"Our regular boy was sick today." Kelly asked.
"A new boy. Our hat boy sent us a note saying he was sick and sent a friend to take his place." Rawlins explained.

Rawlins shook his head. "We went over the dugout and hunted for both the boy and the hat. None of the men remember seeing the kid after 'Dick' went to bat."
"That's bad." "I'll see if we can locate the boy through Pietro, Rawlins suggested and began searching in his pockets for a notebook.

Rawlins called one of his men and gave instructions to see that Kelly's orders were carried out. "If it had anything to do with bats and balls, wouldn't all the other men be all dead too? Terry asked because he will not accept his fate after leaving the diamond.

St. Valentine's Day is one day in the year when the whole world dares to be sentimental. Most of the time we are business-like and though the sentiment may be there, it isn't shown. But this day is set aside for sending and receiving love tokens, fancy cards with foolishly sweet rhymes, and flowers and candy for lucky acquaintances.

Men Cony Losses
A survey of the business of stores, buses, trams and street cars has demonstrated that women lose more money than men. As a matter of fact the male of the species also mislays many things, but he knows enough to do that in the home, and then have every one else in the household hunt for them.—Brantford Expositor.

Music For the People
Music is no longer a luxury or the almost inaccessible field of a few gifted enthusiasts. It has suddenly become some part of the staff of daily life—and a very important part.
