SALINA TEA is delicious

SHAM DEBUTANTE

CHAPTER XI
While Cora and Mary Milbraum made hurried arrangements for the stricken Needhams to leave for their ranch, Irene Stromeley was not idle.

Jack. The Needhams aren't society people at all. They're frugal. Gay will never marry Rodney Sinclair. She's nothing but a lowborn, very ordinary ranch girl!

Denounced. "You mean I'm not a lady than you are, even though I was born on the Lower East Side, Jack Needham has been seeing me all along—coming to tell me about you. How were you driving him to drink. Worthless as you are, the boy loved you."

"You—you shut up and get out!" Irene was shrill with rage. "I know it never occurred to you that I was really fond of Jack Needham!"

"Each had a purpose. Irene waited impatiently until Emma Valle arrived. As Emma was ushered in, she sized her up quickly. There was a brittle gleam in the actress' manner."

Serving Supper for Sixty

Supper for six is one thing and a supper for sixty quite another! You have probably found that out on many occasions.

When there are only a few helpers, a waitress supper is especially practical because three or four women behind the counter can serve a large number of guests.

Meat loaves are ideal for large meals because they are good, hot or cold, they slice beautifully and can be transported without any difficulty.

Around The Dial

Sanja Henle is the most honored young woman in motion pictures these days. Recently she went to Washington to receive the cross of Knighthood of the Order of St. Olaf, conferred by the Norwegian government through their minister to Washington.

Radio stars are much more thrifty than the early motion-picture stars. Most of them invest their earnings in businesses that are not so dependent on youth and entertainment whims of the public.

These young men whose youthful ambitions were strictly serious have become radio's great comic trio. Larry Ross and Charles Butterworth studied law, and Walter O'Keefe started out as a newspaper man.

Grace Allan, long radio's queen of nonsense, is at last to get her own show. She is to be the star of a new radio program, "The Man on the Flying Trapes."

Coronation Costs Fixed at £150,615 LONDON.—The Comptroller General of civil appropriation accounts announced last week that the Coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth cost £1,885 ($6,295) less than the Parliamentary grant.

Canon Frank Russell Barry, D.S.O., has been appointed custodian of Westminster Abbey, in London. The noted cleric is Canon of the Abbey, as well as being rector of St. John's Church, in London.

The Truth About Yourself AS YOUR HANDWRITING REVEALS IT (By Lawrence Hibbert)

Help in Everyday Work I made definite suggestions along lines of work that she had never considered, and outlined one or two mentally exercises designed to counteract her morbid outlook.

Do You wish to know what your handwriting tells about yourself? And have you any friends you would like to know the truth about? Mr. Hibbert will analyze your writing for you, and that of your friends. Write to him as fully as possible, and if you have any problems tell him about them.
