Murder Ratios,
—Murder is safer in the United States than in any other country on the globe which makes any pretense of civilization. The murder rate of 1932 in England and Wales was 0.5 per 100,000 of population! But in 108 representative American cities the murder rate last year was 10.5 per 100,000 persons. Chicago bumped off her citizens at the rate of 12.8 per 100,000. Detroit did almost as well, her citizens at the rate of 12.00,000. Detroit did almost as well, nor badly, with 9.6 per 100,000. New York furnished the morgue 8.0 in every 100,000.—Brandon Sun.

Sidewalk Episode.

—It happened on King street east at the noon hour.

A lanky boy of about 13 years, trundling a bicycle through the maze of sidewalk traffic and very red in the face shouted: "Hey, lady; hey, there" to a woman a few paces ahead and with whom he apparently had been for some time intent on catching up. In that wondrous, weighty work by Emily Post, the chapter, Sidewalk steadiest, the coldest, the meanes
