HONOUR SYSTEM VOTED FAILURE

Dale, Ind., Nov. 30 — After 12 months of the "honour system," this town of 770 persons has fallen back on a town marshal for law enforcement. The town did away with the marshal's job last December. Then burglars began breaking into trucks thieves stole everything that wasn't tied down, reckless drivers went wild and fire insurance rates increased. Now citizens are looking forward to a peaceful Christmas — the town board hired a new marshal.

United Church Notes

Much favourable comment has greeted the "Special Christmas Programs" issued this week by the Session of Wesley United Church. The Programs were printed in Jarvis and reflect no small credit on the excellent workmanship of the "Record Press."

THE ANGELIC ANTHEM

dering on the shores of the great inland Mediterranean — one holy night there was born in a lowly stable—or, according to an early tradition, in a cave—Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and that, at his birth, though the great men of earth were absent, yet the hosts of Heaven were hovering near with devotion and watchfulness, and proclaimed the joyful tidings to shepherds on the plain of Bethlehem, "Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born, this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." And with the angel there was a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace, good will toward men.

On this Christmas Day our message should be one of life and practice, not one of theory or speculation it is a personal message to each of us, it is on earth, peace, good will towards men. In our petty strifes for place and power we need to travel back to Bethlehem, to go quickly to that infant lying in a manger, as did the shepherds, to find again the motive of life, to learn again the lesson of life. We need to humble our pride, to subdue the spirit of revenge and the assertion of self. We need, on this day of days, to go back to the birth of the Son of God, who, though he made the world and all that therein is, had not where to lay his head; who, though he came to save man, had yet to be cradled among the beasts of the field in the manger of a stall.

I wonder whether many of us, though we say these Christmas sayings over and over, I wonder whether we fully realize the deep Paternal intention of the Incarnation. Not one of us has ever known the poverty of the Holy Family, has ever been subject to the privations they had to endure. And it was because He was the Prince of Peace He came so. For how, I ask, do we gain peace ? Can we overcome our enemies by hating them, as they hate us, by returning scorn for scorn, and injustice for injustice ? Is it not by humility that we win our enemies. But you say why should I humiliate myself to my enemy; why should I make the first advance, the first submission ? Did God reason in this way ?

Here was a lost race, and defiant to its God. Did God wipe it from the earth ? Ah, no ! He had made us. He was our Father, we were still His children. And so the Father sent to His children His only begotten Son. He sent to them a Saviour. Instead of compelling, He besought; instead of first requiring submission, His own Son became obedient unto death. The Son of God became the Son of Man, that the sons of men might become the Sons of God. And so to-day, when the Christmas anthem sings for us "Peace, good will to men," does it not in the Incarnation show how that peace is to be attained ?

We may obtain this peace—peace not only within ourselves, but peace with the world—good will towards men—by the cultivation of love. Love manifests itself in sacrifice and so there is light in love. It opens our eyes. We begin to see and know things we never did before. We begin to understand the weaknesses and failings of others, and to pity and to try to assist them. This is the good will of the Saviour.

This is His love. It would not have helped us if the Saviour had remained in that eternal home, surrounded by the hosts of angels, and archangels. It was love in action, in active beneficence that availed. Thus the Son came to earth to help and save a lost race.

And so- today, the world, if it is to be saved, if good will is to prevail it is by the kingdoms of this earth are to become the kingdoms of our God and His Christ, must be saved by active love shown in good will. A willingness to suffer for others.

And at this season, in Christ's stead, He offers to us, as His representatives, the helpless, the unloved, the dependent, the suffering the poor There is so much need of good will to others, because we so much need God's good will for ourselves. The cross must precede the crown, humility before exaltation, the manger and the stall before the Ascension and the seat at God's right hand.

Thus, when we think of all that Christmas means of God's love to us, of His infinite gift of His only begotten Son, what, I ask, is Christmas without Christ ? What is the great joy of this day ? Is it not of infinite love and power, stooping to infinite humiliation and weakness ? This is a time not for theory or speculation, but of exhibiting our good will. It is a time to beat down all pride, malice and anger, and to substitute for them the gentleness, meekness and forgiveness of the Son of God. It is a time to prove our love by our generosity and beneficence, to recognize ourselves as but one of a race of brothers that all the earth's peoples claim kinship with us through the Incarnation at Bethlehem, and the redemption of the Cross of Calvary. This is a time to fill our gifts which we are sending to relatives, friends, and neighbors, with the spirit of peace and good will. It is a time to open our hearts to the love of God, that we may transmit this love to others. There are weary hands for us to hold up, broken hearts to heal, despairing souls to console, and wandering footsteps to bring back to the fold.

Let me, in closing, suggest that some of us may be led by a way we know not, and expect not. But let us remember that God's way is not man's way. None of us would expect Almighty God to save the world by such an act of humility as the Incarnation. Let us be ready and willing to be guided by the all-wise God in His way and time.

Let us go, one and all, to our rejoicing for all God's benefits and gifts, but chiefly let us rejoice in God's choicest gift—the sole reason for all our gifts to one another at this time—the gift of His Son for the salvation of man—for your salvation, and for mine.

Greetings

Time, in its rapid flight, has brought us to another Season of Joy - Christmas. Christmas comes once a year to bring back the trust in our fellow-men, to enliven our kindliness and charity, and to make the lamp of our faith burn with a renewed and resplendent brightness.

So we take this opportunity to extend to every reader, advertiser and member of their families, the hearty expression of good-will.

12 Nominations for Reeve, Deputy Reeve and Council

The annual nomination meeting for the Township of Walpole, held in the Jarvis Town Hall on Monday afternoon, drew a capacity attendance despite Christmas festivities being carried on in a great many homes. The meeting was conducted in an orderly fashion and a great many points involving the administration of business within the Township and County, were explained by the retiring Reeve, Deputy Reeve and Council.

Although there were twelve nominations, only four new faces appeared on the slate. F. W. Reichheid received a nomination for the Reeveship, along with Reeve H. W. Parkinson and Deputy Reeve, R. M. Dennis. The latter also receives a nomination for the Deputy Reeveship, as well as Earl Catherwood, a member of last year's Council. Those nominated for Council included, the retiring members, Catherwood, Pond and McKenzie, and E. S. Giles, Wanley Lindsay, F. W. Reichheid and Frank Wilson. (A complete list will be found in another column).

J. J. Parsons, veteran in the field of Township affairs, and Clerk of the Municipality, declared nominations closed sharp at 2. P.M. and read the list of nominations. He was then selected to act in the capacity of chairman for the general meeting to follow.

Before calling upon the various speakers, the chairman said: "You have a common interest in the welfare of your community, and it is up to you to get the kind of government you ask for."

Reeve. H. W. Parkinson, was the first speaker to take the platform and after a few preliminary remarks, expressed his satisfaction in the splendid manner tax collections had come in up to December 15th. Approximately 85 per cent. of the Township taxes had been collected, and the speaker said, "I am sure this represents a sacrifice on the part of a great many taxpayers."

He outlined his remarks chiefly to the administration of County matters and left the Township affairs to his Councillors. He reminded his listeners that a great percentage of expenditures in both the Township and County were unconctrollable, although with the Provincial Government assuming the entire cost of Old Age Pensions and Mothers Allowance during the past year, he hoped the County Mill rate would be lowered in 1939. The building of macadam roads started in the county twenty-five years ago, and with only on Thirty year debentures, for which the present County Council are meeting each year, a sum of $59,000 of the Assessment required to raise approximately $59,000, this supplemented by an equal amount from the Province goes into the 145 miles of County road each year. $56,500 is the estimated cost of maintenance on the roads already constructed, and the cost of maintenance figures anywhere from $350. to $600. per mile depending on the base construction of the road. In replying to a rumor of criticism on the matter of policy in County road construction, the speaker pointed out that the Road Committee decide upon a specific policy each year, and on a specific road. Engineers are not in any way dominated by the County Road Engineer. Further said the speaker, the policy of the road committee is ratified by the entire Council before it goes into effect.

Regarding the uncontrollable expenditures of the present County Council the Reeve stated that 58 per cent of County administration. In 10 were for debt repayments. In 10 years from 1938 our entire debenture debt will be entirely wiped out, he said, providing no further major expenditures are made.

Deputy Reeve R. M. Dennis was

H. W. Parkinson, (left above) was returned as Reeve of the Township of Walpole for his Fifth consecutive term at Monday's nomination. He is regarded as a strong favorite for the Wardenship of Haldimand County this year. (Right) Rodger M. Dennis, returned as Deputy Reeve for his third term. Mr. Dennis also received a nomination for the Reeveship.

Les Marshall, was returned by acclamation without any nominations against him on Monday for his eleventh consecutive term as Reeve of this Village. He has served as Warden of the County.

OBITUARY

GEORGE MILLER MOWAT

George M. Mowat a resident of Cheapside for the past Eight years passed away on Thursday December 22nd, after an illness of two weeks in his 74th year.

Deceased was born on the Island of Stronsa, Caithness, Scotland, in 1865, the youngest son of the late William Mowat and Margaret Loutit, was educated at the parish school and was apprenticed in a large merchandising establishment at the age of sixteen. After completing his apprenticeship he sailed for Canada when twenty years of age.

Shortly after arriving in Toronto he entered into the Mercantile business which he carried on successfully for a number of years, retiring from business on account of ill health about twenty years ago, when he came to Walpole Township and engaged in farming which he followed until eight years ago, when again not being able to carry on he moved to the Village of Cheapside where he has since resided.

He married in 1900 Martha Butler of the Township of Walpole and to this union were born five children, four of whom survive, Rena, (Mrs. William Mowat), of Walpole Township, Mary, (Mrs. Harold Woolidge), of Toronto, Dorothy, of Toronto and Donald, of Jarvis. One son, George, predeceased him some years ago. His widow also survives, along with two brothers and one sister, James of Wick, Caithness, Scotland, and William Mowat, of Thurso, Caithness, Scotland, and William Mowat, of Detroit, U.S.A.

Funeral services were conducted in the Cheapside Baptist Church on Monday afternoon, December 24th, prior to the remains being removed to Toronto, being conducted by Rev. F. Albert Luck assisted by Rev. R. W. Pickersgill and Rev. Earl Sider. The service in Speer's Funeral Home, Toronto, on Monday was conducted by two former ministers of Cheapside Baptist Church, Rev. Robert Dick, who was also a native of Caithness, and Rev. John Trickey. Interment was made in the family plot, Prospect Cemetery, Toronto.

The pall bearers at Cheapside were William Bassindale, Chauncey Evans, Emerson Nie, Ernest Lofthouse, William Mattice and Freeman Sternaman. The pall bearers at Toronto, Robert Mowat, John Mowat, Edward Nelles, Donald Calder, John Hicks and Gordon Shaw

GEORGE WESLEY WEBB

After an extended illness, George Wesley Webb, a resident of the Village of Jarvis for the past Twenty-one years passed away at his residence on Main Street on Sunday, December 25th, in his 70th year.

He was born in the Township of Walpole on July 26th, 1869, the eldest son of the late Daniel Webb and Isabelle McBurney, educated at S.S. No. 17, Walpole. As a young man he purchased a farm on the Sixth Concession of Walpole which he farmed successfully until 1917, when he moved to the Village as the representative of the Massey-Harris Implement firm of Toronto which he conducted until failing health forced him to retire.

He served for a number of years on the Village Council and took a deep interest in Knox Presbyterian Church of which he was a member. He was Reform in politics but never took a leading part.

He is survived by his widow, Agnes Booth. They had no children.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. D. H. Currie, of Port Dover, were held at his late residence in the Village on Tuesday, December 27th. Interment in Knox Presbyterian Cemetery. The pall bearers were Robert H. Miller, Thomas Harris, Thomas Brown, Albert Leng, Andrew A. Miller and John J. Mitchell.

Sheet Metal Roofing Torn From Town Hall. Menace to Public

The gale which swept over the whole of Ontario on Tuesday was responsible for considerable property damage in Jarvis. The high wind which prevailed all day long, succeeded in loosening the heavy sheet metal strips on the roof of the Town Hall and a number of them were carried to the ground, a threatening menace to pedestrains. At one time it was feared the entire roof would be blown off, and officials were powerless in doing anything about it It would have been impossible for anyone to scale the roof when the wind was at it's height.

The three-story blacksmith shop and carriage works formerly occupied by the late Daniel Steel, suffered the heavist damage of any building in town. The heavy wet snow which came down the previous night proved too great a weight for the roof and the back half crashed in to the floor on the third story. The front part of the roof was weakened also and will probably drop anytime. The large chimney on the building from the old forge, also crashed to the ground when the wind was at it's peak.

Although the Hydro service was never completely off interruptions of short duration continued throughout the day. The penetrating wind gave the citizens the first real touch of winter, and the heating of homes adequately, proved a problem to everyone.

Acclamation for Village Council

Les Marshall Will Occupy Reeve's Chair for Eleventh Term

LAST ELECTION 1933

The cost of an election this year will not be a factor in raising the mill rate in the Village of Jarvis for 1939. Les Marshall was the only man nominated for the Township, at the nomination meeting on Monday night, and this will be his eleventh term as Chief Magistrate of the municipality. He is also the oldest member of the Haldimand County Council in point of service. He was first elected to Council in 1927, and after serving two years in that capacity contested the Reeveship against Joseph Owen. His only other election during his term of service was in 1933 when he successfully contested his seat against the same man.

The Council are also all returned by acclamation, since none of the other nominees qualified for office, and next years Council will include E. T. Carter, Albert Booth, N. R. Pond and A. L. Miller. Others nominated for office will be found in a complete list in another column.

The last election in the Village was held in 1933. The issue on that occasion arose over the waterworks and eight names were on the council slate for election including Albert Booth, E. T. Carter, Peter S. Banks, N. R. Pond, R. T. Shaver, Geo. Reu, R. G. Howell and Wilfred Willis. The first four mentioned candidates were elected. They remained intact until February 1936, when Peter Banks was appointed Village Constable. A nomination was held to fill the vacancy thus caused. Although six were nominated for the vacant position on the Council only one qualified that being A. L. Miller, and the expense of an election was therefore saved. Since that time the entire Council have been returned, year after year, by acclamation.

Stallwood played the violin in accompaniment with the pipe organ. Miss Meta McMurchy was Musical Director and Miss Marie Carter, Director of the special ritual. Rev. S. E. East was in the pulpit.

Special Christmas Services Held In Local Churches

Special Services in St. Paul's Anglican Church and Wesley United Church last Sunday were well attended and appreciated. A Choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist was held in St. Paul's Church at mid night Christmas Eve. The service was preceded by a candlelight service. The combined choirs of St. Paul's Church, Jarvis, and Christ Church, Nanticoke joined in the service.

The Candlelight service at Wesley United Church on Sunday night, reflects great credit to those responsible for it's direction. Those taking part included: Clara Deller, Beth Bailey, Barbara Stallwood, Ruby Johnson, Patricia Pond, Margaret Marr, Jean Leatherdale, Audrey Reynolds, Edna Jaques, Marion Ionson and Loreen Leatherdale. Master Carman Deller, Mr. Eugene Hoover and Miss Willa McMurchy contributed solo numbers. Miss Patricia
