A Page of Interest to Women

Tea for every Taste

The Michigan Kid

by Rex Beach

Dawson grew, flourished, began to die; representatives of big companies appeared and bought up tracts of property; they talked of huge dredging and hydraulic projects.

Time To Serve The Community

Women of Today Have Leisure Hours They Can Put to Good Use

Compared with the woman of the days of George III, the woman of the days of George VI has hours of leisure time upon her hands and would live a very active life if her interests were confined to "kirk and kitchen and gown."

Time For Leisure Tasks

The emancipation of woman from the old tasks that confronted her leads up to the question of the education of women for the interests of life outside the home.

She now has time to spare from the arduous job of home-making to serve the community in which she lives.

The letter to enable the women of the rising generation to play their part in the community, the girls of today should be given the education of a liberal education, that will bring them into touch with the history, philosophy and literature of the ages, broaden their outlook and make them useful citizens to the fullest degree.

Mysteries of Outer World Without meeting those duties of the home from which the machine cannot divorce them, they must learn the mysteries of that outer world to which they are called.

When the first brand of the river had hidden Dawson City from view he drew from his pocket a wallet, and from this he carefully extracted a Murray, time-yellowed picture of Rose Morris. It was a picture he had clipped from a Dover newspaper on the day Rose graduated from the local high school and it showed her as a girl in white with a floppy hat and a scarf of ribbon about her waist. It was a picture of her as she was, perhaps the one and only personal possession that he had never risked losing at some time or other. He gazed at it now for quite a while.

He wondered if Rose were still alive. If so, she must have grown into a beautiful woman, yes, and a good woman—here the gambler was speaking. No doubt she was married. He pondered this thought deliberately and it awakened a feeling of regret too indefinite to be called a pang, for long ago he had realized that it was not the same sort of thing in flannel, in shirts and skirts, and in salina cloth, in rayon and cotton mixture, they carry the same tailored combination. These are ideal for casual town wear under reefers, and for the country—even for active sports, such as golf.

Man-tailored shirts, done with long sleeves and back yokes, are available in white, black, navy or pastels.

Separate-pleated skirts give a costume look to the tailored blouse and give the upper river, back home that name would stand for something altogether different.

Back home! The words possess a peculiar significance for men who have not been "outside" in more than five years. Nobody but the homeward bound Alaskan could in the least appreciate them.

Oldtimers Meet At home the ship hove to for twenty-four hours, and Rowan went ashore to see what the place looked like. Here again he passed unnoticed, and he was greatly cheered by that fact. If he could walk the streets of an Alaskan gold camp without being recognized, it argued that he would have no difficulty whatever in his big world outside.

His attention was attracted by a poster which advertised an informal rally of all the citizens of Nome who had hailed from Michigan. The meeting was to be held that night for the purpose of general good-will and acquaintance and with the ultimate view of organizing a Wolverine Society. Jim decided to go.

It turned out to be a pleasant gathering. A glad-hand meeting was at the door to introduce strangers around; there was a program of entertainment, with refreshments promised afterward.

Jim Rowan grinned. Here was old home stuff. He wondered what these pleasant-faced men and women would think if they knew that he, the knob-trousered visitor, was the Michigan Kid, the most notorious "sporting man" in all the north.

A Stranger's Beard He heard his name mentioned during the evening—when a judge from

Lenten Season Dishes

During the Lenten season it is the custom in many homes to serve fish at least twice a week. Such adherence to the spirit of the season need not mean a privation however. Fish can be a very delicious change in the diet and there are many ways of serving it. Now is the time to try new variations of your old fish dishes and some new ones which we are giving here.

We have given the recipe for Casserole of Salmon in these columns before but many of you may not have saved it so we are including it.

Casserole of Salmon 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapoca 1/4 teaspoon salt Dash of pepper 1 cup canned salmon, flaked 1 cup celery, diced 1 tablespoon onion, chopped 1 cup milk 1 tablespoon melted butter 1/2 cup unbleached baking powder sieved, rolled 1/4 inch thick. Combine ingredients in order given. Turn into greased casserole; bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, stirring mixture twice during first 15 minutes of baking. Place biscuits on top. Turn into casserole; bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes; return to oven, bake 12 to 15 minutes longer to bake biscuits. Serves 4.

Pimento Sauce 2 tablespoons butter 1 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon salt Dash of white pepper 1/2 cup pimiento, forced through sieve. Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly, and continue cooking and stirring until thickened. Season with salt and pepper. Add pimiento. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Finnan Haddie Delmonico 1 1/2 pounds finnan haddie 3 tablespoons butter 1 1/2 tablespoons flour 1/2 cup milk 1 1/2 cups light cream or top milk Dash of Cayenne Dash of nutmeg 2 eggs yolks, slightly beaten 6 slices toast. Wash finnan haddie, soak in cold water 1 hour. Drain, cover with boiling water, and cook slowly until tender. Drain; separate into large flakes to measure 1 1/2 cups. Prepare sauce by melting butter in top of double boiler. Add flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add cream and seasonings and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Four small amount of sauce over each flake. Place over hot water and cook 1 minute longer. Add finnan haddie to sauce. Serve on toast; garnish with parsley. Serves 4.

Baked Halibut 1 slice (1 pound) halibut, 1 inch thick 1 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup fine soft bread crumbs Dash of salt Dash of pepper 3 tablespoons melted butter Dash of paprika. Place halibut in shallow pan, pour on milk, add salt, and let stand 15 to 20 minutes, turning once. Combine crumbs, salt, and pepper. Add butter, and mix thoroughly. Remove fish from milk. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and cover with 1 1/2 cups crumbs, patting them into fish. Place crumbs down in well-greased shallow baking pan. Cover evenly with remaining crumbs, boiling water, and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until crumbs are brown and fish is cooked. Serves 4.

Molded Ramequin of Whitefish 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapoca 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon white pepper Dash of cayenne 2 cups cooked whitefish, flaked 2 tablespoons melted butter 1 1/2 cups parsley, chopped 1 cup buttered crumbs Combine dry ingredients, fish, butter, parsley and milk. Turn into greased ramequin or custard cups. Cover with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Unleavened, if desired. Garnish with parsley. Serve with or without Pimento Sauce. Serves 6. Any leftover whitefish may be substituted for whitefish in this recipe, such as halibut, haddock, cod, or bass.

Tuna and Celery Souffle 4 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapoca 1 1/4 teaspoons salt 1/2 cup milk 1 cup tuna fish, flaked 1 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten Combine dry ingredients, celery, and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water, bring to boil.

Your Handwriting Tells The Truth About Your Character! By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Psychologist, Character-Analyst and Lecturer)

(Ed. Note: Intense interest is being shown in our new series of articles, of which this is the third.) AN OPEN LETTER TO A SCOFFER! When I opened my mail the other morning, a letter drifted out on to my desk. I am answering it in the form of an open letter, because it is, I think, of interest to many of my readers. Here is the letter:

"Dear Sir—At a fair in Atlantic City I got a handwriting analysis. It was so utterly ridiculous that I have no further faith in the idea. I enjoy your articles immensely but please don't try to convince me that there is any truth in it. It's too far-fetched!"

I wonder whether my incredulous correspondent would hesitate to consult a doctor, if he were sick, or stigmatize the whole medical fraternity as "humbugs" merely because he had been taken in by a mendacious vendor at a market fair, and had bought a bottle of "colored water" instead of the elixir of life? Or is he like the people of old who scoffed at the idea that any further lay beyond the horizon? I am not going to weary my readers with technical reasons to justify the claim that handwriting does reveal character. But it is a concrete fact that the impulse to write comes from your mind or your heart in both cases, the directing organ is

Kiddie Guests We happened to go to the Community Sing Program broadcast Sundays at 9:00 p.m. over CKCL. The program turned out to be a gem. Night—and was quite a novelty. So we hopped in to the program supervisor's office to see "Mo" Rosenfeld, and find out just what's up. We were informed that by the time you receive this paper, the program will be broadcast with the Kindergarten Expert, Kiddie numbers will be sung and the program will feature Kiddie Guests. It seems that listeners will be taken back to the Little Red Schoolhouse where they had "mud on their heels and no shoes on their feet."

Better Heating "Banking a fire properly at night is a simple process," says James Stewart, "blue coal" heating expert, but it is one which many do not understand, and through improper methods they lose both comfort and fuel." Mr. Stewart, whose talks on home heating are a regular feature on very popular "Shadow" program over CFRB each Wednesday, is offering free to every homeowner a copy of the book "First Aid to Better Heating"—a little volume full of practical advice on how to get the utmost value for every dollar spent for fuel. Just send your name and address to "blue coal", 217 Bay Street, and a copy of this book will be promptly mailed to you.

IS THIS YOUR BIRTHDAY? By A. R. WEIR

What the Stars Foretell for These Born on March 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 If you were born on any of the days mentioned above, marriage is important to you. You need a partner who is strong both physically and mentally otherwise you are inclined to drift. You are generous and good natured and at all times hospitable. There are times, however, when you are gloomy and despondent—as a matter of fact you rather enjoy your personal gloom. Forget it—it only hinders you and keeps you back. About the middle of the year there should be an improvement in your financial position probably through some important news from a long distance. You should also receive some assistance from relatives. Mauve or lavender is your lucky color.
