COUNTY COUNCIL

of the keenest minds in Ontario, with respect to the subject of the speaker's remarks was "Some Inequalities and Inconsistencies of Municipal Administration in the Province of Ontario".

Mr. Stalker stressed the importance of the assessor and tax collector in any municipality and he pointed out that it was their duty to render.

The comparative data of the assessment officials were underpinned for the matter of education. Although he did not commit himself he suggested the possible advantages of the rural school-house. In this way the educational facilities would be more consistent, and thus afford a more equal opportunity for rural pupils compared to those residing in larger places.
