CHICAGO STOCK SHOW TO OPEN IN NEW QUARTERS

Chicago—With the approach of the closing date for entry in the 1934 International Live Stock Exposition, to be held in its new and grander home at the Chicago Stock Yards December 1 to 8, the management announces that the largest entry of livestock in the history of the Exposition has been received.

This year is the 35th anniversary of the largest of the continent's live stock shows, held annually since its inception during the week following Thanksgiving.

Leading Herds Compete

Entries for the most part, include prize herds and flocks, draft horses, and fancy riding and driving horses and ponies that have won ribbons high on the prize lists of state and provincial fairs and sectional exhibitions held during recent months throughout the country and Canada.

The International Exposition provides the finals of the American live stock show season, and winners at the Chicago show are recognized as the continental champions of the year.

An elaborate dedication ceremony is planned for the opening day of the 1934 Exposition for the new building, that have been constructed throughout the extensive area of the Chicago Stock Yards that were levelled in the great fire last Spring.

Largest of the new structures in the International amphitheatre, declared by the International Bureau of Statistics, and the finest building in the world devoted to the exhibiting of live stock.

Many Will Attend

Agricultural leaders from all parts of this country and Canada have signified their intention of coming to Chicago to take part in the celebration that will mark the 35th Anniversary of this far-famed show as well as the official re-opening of many famous landmarks of the Chicago Stock Yards that are now restored.

All of the railroads entering Chicago have indicated that special low round-trip fares will be granted from points along their lines to Chicago for this outstanding event on the calendar. Special excursions will be run at the rate of a cent a mile.

Best known of Canada's importations from Australia is Oarman Bob Pearce, world's champion of the single sculls. No trouble at all had Pearce in defending his world title against all comers on the Lake Ontario course of the Canadian National Exhibition a week or two ago. From his home in Hamilton, Ontario Pearce drove over to the title contest in his own Chevrolet Six, and after he had rowed to victory again, he treated himself to a brand new car. It was a Chevrolet again, of course, because Pearce can never forget the drive he made to the Olympic meet in California, with his precious scull strapped to the top of his Chevrolet Coupe, and how the thousands of miles from Canada and back again were accomplished with the maximum of comfort and dispatch.

Depress of British through who... at Zamboanga.

Mr. Irwin was an old Hindu maiden... first bath in the holy Ganges.

Malay Peninsula, Little known Cambodia, China, Japan—even Hollywood are amongst the places he writes about.

India, a country that has suffered much at the hands of those whose lives in writing, comes for some rather radical... tropic nights and tropical seas come in for some rather odd descriptions. Simple, homely adventures amongst the simple, homely people of Bali develop the knowledge that the women of this modern Eden are very interested in stop-its and other silken things.

Morgan-Powell, noted literary critic of the Montreal Star, writing of "—and ships— and sailing-wax", says: "Mr. Irwin has the light, whimsical touch invaluable for such a record as this, since it enables him not only to remember what is vivid but to forget what is not worthy of remembrance— it also provides a most attractive medium by which to stimulate the interest of those who have hitherto been compelled for one reason or another, to enjoy their travels abroad vicariously."

On January 10 the Empress of Britain sets out again on her cruise around the world, visiting the ports that provided the copy for "—and ships— and sailing-wax". Her 400 passengers will see the world during the 130 days they are away, will call at 22 ports in 24 different countries.

For those who do not make the cruise, this reviewer recommends "—and ships— and sailing-wax", for those who do it is a practical text book.

CANADIAN WRITES OF CRUISE

Thoughts of travel to far places where hot sunny days make nature's covering seem more reasonable than fur coats are coveted in the long winter, and a very timely book that will be of great assistance to travel-minded people has just appeared. It is "—and ships— and sailing-wax", by Alan Maurice Irwin, published by Macmillans, around the world in the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, and this book is a collection of his impressions, a companionable and amusingly sort of book in which he has written delightfully of his own discretion, and in the manner of Ripley that the "Colonel's" lady and lady O'Grady are sisters under the skin.

The Mediterranean, Egypt, India—where the author lunched with Lord and Lady Willington, the Malaya Peninsula, Little known Cambodia, China, Japan—even Hollywood are amongst the places he writes about.

India, a country that has suffered much at the hands of those whose lives in writing, comes for some rather radical... tropic nights and tropical seas come in for some rather odd descriptions.
