

Promenade Deck

CHAPTER VIII
Five days later the Marela had steamed into the wide, flat harbour of Bombay. The Apollo Bunder, the gateway to India, rose magnificent against a fleecy stretch of blue. A heat haze shimmered over the waters, and small craft sped like white-winged birds to their destinations. Angela stood on the top deck and watched the city taking shape and the water's edge. Far to the left she could see a fringe of green—Malabar Hill, overlooking Bombay.

The ship leaned and turned to a peaceful anchorage. A tender came puffing importantly to her side. When the boat ceased throbbling at last, Angela's ears continued to drum, a faint echo that would not leave her.

"Good-morning, Mrs. Wynant," "Good-morning, Mr. Charlton." "Well, it's India at last. I must confess I like it as little as any of the countries I know."

"I like it, nevertheless." "You should see it in a typhoon, with the water breaking against the Bunder. It's just like turf, and it suggests a lawn in this dusty part of the world."

"Not a scrap, Peter. Good-morning, Mrs. Langford." "The Personal Note"

"Hello, Mrs. Rutherford! What a gorgeous shade of green you are wearing! It's just like turf, and it suggests a lawn in this dusty part of the world."

Knees Went Stiff In His Sleep

Agony to Move Them When He Awoke

"For three years," writes this City man, "I suffered with pains across the lower part of my back. In the morning, I awoke with knees so stiff that it was agony to move them. Special treatment would make the pain a little easier—but that was all. Then a friend recommended Kruschen, which my doctor said I might take. I began with about a coffee-spoonful first thing in the morning. To my surprise I found my rheumatic aches and pains disappearing. I kept on with Kruschen, and although I have been free from pain for two years, and able to go to my office every day"—A.W.

Price of Obedience

A wife, asked in the police court why her husband overtook another car, said, "I told him to. As a result of obeying his wife the husband collided with another car, was fined $20.

New Ideas in Salads

Here are two food questions which many women have asked themselves and their neighbors again and again, sometimes finding the right answers and more often not.

"Can you suggest something new for me to serve my bridge club? I'm so tired of the same old refreshments but I haven't a new idea in my mind."

"Can I get some help in getting my family to eat the variety of fresh vegetables they need?"

Well, here are the answers. Tea Room Salad, so named because it had its first success in an exclusive Ontario tea room, is the kind of recipe you simply love to get out of.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel the dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

Not what I will, but what I must. Mark 14: 36.

ON IN ITS SETTING. Evening of Thursday, 11. 38. The Garden of Gethsemane of the western Mount of Olives.

Our Lord recorded in Matt. 26: 25 and 26 of our Lord's prayer. Christ recorded in Matt. 26: 26 and 27. These words were given on the night of Passion Week.

They came into a garden which was named Gethsemane, which would imply that the garden was located in an olive grove.

It is in the midst of which Jesus obtained olive-wood on the eastern side of the Garden of Gethsemane. As John records it had been a favorite place of Jesus.

Now leaves eight of the olive trees on the outer edge of the garden, while he takes what is the innermost circle and the innermost circle.

Behold the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of those who keep the law and pretend to enforce righteousness; but it is one thing for a criminal to be betrayed into the hands of those who keep the law and pretend to enforce righteousness; but it is another thing for a righteous one to be betrayed into the hands of lawless men.

Behold the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. It is one thing for a criminal to be betrayed into the hands of those who keep the law and pretend to enforce righteousness; but it is another thing for a righteous one to be betrayed into the hands of lawless men.

Bad Disposition Shows In Face

A thoughtful look around at the faces of mature women should convince anyone that grandmother's quip about handsome is as handsome does was a profound remark indeed.

Lines are inevitable of course. But there are lines and lines. The ones which laugh and sympathize, even tears, put in her face never make any woman unattractive. But lines caused by a suspicious disposition, temper tantrum, envy, greed, hate and self-pride certainly do.

When speaking, our waves are picked up and neck tissues and muscles are tense, and the face is set in a stern, unyielding line.

Throat Microphone

In most air services the microphone with its handpiece is used by means of a cord. This involves a lot of wires and a lot of trouble. This means that the microphone is not portable and is not convenient to use.
