Plan Developing Canadian Drama

C. B. C. Manager Encourages Writing Plays for Radio — Drama to Interpret Canada

The great field for endeavor open o Canadian authors in the "drama of manners, a drama to interpret Canada to Canadians," Major Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Coporation, told delegates attending the 17th annual convention of the Canadian Authors' Association, in the city of Montreal, last week. The C. B. C. was encouraging Caadian writing and asked that the scripts be submitted, he said. "If we succeed in establishing a Canadian dramatic presentation, it will serve a double purpose. Not only will the position of the Canadian author be consolidated but broadcasting will get away from imitation of other large network ideas." Readings and spoken essays if authentic and well-done are a very worth-while advertisement, he believed.

What Constitutes Drama "Canadian drama is not necessar-ily the historical events of the time f Jacques Cartier, General Brock and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police," he said.
