Earle Rowe, leader of the Conservative party, will be the outstanding speaker from the Government opposition forces. 1938 MOTOR PERMITS NOW AVAILABLE

No special Numbers For 1938 Toronto, Sept. 20, 1937 - Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways announced today that 1938 Motor Vehicle Permits and Operator's Licenses will be on sale throughout the Province immediately. Agents in the larger centres are already supplied, and shipments of supplies are being made daily to the smaller points. The Highways Department is making 1938 Permits available at this time so that merchants and operators can take advantage of the early sale. Mr. McQuesten stated that the Department will be unable to entertain requests for special arrangements of numbers or special series letters. This has occasioned some concern among motorists, and the Minister hopes by its discontinuance, to save the expense this extra work involved and at the same time increase the efficiency of the service given to all motorists. The new permits and licenses offices are located at convenient points throughout the Province. As formerly, these offices in districts remote from issuing offices can procure their permits and licenses by mail. The new permits and licenses will be on sale from September 20 to October 31, 1937. The advance sale of 1938 Permits is also intended to alleviate the usual late minute rush when 1937 Permits expire at the end of the year.

SUCH AS IT IS

(Continued from page seven) from them. As the season advanced there were always series to pull and hoist. All of the work was nothing but a pleasant series of exercises until the time came to deal with the potato bugs. Some of our neighbors used Paris green as a spray, but my parents were conservative. They never liked the idea of poison around foodstuffs. So once more we were kept out of school - which was no hardship - and armed with old tin pans, and a ladle made by whitening a shingle, we went up and down the dunes, tapping the plants over the pans. My uncle Richard, who was what one might term a man of parts, always paid his children so much a hundred - a penny. I think it was - but we would pick the beastly things from nothing sooner than count them. I might add that Uncle Richard and his family went on to bigger and better things, acquiring more mortgages, top buggies and what have you, while our family as nonconformists are born, not made. The last last scene in the picture was the day we went to school. With old Jude and the stonebat and a lot of sacks, that was fun. We didn't think of it as a school. It was another excuse to stay home from school. It was fall. The apples were ripe - most of them. The threshing was over; there was a tang in the air that meant winter was near. The potatoes were in the ground. The time had come when the potato bugs were no longer a pest. The "termites and the bee's" was over. The potato patch, where the rich soil gave up its store of gleaming white-skinned potatoes, was a deep, dark variety known as Early Rose. They were the proof of an abundance of food for another year.

Tests Reveal Voltage on Local Circuits Uncertain

Impossible to Operate Stop and Go Lights Satisfactorily SYSTEM OF DISTRIBUTION APPARENTLY FAULTY Recent tests made of the voltage distributed to local hydro users over a 24 hour period, revealed that the voltage varies from 94 volts to 120 volts on the 110 volt circuit, therefore hydro users of the service they have been getting. The chart on which the test was made showed the low point between nine and eleven o'clock in the forenoon when full effect of the system was in operation. The voltage increased sharply immediately after six o'clock P.M. but fell back again when street and home lights came on. After midnight again the voltage increases to 120 and remains there until midnight when the street lights are turned off and the private users start operations in the morning.
