World wide interest has been aroused this week by the announcement from Buckingham Palace of the engagement of Prince George, fourth son of King George, and Queen Mary of England to Princess Marina, third daughter of Prince Nicholas of Greece. The engagement climaxes a romance that began over five years ago. There is a possibility in case of restored monarchy of Prince George being called to the throne.

Dwight Booth, daughter of the founder of the Salvation Army was appointed general of the organization last Saturday in London, England. We understand that she is going to retain her United States citizenship and continue to take charge of the army's activities personally in that country. Miss Booth is sixty-eight years of age and succeeds General Higgins as Commander of the great organization which was founded by her father a good many years ago.

The Auction sale of the Government cars at Varsity Stadium last week reached certainly attracted a crowd although some were very much disappointed to learn that "Mick" had pulled the choice of the lot for use in the Department of Health. Even at that the sale netted the province around $3000. Rather a few days work for the auctioneers. At ten percent they would be quite able to return to their homes in west Elgin and other points content for at least a year.

The Rebeck-Stewart feud was stirred up somewhat when Attorney General Rebeck told his listeners at Toronto Liberal meeting that the "Tory Iron Heel at the City Hall" would be the next to go. Mayor Stewart advises the Attorney General, however, that there is big trouble in waiting for him in trying to sow discontent by trying to dominate any particular municipality. The situation seems to be somewhat relieved at the present time although by the time the next civic election comes about in Toronto the fireworks will probably exceed that at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The Liberal Press seem to be getting a great kick in publishing the fact that Premier M. F. Heppburn did not allow the Conservative candidate a West Elgin to reach first base at the opening of the sports baseball league in St. Thomas the other day. Premier Heppburn opened the game on the mound with the Liberal candidate West Elgin to reach first base at the opening of the sports baseball league in St. Thomas the other day. Rev. Dr. Shidley has received a great deal of Commemoration as well as criticism on his views regarding the present beer and wine policy. He was given a splendid opportunity to put out at his Sunday evening sermon the apparent results of the policy when a young man and his mother who were under the influence of intoxicating beverages began heckling the minister during the course of his sermon and who had to be forcibly removed from the church after putting up a real free for all. It is difficult to realize that such a condition would ever become a reality in a Canadian Church during the course of a ministers sermon and it certainly is a condition that should be dealt with most severely.

HAGERSVILLE

The community services which were held in the Town Park during the months of July and August were concluded with the sermons on Sunday evening. Rev. THE PICTURE OF HEALTH

More admiration of personal appearance is conveyed in the phrase "the picture of health" than in any other of the many complimentary expressions which are used to describe the clean-cut, attractive, capable and happy-looking individual.

That it is the popular desire to have this healthy appearance is shown by the enormous sums expended to persuade the public of the health value of this and that commercial product. Most of it is cleverly done but unfortunately scientific truths are distorted to suit the purpose.

The wrinkled brow, the frown and headache from eye-strain is just a blurred, out-of-focus reflection of health. The diseased or abnormal body cannot reflect the health which it does not possess. Therefore, the picture of health are really healthy in mind and body. They have given reasonable care to their bodies and they have made a satisfactory adjustment to the world in which they live—they are healthy, happy and contented.

There is nothing artificial about this picture of health. It is an untouched photograph from within, not a mere paint and powder job from without. It is a matter of taste as to whether or not eyelids should be darkened, cheeks rouged and hair dyed, but no one is deceived into thinking that these alterations are real; they are often an obvious attempt to provide something in the place of the lost picture of health.

Sound teeth and healthy gums are made possible by proper foods and reasonable care. You cannot make bristles without straw; neither can you build sound teeth without calcium, and the best source of calcium is the old reliable friend from the of living to attain this end. There is nothing which refreshes like sleep there is nothing that cleanses like soap and water. There is no food to replace milk. These are the things to know and to make use of in your daily life.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

The age at which a body becomes a man is when the old folks stop dealing out spending money.

When you come to consider your own health, you will find that the picture of health is really healthy in mind and body. They have given reasonable care to their bodies and they have made a satisfactory adjustment to the world in which they live—they are healthy, happy and contented.
