THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING Time. — A.D. 57.
Place. — The city of Jerusalem.

12. And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13. Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart. The verb translated "break' is found only here in the New Testament, and signifies the weakening of purpose in any one. So the apostle intimates not that they intended as we should say to break his heart by adding to his sorrow, but to weaken his determination and deter him from his journey."

—For I am ready, not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the L'rd Jesus. Luther cried out when his friends would keep him from going to the city of Worms: "Were there as many deviis in Worms as tiles on the roofs, I would go in."

28. Crying out, Man of Israel, "The Lesson in the temple itself.

32. And forthwith he t...ok soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33. Then the chief captain came near; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. What the Jews would not do, though they were supposed to be servants of and believers in a holy and mereiful God, pagan Roman soldiers must now do, i.e., give Paul at least a fair trial.

34. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into the castle. With this scene should be compared the one at Ephesus (19: 32). The verb here translated "shouted" is the same as that used in Luke 23: 21 in describing the din of the multitude which shouted against the Lord Jesus. Few of the Jews knew even who Paul was or what the charge was against him.

28. Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place; and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath defilet this holy place. 29. of the temple was a lie. From the fact that they had seen him walking in Jerusalem with a Gentile citizen of Ephesus by the name of Trophimus, and now saw Paul himself walking in the inner court of the temple, they "supposed" that, if Paul was there, Trophimus was there also. He wasn't. Paul would never violate Jewish conscience in this way. 30. And all the city was moved, and the people ran together; and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut. They wanted to get Paul test of the case, the desire cannot be entertained.

"And of whom is Christ as concerning the fact of the temple walking in the immer court of the day and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises; whose are the fathers." Paul does not actually say that he wishes to be separated from Christ, but he says he could wish it, were it not wrong, or would it not involve his being unholy, as well as miserable. But, as such is the case, the desire cannot be entertained.

When nine big gasoline and oil storage tanks caught fire and exploded in the St. Malo section of Quebec City recently, hundreds were driven from their homes, houses were stifted from their foundations and windows within half a mile radius were broken. I no one was injured. This picture shows the tangled mess left after the flames were conquered.
