1933 Beach Note... "32 Health Record For Canada—U.S. Best in History"

Low Death Rate of 8.34 Per 1,000—Due to Less Overeating and Overdrinking... In a previous year...

Their death rate for the year was at the unprecedented figure of 8.34 per 1,000 living...

"New minima were recorded for nine important causes of death... "Furthermore, among the various types of accidental death..."

"It is safe to say that the death rate for the general population in 1932 was also at a new low point... "The extremely low death-rate of 1932 is also the more remarkable view of the unfavorable economic conditions..."

"The best for both the white and colored? The year with new low death-rates for nine causes of death of major public health interest..."

"Of foremost importance, we are told, is the almost entire freedom of 1937 from serious epidemics... "The depression, unquestionably, has curbed overeating and overdrinking..."

"The people, then, although against their will, had more leisure last year than ever before—and more out of it..."

Health-Giving Sleep Is Best, Says Writer... No Drug Can Give Like Results As Naturally Induced Slumber

An editorial writer in The Journal of the Indiana State Medical Association (Fort Wayne), gives some pertinent advice on sleep which he says physicians ought always to furnish to their patients...

"The physiology of sleep is imperfectly understood, and it is doubtful if any drug can exactly reproduce the restful sleep that comes when a sleep is really spontaneous... "The Vasomotor System, during sleep, the distribution of the blood is mainly to the brain, the muscles in the state of fatigue, and to the digestive organs if digestion is going on..."
