

VOICE of the PRESS

NADA

It is estimated that the National Government spends one hundred million dollars annually for propaganda at home and abroad.—Brantford Express.

COMPULSORY HEADWORK

The suggestion was made at Ottawa that Canada adopt a compulsory reading scheme similar to that used by Australia. There would be no cost to the student.

SOMETHING TO DO WITH IT

Employees over 40 are found happier on their jobs than those under 40, some great United States intelligence has discovered. Of course, it doesn't mean anything to them that those over 40 have survived a war, a couple of depressions and are still at work, does it?—Hamilton Spectator.

600,000,000 A PIECE

With Britain and the United States both engaged in rearmament programs, one of the features of naval construction is the return of the battleship. For a time it was argued that the advent of the airplane and the development of the submarine had made battleships too vulnerable and that they were a thing of the past. But the battleship is back—at a cost of $63,000,000 apiece.—Sault Daily Star.

BROADENING THEM OUT

As we have remarked on other occasions, we should like to see our public men, members of the Commons and Senate and the Legislature, do more travelling. Many of them, unfortunately, seldom stir from their own districts and are therefore unfamiliar with the atmosphere of other areas. We believe it should be part of their duty to thoroughly familiarize themselves with all sections and thus be in a better position to intelligently consider national and inter-provincial problems, and in the long run, to promote that cause for which every good citizen should be striving—national unity.—Windsor Star.

NEWSPAPERS WIDELY READ

Statistics reveal that there are 2,262,729 households in Canada. The circulation of newspapers all told in Canada is 2,246,261. So one isn't far off in saying that practically every home subscribes to a newspaper.

HIGH COST OF CRIME

A statement issued from a Government department at Ottawa says that the average cost of a prisoner in the penal establishments of the country is over $2 a day, or in round figures about $750 a year. The $2 covers food, clothing, heating, buildings, salaries of wardens and guards and other maintenance costs.

Mule Carts Banned Under Rio Law

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil.—Rio de Janeiro is likely to become a horseless and muleless city if a new municipal ruling is obeyed. The horse and buggy was pushed out by the automobile, leaving only the mule and cart, used primarily for the hauling of coffee from the warehouse to the steamer.

King George VI Inspects R.A.F. Cadets

King George VI inspects the cadets of the Royal Air Force, at Cranwell, Eng., after having flown from his residence at Sandringham, the second flight of his reign.

Says Betterment of Race Is Important For Canada

Improvement of Stock Necessary to Offset Trend Towards Poor Quality, Claims Principal of Queen's University—Awakening is Urged.

Public consciousness must be awakened to the need of development of an improved stock, Dr. G. W. Wallace, Principal of Queen's University, emphasized in an address before the Community Health Association of Greater Toronto in the Academy of Medicine.

POOR LITTLE TURKIS

The schoolboys of Turkey are in for a dull time if the Association of Head Masters and Head Mistresses has its way. According to its recommendations a girl may go to the cinema except with an adult relative; she may not talk to any young man in the street except her brother, and if any want attention to talk to her the affront should be reported to parents or the head master forthwith. One might be tempted to think that Pasha Grundy or his wife had come to Oxford for their list of prohibitions. In Oxford still, no doubt, the protectors ask politely to be introduced to any damsel with whom an undergraduate is seen in public converse. All this, of course, is done to protect the male from the predations of the intriguing sex, and it would be little wonder if Turkey, with their queer inversions, had simply reversed the rules in a mistaken effort to shield scheming girls from innocent men.—Cape Argus.

Says City Dangers Worse Than Jungle

"Bring 'em Back Dead" Specimen Collector Describes Being Bitten By Vampire Bat.

A scientific specimen collector who "brings 'em back dead" recounted a tale of modern adventure on a 18 months' safari into the South American jungles. Emmett R. Blake, assistant curator of birds for Chicago's Field Museum, with a grim minimized the dangers to life and limb as he faced and declared the jungle from which he has just returned less a land of modern adventure and less a land of jaguar trails than he told how a jaguar trailed him, he caught malaria and a blood-draining vampire bat bit him.

Capone Loses Mind

SAN FRANCISCO.—Scarface Al Capone, the swarthy judge No. 1 gangster and racketeer of the prohibition era, has lost his mind under the stern discipline and monotony of imprisonment on Alcatraz Island.

Girl Is Able to Walk Again After Six Years of Surgical Treatment

Napoleon's famous remark that an army marches on its stomach has a very real meaning to a 19-year-old girl, Gerrie, of Windsor, who walks today on what was once a pair of her abdomen, says the Windsor Star.

Religious Persecution

NEW YORK.—Religious freedom, involving the future of Christianity itself in Germany, has been placed on secret trial in Berlin.

New Economic Dictator

BERLIN.—Adolf Hitler this week established one of his closest advisers, Economic Dictator Walter Funk, as Economic Dictator to work with Reich Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, who temporarily took over the Economics Ministry last Nov. 28 when Dr. Fuhrer accepted the resignation of Acting Minister Hjalmar Schacht, but it was evident that Goering would continue to play a major role in building up a military dictatorship to dominate economic and industrial.

NOT FOR CHILDREN: IN

York the critics raved about "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," hailing this first feature-length animated cartoon as the movie of a decade. Ah! we all thought, the perfect picture for children at last! But no, over in Britain it was given a certificate declaring it suitable "for adults only." Reason for the action: some of the scenes might frighten children.

Argument Over Padlock Law

OTTAWA.—A suggestion made by Opposition Leader Bennett that the Government should not pass a law forbidding a man to padlock his door to keep out a woman, has been met with a strong reaction from the women's movement.

NO Labor Legislation Yet

TORONTO.—Efforts of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to have the Hapburn Government sponsor legislation that would protect workers in organizing their unions, has been met with a strong reaction from the employers.
