80th. Annual Exhibition
 Of The Jarvis Agricultural Society, Now History

Last night concluded the 80th annual exhibition of the Jarvis Agricultural Society, although the crowd was not larger than last year, practically as many passed the turnstile to view the array of exhibits that filled the arena to capacity.

The Ladies work was exceptional this year and quality was shown in blue and white. A wonderful show in the lower part of the arena was Waterford, had an exhibit that attracted a great deal of attention, showing the latest furniture for practically every room in the modern home.

The horses, cattle, sheep and swine exceeded the entry of former years and quality was equal to a much larger exhibition. The poultry also exceeded former years and an exhibit worthy of the interest was evident for the poultry lovers.

The softball game in the afternoon attracted a large portion of the crowd. The Jarvis Oiled team of Simcoe and the Jarvis Oiled team of Jarvis defeated the two teams and emerged victors by a score of 7-2.

The Jarvis Oiled Band was in attendance throughout the day and besides leading the school children in a parade to the grounds at one P.M. provided splendid entertainment throughout the afternoon.

The Jarvis Agricultural Society have never suffered from over attendance, however they can well be proud of the fair they present to the public, and are doing their bit toward the advancement of Agriculture in this district.

The exhibit of the Boys' Grain Club attracted much attention and they certainly deserve much credit for their excellent showing under the guidance of Mr. A. G. Skinner, District Agricultural Representative.

DIED

FITZGERALD—In the Township of Rainham on Sunday, October 1st, 1933, G. A. Fitzgerald, in his 72nd year. The funeral was held on Wednesday, October 4th at 2 P.M. from the Deciple Church, Sweet's Corners with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Regina Exhibits

Visitors to Cayuga over the coming week-end and for the next ten days or so will have the opportunity of seeing samples of the actual exhibits which were shown at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference Regina, from this country. This display, which may be seen in the window of Mr. D. P. Foster's Store, has been made possible through the co-operation of Mr. Foster and Mr. Fissette, the Department of Agriculture, Cayuga, and the owners of the White Winter Wheat in this county. Three samples of wheat exhibited by Mr. Walter Nagel are also on display, together with Soft Red Winter Wheat prize and Durum wheat prize. It is interesting to note that thirty-four exhibits were made in eighty classes from this county and twenty-one prizes were won in five, bringing a total of $740.00 in prize money to the county. This should be a matter of great satisfaction to the seed producers of this county and indicates the wide diversity of Haldimand Agriculture.

Every prize winner richly deserves the honor and merit he attained at the Regina show where the keenest kind of competition was waged and where the entries in some classes ran up to 300. Each winning crop or small, represents in most cases years of careful study, efficient crop management and hard up hill striving for something better.

Residents of the county would do well to see these exhibits while they are on display. The complete list of prize winners in this county is as follows:—

Soft Red Winter Wheat—Walter Nagel, Fisherville, 14th prize.
 White Winter Wheat—Walter Nagel, Fisherville, 7th prize.
 Durum Wheat—Walter Nagel, Fisherville, 20th prize.
 Alike-Albert Nagel, Fisherville, 5th prize; Walter Nagel, Fisherville, 6th prize; J. Rohrbach & Son, Fisherville, 9th prize; L. B. Mehlbacher, Cayuga, 14th prize; Ivan Both, Hagersville, 16th prize; M. E. Stengel, Selkirk, 17th prize; John H. Schweyer, Fisherville, 20th prize.
 Canadian Blue Grass—L. B. Mehlbacher, Cayuga, 1st prize; Elton Held, Fisherville, 2nd prize; Albert Nagel, Fisherville, 3rd prize; M. E. Stengel, Selkirk, 4th prize; E. G. Mehlbacher, Fisherville, 5th prize; J. W. Schweyer, Fisherville, 6th prize; Fred Helka, Hagersville, 8th prize; W. H. Cherry, Hagersville, 9th prize; T. J. Nixon, Jarvis, 10th prize; J. Rohrbach & Son, Fisherville, 11th prize; Wm. Mattice, & Son, Nanticoke, 13th prize.
