THE CANADA YEAR BOOK 1936

The publication of the 1936 edition of the Canada Year Book is announced by the General Statistics Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the national resources of the Dominion and their development. The history of the country is treated in its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc. It is a concise, comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic conditions of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

Hints for Housewives

RASPBERRIES
As each fruit as it appears on the market has some particular appeal, raspberries served with cream and sugar never really lose appeal, but a little variety in serving improves them. The following recipes, prepared by the Fruit Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, suggest some delectable methods of using fresh raspberries.

Raspberry Sauce
(For puddings or ice cream)
1/2 cups raspberries
1/2 cup fruit sugar
1/2 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup milk
2 cups sugar with sugar and allow to stand one-half hour. Press through a fine sieve, beat with a fork and chill before using.

Raspberry Rice
2 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup whipping cream
2 cups raspberries
4 tablespoons sugar
Whip cream, then mix with raspberries and sugar and cold rice. Serve very cold.
Raspberry Chocolate Cake
1 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup whipping cream
2 cups flour—2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups raspberries
Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time, then add chocolate which has been dissolved in boiling water, then milk in which soda has been dissolved, then flour and baking powder. Bake in 2-1/2 hour cake tin. When cool put together and top with following icing: 1 cup raspberries, 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter. Stir in sufficient icing sugar to make icing.

From Helen Bernard, we get one about the teacher giving a general knowledge test. She had just received her pay envelope and after removing the money, held it up for the class to see.

"What is this?" she asked.
"A pay envelope," said a little girl.
"And what does it contain?" asked the teacher.
"Money," the little girl answered.
"Your salary," said the teacher.
"Now, do any of you wish to ask a question?"
"Please, Miss Penelope," said a boy who had been studying the envelope in silence, "why do you look so angry?"

THE TALK OF LIFE IS TOLD

I sat on the old bridge
And watched the old fish
The old fisherman, I saw,
Was in the old fish house.
The evening was low,
The moon shone over the water,
And I in my lonely reverie
I lived life over again.
Just a little sunshine,
Just a little rain,
Just a little happiness,
Just a little pain,
Just a little poverty,
Just a little good,
Just a little bad,
Thus the great eventful tale
Of life is told. — Author unknown.

The Slugging Seven

The standing of the leading seven hitters remains practically the same in the first four place. Hill, the fourth man, dropped 35 points but still retained his position. Goodenough dropped to last place, but in the statistical series in Chapter XXII have become broken up by the creation of a new category, a compromise has been temporarily made. Improvement has been effected in the presentation of the financial statistics of the provincially-controlled schools of Canada by the collection of data on a more comparable basis from all provinces.

Jarvis In Sport 4 Yrs. Ago

With only half of their regular line-up, Jarvis Intermediate took a fall out of the highly reputed Hastings team on Thursday last. I. Cliff Walker occupied the mound for the locals held the hitting Hagersville squad to seven hits for the Quarrytown allowed but five hits to the Jarvis players. Triples by Hazlett and Peas, however aided in the local victory.

Jarvis (1) was Garnet due to a correction in the schedule on Wednesday, July 29th.

Hagersville Juniors Earn Playoff Berth

By dint of their one-sided win over Port Dover Fishermen on Monday, the Hagersville Junior ball team clinched a playoff berth. The Quarrytown kids blasted Paterson and Phillips, Dover moundsman for twenty solid hits. Grant Kett on the mound for the visitors held the "Port" to ten scattered hits. Vann was the leading batter for Hagersville with five hits out of six times at bat. Leading runner, Frank Winkworth collected three hits. Hoekins paced the way for the Ports with the only home run of the game.

Defeat Local Rivals In Close Sluggest
Jarvis (2) found revenge sweet when they defeated Jarvis (1) on Saturday night before one of the largest crowds of the season. The boys' team was the first to finish and it was finally decided in the seventh round when Home popped out to Sluggest with two on and two out and the score 11-9.
Both teams pitched steadily ball, although at times the batter got to them rather heavily. Jarvis (1) was the young team out to hit the eventual winners heavily. It was errors that paved the way for Hill's aggression to win, the losers making seven mistakes. Herm Peas smashed out a home run in the seventh inning as did Mitchell for number one. Horns honored in the sixth.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
BABY PICTURES
No doubt about it, the babies themselves "directed" these snapshots. In other words, they did as they pleased and the camera was clicked at the right instant.
"THERE aren't any official statutes that we know of, so we're perfectly safe in saying that babies constitute the largest single group of snapshot subjects.
It's perfectly reasonable that this should be so; for we snapshots take things in which we are most interested. For another thing, babies make ideal subjects, because they don't pose. They're always natural. There are baby pictures and baby pictures of course. Some are spontaneous enthusiasms; others are merely records, without much appeal.
That's the essential difference between the good and the merely so-so baby pictures. Usually you'll find the good pictures show infants crawling something—crawling, chewing a doll, wrestling with toes, or even indulging in a real good cry. The merely so-so pictures give us only recognizable glimpses of babies doing nothing much at all.
Of course, it's possible to take a picture of a sleeping baby and get a charming result. But to do this, the camera work must be unusual. Very well, what about the technique of baby pictures?
First, you'll need to have light enough for action pictures. Few babies stay still long enough for time exposures. Out-of-doors, you'll have no trouble at all with lighting. You'll always be outdoors in the open shade or out in the full light.
This time of year, of course, it may be more convenient to work indoors. One of the easiest ways to take baby pictures indoors, during the daytime, is to get the subject fairly close to a big window (not necessarily a sunny one) and then use a photoflood lamp to light up the side of your subject that's away from the window. A photoflood lamp in one of those inexpensive reflectors will be found very handy for this and other indoor shots. If there's a lot of light coming from the window, you'll be able to use a regular snapshot exposure. For surety's sake, better work with the lens at its widest opening. Wait until your subject strikes an interesting pose, then click the shutter and the picture's yours.
Don't forget that you can use superensitive film to get beautiful pictures of a sleeping baby and get a charming result. But to do this, the camera work must be unusual. Very well, what about the technique of baby pictures?

There was a large crowd in attendance at the Barn Dance last Friday evening at Alex. MacMurphy's. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the young people.
