made his final collection and the winner was decided, as they are about a month overdue now and people benefit most by radio during the winter months. So why put off a decision, that has already reached its climax.

We understand one of the boys sold forty-five tickets, and he is to be congratulated, however, it seems that some of the other boys feel that he trespassed on their territory to do so, although all we can say is that such an ally is a poor excuse.

Yes sir! We must admit it is great to have fun through the efforts of someone else, but we also must admit that it is poor sportsmanship, and that spirit is certainly prominent amongst our boys sometimes, even though they are the best pushers on earth, if the notion takes them.

But why make it necessary for a certain few to always bear the responsibility. We wonder if the lack of ice this past few weeks is responsible, nevertheless, the boys would be all out there again should cold weather set in, all set to have their fun, regardless.

Well one thing sure expectancy does not buy pad pads and sweaters, it would be a safe bet that the boys would think anyone that would buy kind enough to buy them good pads, sweaters, etc., would be a great guy. But all I can say that it is a poor amateur sport aggregation that cannot finance their own pleasures.

Regardless of salves and slams lets all hope that cold weather will be the next number on the programme, and the Hockey League will again get in to operation.

MARLENE DIETRICH AS UNWANTED WIFE MAKES PART LINE

Chalk up another outstanding performance for Marlene Dietrich in "Blonde Venus," which will be shown for the first time on January 17th at the Regal Theatre. Under the skillful direction of Josef von Sternberg, this picture becomes one of the best photoplays.

Miss Dietrich in her role as the "Blonde Venus" successfully proves to her many admirers that she is an outstanding actress. In a role that evokes every known human emotion, she grips her audience with her superb artistry and deep understanding of the character she portrays. Her moods are perfect and genuine, and set with a conviction that makes the story live.

It is an entirely different part that Miss Dietrich plays in "Blonde Venus" that portrays a wife whose entire life is centered on her husband and small son. Because of the illness of her husband she goes through many vicissitudes, and finds that she is in love with two men. Fighting desperately to hold them both, she is caught in a dilemma which makes her an outcast, wandering from city to city trying to escape the direful results of her surcharged emotional nature. The denouement of this graphically realistic photo-drama leaves one with the conviction that he has seen Miss Dietrich in her greatest screen portrayal.

The supporting cast, all well chosen for their respective roles, includes Cary Grant, Herbert Marshall, Dickie Moore, Gertrude Short, Gene Morgan, Robert Emmet O'Connor, Maude Trux and Rita La Roy.

"What is meant by a square gambler? One who never tries to cheat the police out of the take-off."

ROCKFORD

On Friday afternoon, the 20th of December, Mrs. (Rev.) W. Bibson was at home to the Ladies of St. George's Church from four until six. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to meet the wife of the newly appointed rector.

In the accompaniment of the "cup that cheers but does not inebriate" and dainty refreshments, a too rapid passing time was spent in happy companionship. Tea was poured by George's Church from four until six. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to meet the wife of the newly appointed rector.

HOCKEY SIDELINES

We wonder what the end would be to the boys who signed up on the Town Hockey League if they were forced to make their living from salesmanship.

Imagine their embarrassment if they got down to bread and water, at any rate someone is going to be the recipient of one of the greatest raws ever put on the market, even if the hockey boys haven't ambition to put the idea ever to their own advantage.

And we think it is about time the Secretary made his final collection and the winner was decided, as they are about a month overdue now and people benefit most by radio during the winter months. So why put off a decision, that has already reached its climax.

We understand one of the boys sold forty-five tickets, and he is to be congratulated, however, it seems that some of the other boys feel that he trespassed on their territory to do so, although all we can say is that such an ally is a poor excuse.

Yes sir! We must admit it is great to have fun through the efforts of someone else, but we also must admit that it is poor sportsmanship, and that spirit is certainly prominent amongst our boys sometimes, even though they are the best pushers on earth, if the notion takes them.

But why make it necessary for a certain few to always bear the responsibility. We wonder if the lack of ice this past few weeks is responsible, nevertheless, the boys would be all out there again should cold weather set in, all set to have their fun, regardless.

Well one thing sure expectancy does not buy pad pads and sweaters, it would be a safe bet that the boys would think anyone that would buy kind enough to buy them good pads, sweaters, etc., would be a great guy. But all I can say that it is a poor amateur sport aggregation that cannot finance their own pleasures.

Regardless of salves and slams lets all hope that cold weather will be the next number on the programme, and the Hockey League will again get in to operation.

MARLENE DIETRICH AS UNWANTED WIFE MAKES PART LINE

Chalk up another outstanding performance for Marlene Dietrich in "Blonde Venus," which will be shown for the first time on January 17th at the Regal Theatre. Under the skillful direction of Josef von Sternberg, this picture becomes one of the best photoplays
