Indicated where each person sat and menu card was also decorated by the girls, made the tables more attractive. Evergreen boughs and red tissue paper served to complete the color scheme.

The culinary art of the girls' class was well and fully exemplified by the menu which was served. Perfect organization under the leadership of Miss Hambridge took care of the various courses with no delay and everything ran so smoothly.

A brief musical program was given with Mrs. Carter and Miss Jean Duncan giving vocal solos. Miss Patricia Stallwood a violin solo and a vocal and instrumental duet by Oliver Sayer and Clara Andrews. Short addresses were given and seasons greetings expressed by various members of the class and by Miss Eileen Marshall and Mr. Harry Gowan on behalf of the classes.

The balance of the afternoon was given over to an informal dance with music supplied by members of the Short Course Orchestra under the capable leadership of Miss Dorothy Botwright.

During the course of the afternoon the members of the staff were each presented with Christmas remembrance by the classes. Miss Eileen Marshall and Miss Beryl Roulson on behalf of the girls and Mr. Harry Gowan and Mr. Glenn Reichel on behalf of the boys' class. The presentations were responded to in a suitable way by each of the staff members.

The first copy of the new class monthly publication, "The Short Course Broadcaster" was issued on Friday afternoon. It is quite a pretentious magazine and a great deal of credit is due the Editor-in-Chief, Mr. Arthur Winger, and his assistants for their efforts.

Literary Society

Progress, yes, progress. This society is making it all the while, any rate, that is what the second Literary Society meeting intimated. It was a program of more balanced nature, the music and readings blending better than in the meeting the previous week. The chair was taken by Miss Marshall, who opened the meeting with a short address on the need of coming forward with hidden talent, and the importance of working side by side with our shoulders to the wheel to get results.

Mrs. Morley Leatherdale then gave the minutes for last week's meeting, everything O.K. The next item showed where under the aegis of the society, Cecil Mandeville, one of our Junior boys, gave a humorous reading which showed the society's face expression of Cecil's, was given for some reason after all. Miss Ruth Hayes rendered a pleasing piano solo, followed with a reading given by Miss Helen Simons, both of these numbers were very much appreciated. The next number consisted of another piano solo, given by Miss Marion McNeil, which was sung led by Miss Botwright, then came on the scene, and how we do like to hear it up. As for describing the next item, well, it would be too hard, at any rate, it was a debate, the title being "Is More Nourishing, the Smell of Limburger Cheese or the Hole of a Young Man's Mouth?"

The title, it was all in and given in a light vein, and it seemed as though we were looking through a pair of holes all the while. If we were not, we know at least that there is no hot air floating around.

Mr. McKinnon, the critic for the afternoon, happened to be the ladies' program, of course) congratulated Miss Marshall on her opening remarks and for the program which was planned. Better balance was the most outstanding idea, he pointed out. The chair paper was the last item, but not the least on the program and was given by our County President, Mr. William Snow, den, famed cattle judge.

The meeting was then closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

On Tuesday the boys of this course had their first big judging class. It was a great change and we thank Mr. Slater at whose farm we judged for the privilege. During the course of giving reasons, we found that we were a little bemuddled, but all the same, we were able to glean a few helpful facts from the classes. One of the highlights of the afternoon was a humorous slip made by "Mac" who was giving reasons for his placing. We know that Mr. Slater has some short-hand cattle, so we figure that "Mac" must have been judging Short-hand cattle in his mind, and Yorkshire Hogs through his mouth, anyway, he came out with this statement, "Judge for yourself: 'Just look at this hog, boys, wouldn't you agree with me that this has a wonderful short-hand head?'"

Morley now is Dunn awhile. He's found the girl that suits his eye. And that must be the reason why. He wears such a broad big smile.

Girls, at last we are able to give you the information that you have been seeking for so long. For a man's heart is through his stomach, and we are glad to come to help you on your way. Last Friday I managed to scoop this news from the dinner table. Miss Snowdon wants a woman who can bake good pumpkin pie with lots of whip cream. Harold, Robert and Fred Stacey like those who can bake delicious apple pie and whip cream, but Art Winger, our monthly paper editor, prefers the raisin pie kind, with perfumery frozen whip cream, and
