MERCHANTS TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Definite plans concerning the program to be carried out by the Jarvis Merchants Association for the coming year will be settled on Tuesday night when the body holds their final meeting in the Town Hall. Whispers during the past week have been to the effect that some of the members of the association are not so much in favor of the program as they were at the time of the meeting held on Tuesday night. It is expected that the meeting will be a very successful one and that the association will be reorganized for the coming year.

FOREST CONSERVATION AND REFORESTATION

Protective planting, though it will not prevent drought, but it will lessen its adverse effects. It will not prevent the fall, but it will prevent the drying winds of winter, and the damage they do to the trees. It will also prevent the loss of soil moisture and water conservation. More over, reforestation will provide recreational areas, and will provide game and fish, and will give variety and beauty to the landscape. It will also give life to the whole countryside in general.

It is asking too much of every township in your county, to have at least 100 acres of land and establish what would be called "Municipal Demonstration Forest Plantations." These municipal plantations, will serve as concrete examples and be of educational value in matters of conservation.
