Four Eclipses Come In 1938

Canadians Will See Three Partial Shadowings of Sun In Year

Again in 1938 scientists will have to venture into remote areas of the world to study phenomena attendant upon a total eclipse of the sun. Last year investigators journeyed to Peruvian mountain tops and mid-Pacific islets to gaze on the only total solar eclipse.

In 1938 the sun's lone total shadowing occurs May 29, and will be visible only in the extreme southern portion of the Atlantic Ocean. This is one of four eclipses during the year. Two total lunar eclipses are visible May 14 and November 7. The remaining one is a partial shadowing of the sun on November 21.

Must Get Up Early

Canadians can witness the last three, but they will have to rise early to see the May 14 lunar show. Its period of greatest totality is at 3 a.m. The other lunar eclipse takes place at five o'clock in the afternoon, when the brightness of the sun may hide it.

British Columbia is the only part of Canada privileged to witness the partial eclipse of the sun, November 21. Most of the west coast of North America will be able to view the spectacle.

Royal Bank of Canada Reports Good Year

Total Assets $869,538,000 up $14,000,000 — Deposits Increased $10,000,000 — Liquid Assets 65.53% of Liabilities to the Public—Increased Profits Shown

The Annual Balance Sheet of The Royal Bank of Canada made public shows a moderate growth in deposits and total assets and a strong liquid position. Total deposits amount to $756,689,696 and are higher than at any period in the bank's history, with the single exception of 4929.

Commercial Loans Increase

Current Loans in Canada, including loans to Municipalities and Provincial Governments, amount to $200,563,727, an increase of approximately $12,765,000 as compared with the previous year. Current Loans outside of Canada amounting to $101,147,198 are approximately $4,000,000 lower than last year. Coming as it does after a steady decline in current loans over a period of seven years, the reversal in the trend of commercial loans is encouraging. As might be expected in view of the present stock market situation, Call Loans both in Canada and abroad have been substantially reduced. Call Loans in Canada amount to $19,392,906, a reduction of approximately $6,700,000. Call Loans abroad amount to $10,070,583, a reduction of $4,500,000.

Strong Liquid Position

The liquid position is strong, total readily realizable assets being $514,671,335. Of this amount $168,638,928 is represented by cash on hand or on deposit with the Bank of Canada and other banks, while $245,606,374 is represented by Dominion and Provincial Government securities. Public securities other than Canadian amounting to $25,937,432 show an increase of $13,937,353. This increase is understood to be represented in United States and British Government securities. Total investments amount to $316,568,917, an increase of $23,398,096 from the previous year and a new high record in the history of the bank. Total liquid assets are 65.53% of liabilities to the public, which of course, is a reflection of present conditions rather than of deliberate policy. No doubt the bank would have been glad to have replaced a considerable proportion of its investments by commercial loans.

Profits Higher

Net profits for the year are shown at $3,711,589 and compared with 936 indicate an improvement of $207,128. Dividends paid absorbed $2,800,000. The usual appropriation of $300,000 was made for Bank Premises but the contribution to the Pension Fund Society was increased to $500,000 as compared with the former appropriation of $200,000. Balance of Profit and Loss Account carried forward totals $2,325,176, an increase of $411,380.

The Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders will be held at the Head Office of the bank at 11 a.m. on January 12, 1938.

Murder, Not War

War, says Vittorio Mussolini—"war is the quintessence of beauty." What I that young megalo-maniac doesn't know about war would fill the archives in Rome. To ride safely thousands of feet in the air and rain bombs on helpless natives is not war; at most — and at best—it is cold-blooded murder. —Halifax Herald.

An Important Selection

Parents should take enough interest in the public school to at least attend the annual meeting and vote for the election of a trustee whom they believe has the interest of the pupils at heart rather than the saving of a few pennies to the ratepayers. The years spent in school are very important in the lives of the boys and girls.—Farmer's Advocate.

Solitude Wanted!

Did many readers notice a small advertisement in The Argus recently inviting intellectual and refined people to form a colony on a South Sea island? Apparently many did, for the advertiser has received more than 250 replies from those seeking solitude—provided it is not too lonely. The advertiser, who produced his credentials, is a member of the Royal Australian Air Force, perfectly sincere in his intention to form an ideal social centre, "to eliminate hatred and poverty and fear." In his Utopia he promises wild horses and cattle, cascading streams, tropical fruits, and no tax collectors or other pestilences. It is not true that of the replies already received to this alluring advertisement nearly all came from politicians and bookmakers seeking surcease from turmoil. They came from ordinary simple folk who are tired of this civilization, and who cannot stand the noise of the trams in Elizabeth street any longer. — Melbourne Argus.

Mysterious Fish Suicides Solved

Scientists Say Polar Schools Were Forced Into Warm Waters

Mass suicides of fish, a mystery that has been baffling maritime leaders and scientists of South Africa for years, have been explained. Hot and cold ocean currents are held to be responsible.

Tens of millions of dead fish floating on the surface of the South Atlantic recently have forced many steamers to change their courses.

The research ship Discovery has just issued a statement, made public in Johannesburg, that the "fish suicides" have also been seen along South America and that they were caused by the finny swimmers, accustomed to cold water, being forced by shifting South Pole currents to deathdealing warm water along the coasts.

Commentary on the Highlights of the Week's News . . . by Peter Ro

FAST PACE — In the old days, so they tell us, history moved more slowly, at such a leisurely rate, in fact, that people could sit back and speculate a while about each event after it happened. In these times we are allowed no such privilege. Terrifying things occur in a great many parts of the world simultaneously, nation-wide movements surge up and threaten to engulf us whenever we pause to take thought. Dr. Alexis Carrel, world-famed medical scientist, says the reason for this state of affairs is that man's control over matter and over his own mind has not kept pace with the mechanization of the age. Machines have gone ahead. Man has stayed behind until now things are happening too swiftly for him.

Where does it all end? If we wish to turn aside the sure and fearful fate awaiting our present-day civilization, we shall have to become once more, masters of our own destinies.

REST IS BEST — The best way to fight a cold, either bad or indifferent, is to stay at home and go to bed, says the Toronto M. O. H., Dr. Gordon P. Jackson. Rest is the most important thing, if you want to stop short of influenza or pneumonia. Incidentally, your staying home will help your fellow-workers to avoid infection.

A NEW SPIRIT — There's something going on in Canada which belies the separatist attitude shown by the Premiers of Ontario and Quebec, and that is, according to John W. Dafoe, editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, "a national integration, the extent and strength of which is not yet known." Following this strengthening of the popular will, he continued, it will be found that the country called Canada is a country, and that the name is borne by its people is not a matter only of convenience.

Haven't you noticed it, too, the spirit which has just begun to grow within the past year or so? A couple of months? A great many factors are contributing to it, but not the least of which is the favorable state of affairs in many countries. By contrast we find ourselves extremely lucky, drawn to one another within our borders, are prouder to call ourselves Canadians."

Editor Dafoe expresses the hope that our whole Canadian nation may be strengthened and vitalized by this new spirit instead of torn apart by sectionalist agitation in this or that part of the country.

TIRED or NERVOUS? Is bile doing its work?
Your liver is lazy, that's why you feel so rotten half the time. Your system is not getting enough bile. Your head aches, your back aches. Your food doesn't digest properly. It stagnates and decays for lack of bile. Bile is a digestant and a cathartic. Your liver should produce 15 to 36 fluid ounces of bile every 24 hours.
Tanol Tablets will make your liver do its work. Based upon a small proportion of Calomel blended with certain other useful medicinal ingredients, Tanol Tablets act promptly and directly upon the liver, stimulating the flow of bile. They are easy to take and provide a safe, easy way of using calomel, probably the most effective liver stimulant known. They are not harsh. But they are efficient. Your druggist has them. 50c. (a)

The Age of Talk

It is one of the tragedies of the post-war era that we have had much talk and little action. Conferences which should have been the prelude to more decisive policies have ended in the futility of many words. We have discussed economic difficulties, the problems of war and peace and the menace of rearmament. Our fears have now become facts; economic selfishness has run riot and the threat of war is upon us. The conference method of international diplomacy has failed because nations lacked the will to turn their words into actions.

Here and There WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

If Santa Claus of 1937 missed any of the hard hit families of the dried out areas of Saskatchewan, or needy homes in rural sections of the other provinces, it was not the fault of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. As their 14th annual national Christmas Good Turn, a coast-to-coast chain of Scout-Guide Toy shops once again provided Old Santa with approximately 100,000 toys, dolls and cozy books, reconditioned and practically as good as new, and many thousands of new wooden toys and soft dolls produced in Scout toy plants and Guide studios.

In many centres the Scouts and Guides had the co-operation of moving picture theatre managers, who gave Saturday morning Toy Shop Matinees, at an admission price of one toy. Local distribution of gifts was made in association with service clubs, the Salvation Army and other welfare organizations.

The special Scout-Guide effort this season was the bulk shipment from toy shops in the other provinces to Saskatchewan, to assist the Saskatchewan Scouts in doing their part toward providing gifts for the approximate 50,000 children of "Santa Claus" age who otherwise would have been missed. For this work the Scout Association divided Saskatchewan into eight toy distribution areas, and the toy shipments were allotted these areas as called for.

The shipments were provided by the toy shops at Sherbrooke, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg and Calgary. The Scouts of Medicine Hat, in the dry area of southeastern Alberta, were helped in meeting their demands by the Scouts of Calgary, Cardston and Kimberley and Powell River, B.C.

Details of the heroic first-aid and other relief work done by Chinese Boy Scouts at Shanghai and other Chinese cities bombed by the Japanese have been hinted at in press despatches and news reels. The International Scout Bureau in London reports more fully as follows:

Despite the grave danger of continued bombing in and around Shanghai, Chinese Boy Scouts carried out their Scout obligation to "help other people at all times." Their services in the hospitals and other places can be looked upon as nothing less than heroic, and under the inevitable danger they still persist in carrying on.

Immediately after high explosives had been dropped on Shanghai young Scouts began searching for the dead, dressing the slightly injured with bandages improvised from blood-spattered piles of material, and acting as stretcher bearers.

One of these young boys performed a task from which many a grown man would have shrunk. A lift in a building had been halted between the ground and first floors as the explosion cut off power. Blood streamed from the cage, the door of which had been partially opened by some injured person before death had intervened. A ladder was run up to the cage, but the opening was too small for an adult. A Scout went up, hesitated before what he saw, then threw down a pith helmet filled with blood, and performed the gruesome task of removing the dead.

An early morning bombing raid, raining death on flesh-laden village for twenty minutes was another scene described in which Boy Scouts, police and other workers rushed to rescue the wounded. The destruction covered a wide area, and up to a late hour scores of volunteers were still busily engaged in extricating bodies pinned beneath the debris.

Simultaneously, bombing was going on in Chowkachiao in the Jessfield district, and many civilians were killed. Shortly after the raid every available fireman, policeman and Boy Scout, together with those who had received civic training, were summoned to the scene of terror to rescue the wounded.

Boy Scouts, together with Girl Guides, also are helping in refugee camps, and attending the wounded soldiers in emergency hospitals.

Officials of the French Concession Service Sanitaire found Scouts extremely useful, while still other Scouts were called upon to help look after the crowds of frightened refugee children.

When a group of journalists were being shown through the hospitals in the Chinese territory, and were taken to the Vienna Garden, a dancing hall turned into an emergency hospital, they discovered more Boy Scouts attending the wounded.

Indian Rights Being Defended

If those who write hunting laws made new year's resolution, Philip H. Godsell, Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and author, hopes they remembered the forgotten red man whose hunting grounds are slowly being robbed by the white brother with his ingenious ways of earning a dollar.

The tall, broad-shouldered wanderer of Canada's frozen frontier who came to the Dominion from England thirty years ago because he wanted a war bonnet and peace-pipe, today scanned records of northern experience and found one jarring note in songs he could sing of those who live in the land of the snows. And the white man's airplane hummed the most disturbing tune.

Godsell said faith has not been kept by those who signed the treaty with the Indian and swore hunting and fishing would be for as long "as the waters ran and the sun shone."

Through numerous hunting licenses given to white trappers the Indian is steadily being pushed into low morale, poor health and impoverishment, Godsell, who has trekked from Labrador to Alaska and learned to speak six native dialects, declared.

Now Destitute

"I know of Indian families thirty years ago who took pride in their ability to derive a living from forests and the stream and be as they thought independent of white men," Godsell said. "Today, I've seen those same families brought to utter destitution by inroads of white trappers and depletion of areas in which they hunted."

Godsell explained the 50,000 Indian men, women and children up north had 15,000 bread-winners whose primitive mode of hunting could not match the white man's mechanical bird nor his other tricks of obtaining a living from animals of northern woods and the fish-lined streams. One of these "diabolical" tricks in trade was use of poison.

"Hunting and trapping privileges should be restricted in all northern Canada to the Indian and Eskimo population. The white trapper must be eliminated if justice is to be done the northern Indians and unless they are to become entirely dependent on the taxpayer."

The former Hudson's Bay Company fur-trader sketches a picture of "Indians and their families dejected, broken-down, spiritless specimens of depravity, totally at a loss to know how to meet economic disaster with which they are faced."

A new plant is Lozovac, Dalmatia, will produce 110,000 tons of aluminum annually.
