A Christmas Message

NOTE-The following Christmas Message was written by Rev. W. T. Brown, of Hagersville, N.Y., former minister of Knox Presbyterian Church here. We are reproducing it through the kindness of the Jarvis Record, Erie County Independent, in which paper it was published last week.

ONCE MORE the days and weeks and months, marching on in their ceaseless stride have brought mankind to the Christmas season. Once more in the midst of the hurry and the noise of our modern life we are pausing to pause and to pay homage to the Christ-Child, that Babe of Bethlehem, who was born long ago of a peasant mother, who was cradled in the rough manger crib of an Eastern inn, surrounded by the lowing cattle and the patient beasts of burden.
