SHORT COURSE NOTES

address the regular classes although visitors will be cordially welcomed. In the evening a public meeting will be held under the auspices of the Board of Trade when Mr. Clark will speak on the subject "Beauties of the Horticultural World." This meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock and will be held in the Town Hall.

All of Mr. Clark's lectures will be illustrated by beautifully colored slides which are a great pleasure to see.

Tuesday was milk and cream day at the classes. Mr. John Stubbs, of the Dairy Branch, Toronto, visited the girls class in the morning and the boys class in the afternoon. A lecture was given on the care and management of cream and then the members of the class were given the opportunity of grading five samples.

During the morning of Tuesday last the boys class received their first opportunity to test milk under the guidance of Mr. Simpson. A large variety of samples were run through the machine.

One more week to go and then—? But a few things will be, seed cleaning and spring cleaning. We have so far enjoyed this class to the fullest extent and we will miss the fellowship that we have had.

On Thursday last, the boys enjoyed a whole day of judging. In the morning we had the privilege of visiting the farm of Mr. Lorne Forrest of Simcoe, where we judged two classes of Shorthorn cattle. One of cows and the other of bull calves. Oh my! we blew on our hands and jumped around for a few hours in the morning to keep warm, for we picked on a day that chilled us to the bone but thanks to the shelter of Mr. Forrest's good barns, we didn't fair too badly. At noon, we made full use of the barns as our restaurant and there's no kidding about it, baled straw makes very comfortable seats.

In the afternoon we visited Stratallan Farm, the beautiful herd belonging to Mr. Swarts of Simcoe. Such buildings are few and far between, and some boys might be found missing, some threatening to bring their beds and dinner tables up on their next visit. Such a happening on the average farm wouldn't be done or even thought of, but if any were to do it in this case, there's no doubt they have every reason for doing so. Cam said "by gee, if I had my hair combed as many times as those cows tails are combed, I'd be bald-headed." There's one thing certain, anyhow, Cam can make up for it with whiskers if he should have the misfortune.

And what's next? Why the president of course. Our president is over elated about having found a dozen or so boys about who his girl friend is. There's going to be another love match before this course is finished or we'll miss our guess. But one of us must be right, so the problem is solved, sir president, it must come to light some day.

This judging also has its styles. The wild and woolly west is now making its appearance into our noble quiet eastern school, in the form of the model cowboy presented to us by one of our leading stylists of the course. Many of the boys took a great liking to this hat, but one fellow magnate decided that the hat would bring him no less returns if he kept it on his own noodle.

With our news of gladness, we have to, I'm afraid, put some news of sorrow. Many of our young people are suffering from colds of the fiercest nature. The peculiar nature of this disease is that when one student of a class get it, the next day we find a pupil in the other class suffering from the same malady. We expect a gentleman of leisure, Harold by name, to come strolling in some morning with the usual sniff, and package of paper handkerchiefs. Yesterday, Tuesday Mr. Stubbs, inspector for dairying for this district, came to pay us a visit and we listened to a lecture that he gave us for once, two subjects of the cream question. Associated with this lecture was a competition in cream grading for which the Marshall Dairy very kindly donated the prizes.

Literary

A play entitled "The Picture of Peace" was the main item on Friday afternoon's Literary meeting depicting a scene in the home of a boy who had given his life in the Great War, a life size picture of the dead soldier comes to life and speaks to a group of young people who are acting as a committee to arrange for a War Memorial Service. The picture brings to the little group the attitude towards militarism of a man who had fought and died as he had honed in the interest of world peace and democracy. The cast was as follows: Father Gallant, father of the soldier; Harry Gowan; Mother Gallant, mother of the soldier, Bernice Harvey; The Picture, Frank; Lorne Porter; Clara, Mary Cowan; Anna, Edith Misner; Gilbert, Glenn Relcheld; Ned, Robt. Doughty. Preceding the play a very splendid paper on "Peace" was read by Helen Simons.

A newsy humorous issue of the weekly paper was presented by the editor, Jean Duncan. Lena Evans rendered a piano number.

LOCAL BUSINESSMEN COME TO THE RESCUE

Finding themselves very much in the red as the play-offs loomed ahead, the local management of the Rural Hockey Club appealed to the business men of Jarvis for help. As the case has always been, they came through nobly. Only a minority of the merchants have been approached as yet and the club have received enough donations to carry on for some time.

The hockey club takes this opportunity of expressing their deepest appreciation. They only hope that they may be able to carry the Village's name into the play-offs and again be successful in capturing the Carter Trophy emblematic of hockey supremecy of Norfolk County.

was well expressed by the late Arthur Brisbane, the dean of American Editors, who wrote recently: "The woman who does not want children should not have any children." He said this in discoursing upon the birth of unwanted children and their happiness in life—and also discussed the matter of family limitations in general. Dr. Fay's, the famous Canadian gynecologist, fully approves the above statement—in fact she is famous for her squabbles with the profession for her advocacy of birth control.

Dr. Fay's Compound has been a household preparation for many years, especially in the homes of educated women who have investigated and found that a life free from constant worry and fear is the one that retains the youthful beauty of that lovely girlish figure and that inimitable sparkle in the woman's eyes men love so much. After all, one is entitled to live one's own life and to a woman, good looks means everything. For immediate and safe results, no matter what you may have tried before, send five dollars by airmail today to the Fay Company 327 Fay Bldg., Vancouver, B.C. and be worry free within a few days. The price is negligible in view of expected results. Not sent C.O.D. Not sold in Drug Stores. State age when ordering. It would be to your advantage to file this ad away for future needs. Showing it to a needy friend might bring everlasting gratitude. Dr. Fay's lecture on "Family Limitations" is a very interesting work—costs only 25c per copy.

Old Friends Gather to Honour Marburg Couple On Wedding Anniversary

Over 150 Pay Respects to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marr on Reaching 50 Years of Married Life

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eugene Marr of Marburg celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at the Orange Hall in Woodhouse Township on Tuesday, February 23rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Marr were married on February 23rd, 1887, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Richardson, who resided on the plank road between Jarvis and Port Dover. Rev. Robert Thyne performed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Annie Francis Marr, while the groom was supported by the bride's brother, Thomas Richardson.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Marr took up farming in the Township of Walpole, where they carried on for fifteen years. They then moved to their present home, which adjoins the old Marr Homestead in the Marburg district. In recent years Mr. Marr has spent a great deal of his time growing flowers. His wonderful flower garden has been a mecca for flower lovers for miles around, and a great many people each year plan to visit his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marr have one daughter who married Mr. Roy Misner, an ex-Warden of Norfolk County and who resides near them on No. 6 Highway. Mr. Marr has three brothers, Alvin, of Jarvis, Ernest and Lewis in the Canadian West, while Mrs. Marr has two brothers, Thomas of Clearwater, Manitoba and John on the old Homestead in Woodhouse, also two sisters, Mrs. Rachel Davis of Crystal City and Mrs. Jane Law of Port Dover.

Throughout their life they have been very popular in the community and their many friends were not slow in seizing this opportunity of paying their respects on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary on Tuesday evening. Nearly one hundred and fifty friends gathered at the Orange Hall, Marburg, where pleasant reminiscenses of days gone by were recalled.

Besides immediate neighbors, friends were present from Hamilton, Kitchener, Troy, Simcoe, Buffalo, N. Y., Jarvis, Port Dover, Nanticoke and Springvale.

Under the direction of their son-in-law, Mr. Roy Misner, a program was arranged and included musical selections, readings and short addresses. Those taking part included, Richardson's Orchestra, the Bell's Orchestra, R. E. Miller, Alvin Marr, Reg Ion, Clarence Mitchell, Rheta Roberts, Arnold Roberts, Thos. Jeanes, Jack and Dorothy Blakemore. Those contributing short addresses were: L. L. McBride, Percy L. Buck, Dr. R. G. Howell and Niel Elliott.

During the course of the evening the bride and groom were presented with a purse of money from friends and immediate relatives by Clarence Mitchell. Friends from Port Dover and Simcoe presented them with a bed spread, and R. E. Miller on behalf of friends and relatives from Jarvis and Varcoe presented them with a four hundred day clock. Other gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Marr by Roy Misner.

Mr. Marr replied and extended the sincere thanks of himself and Mrs. Marr for the beautiful gifts and kindness shown them.

When interviewed during the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Marr were both enjoying good health, stated that fifty-three of the guests at their wedding fifty years ago, have passed on, although they were happy in the fact that thirty-six of the origin al guests were present with them on Tuesday evening.

Lunch was served at 11.30 P.M. after which the rugs were rolled up and strictly old time dancing prevailed until the early hours of the morning.

Holley, of Jarvis conducted the service, with interment in Garnet United Church cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, four daughters, Mrs. David Phillips, of Walpole, Mrs. Allan Phillips, of Walpole, Mrs. T. D. SPRING IS HERE?

Perhaps the first robin to be discovered this year was seen by a local citizen, Dr. R. G. Howell Tuesday morning, February 23rd. When Dr. Howell's attention was drawn by the herald of Spring, it was trebbling away in a merry mood. After reporting the incident, Dr. Howell said that he thought it would be very appropriate to extend his sympathies to the red-breasted friend as he thought it had a very rough row to hoe before spring.

Jarvis I.O.O.F. Degree Team Visit Simcoe

Headed by William Jaques, the first degree team of Jarvis I.O.O.F. Lodge paid a fraternal visit to Simcoe Lodge, No. 161, on Friday evening and conferred the first degree on two candidates, Thomas Stage and Glenn Johnson.

Brief remarks pertaining to Oddfellowship were given by William Jaques, Eric Warren and K. Saunders of Jarvis, Bert Lonson, of Selkirk and K. Birdsell, H. Stickles and L. Booth, of Waterford.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by members of Simcoe Lodge bringing the evening activities to a close. —Simcoe Reformer.

A little experience often upsets a lot of theory.

S.S. No. 21 LITERARY

After the business meeting the following program took place: A paper on the Origin of St. Valentine's Day, Ruth Mulkins; a Piano solo, Hattie Gowan; a very educational Literary paper, edited by Harry Gowan; song, "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard" Helen Marr, accompanied by Margaret Marr; a debate, "Resolved That Married Life is Better Than Single Bliss." The teams were: Ken Fess and Raymond Montague taking the affirmative and Raymond Jaques and Earl Marr, the negative. The negative won by a close margin. Following this, five teams of six were chosen from the audience. Each team was given fifteen minutes in which to arrange and prepare a radio broadcast. Some splendid talent was uncovered. Harry Gowan's team won with three other teams tying for second place. The meeting closed with "God Save the King."

Our next meeting is March 14th on which night lunch will be served. Come and bring a friend to enjoy a good evening's entertainment. Silver collection.

Board of Trade Plan Greatest Celebration in History of Village

Prizes Valued at $700.00 Will Be Given Away on Lucky Tickets. Council of Board Already Making Plans to Provide Some Real Highlights This Year.

The results of the many closed door meetings of the Council of the Jarvis Board of Trade were released early this week. Plans have been formed to hold one of the greatest celebrations in the history of the Village on May 24th. As a stimulus to their efforts, they are giving away over $700.00 in lucky ticket awards. An organized ticket sale campaign is under way and it is anticipated many thousand tickets will be disposed of before May 24th!

In addition no effort will be spared to provide one of the most diversified and thrilling entertainments ever held in the Village. The decision to discontinue the annual celebration was not held in favor by many last year, and this has undoubtedly prompted the Board to start fresh in 1937 with a celebration that will long live in the memory of those present. In order for the Board of Trade to carry out their plans in detail it will be essential that they be given every co-operation by organizations and individuals in the Village. If you are a willing worker, get in touch with the Board of Trade, they will find a job for you. At least make it a point to dispose of two or more books of tickets, which may be had by applying to the Secretary.

Jarvis Rebekah Lodge Entertain

Silver Star Rebekah Lodge No. 285, Jarvis, entertained Assembly Officers of Ontario, including Sister Christina Allen, President, of Welland, Sister Bertha Suttor, Grand Warden, of Preston and Sister Cora Butcher, District Deputy President, of Jarvis and also a number of visiting members from other branches on Tuesday evening, February 23rd.

Officers and members of the degree staff of Silver Lake Rebekah Lodge, Port Dover were present and exemplified the work in a very efficient manner to a class of candidates. Short addresses were given by Sister Humphrey, of Cayuga, Sister McBride, Sister Greenbury and Bro. Charles Bridgewater, of Port Dover which were very much appreciated.

Following the business session a banquet was served to the many members in attendance by the Jarvis Silver Star Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Parkinson Fifty-Seven Years Married

Next Tuesday, March 2nd, will mark the Fifty-seventh wedding anniversary of that well known and highly respected couple, Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson. They have been continuous residents here for the past quarter of a century and few are held in higher esteem by all residents of the Village.

Fifty-seven years ago Susanah Brown became the bride of William Parkinson, and thus began a very happy union. Idle moments were few in the life of this venerable couple.

In his prime, Mr. Parkinson was primarily interested in the Dairy business. He operated a cheese factory one mile east of the Village of Jarvis for some years before it was turned into a butter factory, or creamery, as scientific advancement was made in the manufacture of butter. He also operated plants in the Town of Dunnville and Thamesford. Parkinson's butter was a household word in this district and the Jarvis factory was carried on for some time after Mr. Parkinson's active retirement, by his son, Charles.

Twenty-five years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson retired and moved to Jarvis, where they built a comfortable home. But to cease to be active did not work into the scheme of things for Mr. Parkinson. His efforts have been largely responsible for the successful termination of many public projects. He has given freely of his time in promoting worthwhile efforts toward the improvement of our Village. Many sidewalks about the Village today have been built under his direction, and he has not indicated yet that it is his intention to give up this work. Last summer found his time more in demand than ever, and it will be until the sun ceases to shine for William Parkinson. He also superintended the construction of our present streets that were laid here over twenty years ago. He could always be depended upon to do a good job, regardless of his personal sacrifices.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson are enjoying excellent health, although he will reach his 80th birthday this year, and Mrs. Parkinson will be Seventy-eight. Mr. Parkinson's favorite pastime is checkers and although he has vanquished many at his favorite game, few have conquered him. He related to this scribe when he called on him on Tuesday evening, that he had taken his old foe, Herbert Roberts into camp that day, and as if to bear out his words he matched wits with William Bailey in our presence and emerged an easy victor in the first game.

Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson have two children living, Charles, of Detroit and Mrs. Pollock, of St. Thomas.

Louis Blake Duff to be Guest Speaker at Annual Board of Trade Banquet

Fair Board Set Date for Show

To Hold Field Crop Competition in Oats

At a meeting of Directors of the Jarvis Agricultural Society held at the office of the Secretary, on Saturday, February 20th, it was decided to hold the annual Fall Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, September 22nd and 23rd. The delegates to the Provincial and District Associations gave splendid reports of these conventions.

It was decided that the Society would hold a Field Crop Competition with Banner Oats and a Committee as follows, was appointed: L. R. Dougherty, J. W. Roulston, L. Mitchell, Thomas Reynolds and Carl Smith to canvass the community for entries.

The following Lady Directors were appointed for 1937: Mrs. A. S. Blight, Mrs. E. T. Carter, Miss Margaret Fallis, Mrs. J. E. Kindree, Mrs. Clarence Smith, Miss Helen Miller, Mrs. Reg. Leatherdale and Mrs. John Faulkner. Committees were appointed to canvass the surrounding towns for contributions for the Fall Fair, namely: Simcoe, Wiliffe and Bruce N. Hair, Hagersville J. W. Roulston and Wm. McMurchy Port Dover, Thos. Reynolds and R. E. Miller, Jarvis, Earl Marr and George Histed.

Board is Fortunate to Secure Such an Outstanding Speaker

The Board of Trade Banquet scheduled for Thursday evening, March 11th, promises to be an outstanding event. The occasion will carry more than usual significance in view of the fact Mr. Louis Blake Duff, of Welland, has promised to be guest speaker. Few men, if any, are rated quite so highly as Mr. Duff as an after dinner speaker, and the few in this district who have previously had the privilege of hearing him, have lost no time in securing their tickets for the banquet. Another guest on this occasion who needs no introduction to a Jarvis audience is Mr. W. A. Fry of Dunnville. Mr. Fry was speaker here at a previous Board of Trade banquet and everyone will be happy in knowing that he will be with us again.

Naturally the tickets for the banquet are limited. Of course bona fide members will be given first opportunity of securing tickets and will be given the privilege of bringing a friend. If any tickets remain it will be first come, first served. We would therefore suggest, that in order not to miss this outstanding event, you speak for your tickets early. Tickets are at present in the hands of the Board of Trade Council.

MAY RECEIVE EARLDOM
When Premier Stanley Baldwin retires —which may possibly be after the Coronation in May—he will be rewarded with an Earldom for his services to the nation. Mr. Baldwin would probably take the title of Earl of Bewdley, that being his seas in Worcestershire.

NEWS AND VIEWS -- OF THE -- SHORT COURSE

Dear Friends:—

How we wish that we could have another three months of this course now that we are so very close to the end. We have had a grand time, learning plenty and have had ample fun in the bargain so that, although we have to say "so long" and go back to our usual run of life, Jarvis will always be a reminder of "Hots" to us.

The great Hamilton trip you heard so much about, took place last Thursday, and what a turn-out! We had three large buses packed to capacity and of all the singing and yelling, you ever heard for awhile! The buses were supposed to leave Jarvis at 8 A.M., the Hagersville gang stepping aboard at somewhere about 8.30 and by the way, they're an awful nice bunch that hail from that district and some of us, without Jean, would be lost. She had some complaining of the heaves before we got to Caledonia, which is no mean tribute to her comedy.

On our arrival at Hamilton (you know what it looks like from the mountain) our first place to visit was the Pure Milk Dairies, the only place, much to the sorrow of many of us, where the ladies and gents were able to sight-see together. After the tour of inspection of the dairy, the girls went to the Bell Telephone Ltd. while the boys drove down to the International Harvester Company, where we were really and honestly treated like gents (that is how I came to write it in the preceding paragraph). Before dinner we scrutinized the binder twine industry from top to bottom, starting from the first step of feeding the machines with mamilla and a combination of other steels from Java, Africa and Mexico, on through the spinning rooms. Inspection department, packing and sealing up all noon in the warehouses from which we emerged with redoubled energy for someone said "we eat." We were honored to remain the guests of the I.H.C. for dinner, and we all say with signs of regret "Too bad it couldn't happen more often." The I.H.C. know how to treat a guest from heart to stomach. Some of our Scotch pals were extra thankful for they treated us with free cigarettes.

After dinner which was concluded with the highly absorbant kind of dinner speeches, some which gave Mac a run for some bucks, we heard ed our buses and made our way to the other section of the works, the mechanical end, which revealed to us more than the making of an implement. The sweat and grime that we saw going into one small casting is an eye-opener. I heard more than a few boys say, "Give me the farm any day" and it is, without doubt, that when we sing of wide open spaces such as "Give me a Home Where the Buffalo Roam" we'll understand that it isn't all fresh air that makes the world go round.

After our trip through the works which ended at 3.30 P.M., we made a hurried inspection of the Frost Wire Fence Co. We made this rapidly owing to the fact that we were due at the show at 4.15 P.M., which we were unable to make until about a quarter to five. Our Scotch friends were again in luck—the show was free. But it was enjoyed by all in more ways than one. I mean by that, we were foot sore. No harm in that is there? So naturally our party rested at the opportunity so graciously provided. Once in the show our gang disposed for the remainder of the time, till we all met again at 8.30 P.M. to laugh, sing and holler the rest of the way home, tired and foot sore, certainly, but with happy reflections of a bang up time. The following day revealed to us that none were any the worse off for the trip, but were fit for anything and we had to be, for the group photograph was taken that afternoon, and some are afraid that there must have been something wrong with the camera and if not, what? Well friends, after this letter of ramblings of the past, we must look into the nearest function of the future. Our closing exercise, the banquet on Friday evening prepared by the Womens Institute and so for the present, it is "so long."
