True Oliver, Ladner, has quite a record as a clay-buster, having won the B. C. Championship on seven different occasions: 1907, 1910, 1911, 1914, 1925, 1927 and 1931.

True was one of the first life members of the Amateur Trapshooters' Association and was a member of the Canadian Olympic Team Shooting at Antwerp, Belgium, in 1920. In 1925 he captured the Pacific Coast Zone Handicap title with a score of 97 x 100 from the 18-yard line. He represented B. C. at the Grand American Handicap shoot held in Chicago in 1921 and in the Champion of Champions' race broke 194 x 200, breaking his first 112 straight. ent independent of the public mark This, in turn, results in a less ening of demand on the live stock ex change and a consequent bearing dor the Champion of Champions' race broke 194 x 200, breaking his first 112 straight.

C. W. (Bill) McLean won the B. C. Championship in 1928 with 195 x 200 and the all-around Championship with 330 x 350 and was runner-up in the doubles with 44 x 50. He also captured the title in 1929 with 191 x 200 and was runner-up in the doubles with 45 x 50 and in the all-around championship. In 1930 he won the handicap trophy with 96 x 100 shooting from the 21-yard mark and in 1925 won the handicap from 20 yards. In order to establish uniformity of rerketing methods which will assur the farmer better bargaining power and fair prices, the effectors of the United Farmers Cy-operative Com pany, Ltd., have resolved to request our governments (Federal and Pro

WITH the advent of cooler weather, some snapshooters assume that the picture-taking season is over. And in so doing they miss a lot of fun and good pictures.

Matter of fact, with the new films and generally improved equipment, the snapshot season is continuous, winter as well as summer, indoors

Pose your subject about two feet and generally improved equipment, the snapshot season is continuous, winter as well as summer, indoors and out. We shall have much to say about indoor pictures. For a starter, let's talk about silhouettes — those pictures in which the figures are solid black on a white background, much like the scissor pictures you see at fairs.

With silhouettes, even more than with ordinary snaps, it is vital that the pictures tell their own story. (Unless, of course, you want simply a profile portrait.) For you have only outlines to work with, unsupported by perspective or detail.

The first essential of silhouette pictures is a perfectly flat background, devoid of detail. And the easiest way to obtain such a back ground is to stretch a bed sheet across a broad doorway between two rooms. It's important that the sheet be tacked up so that all creases and wrinkles are eliminated.

To light up this background, a strong light must be put in back of it, about five feet away either centered or placed directly back of the major feature of the picture. You have a wide choice of lamps. You can use a couple of ordinary 60-watt
