Henry Misner's Tug the "Altawandron, of Port Dover" while fishing at Erieau on Thursday picked up the body of a man floating in the waters of Lake Erie two miles out of Port Erieau. He was a man some forty years of age with greying dark hair and five feet, 10 inches in height.

The only identification to be found about him was the initials E.M.B. on his belt buckle.

Authorities believe the body must have been in the water approximately two weeks.
