The following letter explains the reason TIP TOP TAILORS

and Mrs. F

IVAN

JARVIS,

re: FUTURE PRICES OF TIP TOP CLOTHES

Several dealers have asked us lately whether the price of TIP TOP clothes was likely to advance at an early date; no doubt the question has been inspired by articles in the Press, regarding the advancing prices of WOOL and other commodities. It is a fact that certain grades of wool have advanced over 50% lately. If this and similar advances continue, the cost of clothing will necessarily become higher.

As you know, TIP TOP are operating on the smallest margin of profit in the Industry and their price will have to take care of higher costs of the materials they buy,

Tip Top Tailors would be very reluctant to put their price up in the near future but, if the costs do become higher they will have no other alternative.

Very sincerely yours, TIP TOP TAILORS LIMITED,

In order to be of further assistance, the Department of Extension, O.A.C., has just issued a new circular which sets forth a simple and practical sys tem of locating and correcting some of the common tying troubles that oc cur. The system is based on the location and appearance of the failing bands or "Trouble Band" as they are called. The circular is divided into two ections, the first dealing with bands found on the bills of the knotter and the second having to do with bands found with the bundles. Each trou ble is carefully illustrated and cleary dealt with under the headings, Des ription, Causes and Remedies. The circular is of such a size that t can be easily kept in the tool box of the binder for ready reference and the information contained applies in principle to both grain and corn biners of all makes. A copy of the very useful circular can be had free of charge on application to A. Gordon Skinner, Depar
