RUMANIA NEXT: Lying directly in the path of Hitler's "drive to the east," the kingdom of Rumania, one of the "have" countries of Europe, is rich in oil, grain, iron, tobacco, live stock, coal. A bountiful prize. Should King Carol refuse to prize. Should King Carol retused fall in with Germany's plans, a bitter and bloody struggle is sure to ensue over the mastery of this region. And King Carol, let it be region. And King Carol, let it be remembered, is a strong-minded man.
Henry C. Wolfe, noted writer on European affairs, predicts a coming onflict: "Because of her geographical location, her minority prob-lems (Magyar, German, Slav), her position on the route from Reich to the Ukraine, Rumania is a keg of dynamite. Already a titan-ic struggle between Germany and Russia is beginning in Rumania. Other countries, like Bulgaria and Hungary, are pawns in this con-flict." Mr. Wolfe contends that if King Carol should flatly defy Hitler the latter could stir up a revival of the Iron Guard in Rumania and could inspire Hungarian and Bulgarian irredentists to reclaim territory from Rumania. The story of Czechoslovakia would be repeat DANGEROUS POSITION: An authoritative British review, the Economist, has come out flat-footed and said that the new position of the European democracies (France and Britain especially) is the most dangerous they have had to face within half a century. Qualifying the statement: except for Portugal Egypt and Iraq, there are no coun tries pledged to stand with Great Britain and France should a war break out.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY: There's rustlers riding the range. We don't mean in a Western horse-opera elther. We point instead to what is going on right here in Ontario. Up in Simcoe County this fall they've had no end of cattle stolen. Now the epidemic has spread to Grey County. The farmers are up in arms and patrolling their pastures with shotguns. They hope soon their midnight vigils will be rewarded, and the culprits, who have been carting the stolen animals away in trucks, get what's coming to them.

WHAT JAPAN HOLDS: The present undeclared war in China up to this week has lasted 500 days. Some 200,000,000 of the 400,000,000 se people have passed under nominal Japanese control. All the greatest Chinese cities are now in Japanese hands. Japan holds seven of the principal gateways to China, is attempting to profit from the trade which still flows through these gates.

In every "conquered" province, however, determined and effective guerilla resistance continues. There is still no sign that Chinese morale is cracking.

Aged Hunter Kills Wolf In Pasture

MERIVALE CORNERS, Ont. — Eighty-five-year-old Jim Slack, of this village near Ottawa, a hun ing enthusiast for the past 57 years, proved last week he still has a nimble trigger finger.

Slack's son discovered a timber wolf in the pasture when he went for the cows. He ran back to the house to call his father, who was preparing for a partridge hunt.
When they reached the pasture, the elder Slack saw the wolf running across a clearing. He raised his 12-gauge shotgun. One shot was all that was necessary. It struck the animal in the chest.

Fibre in World Uses for the Mineral Being Discovered — Canada Chief Source of Supply

Asbestos: Finest

The microscope has shown that asbestos is probably the finest fibre in existence, which may lead to reliable new amplications of this valuable new applications of this material, according to David Wolo-chow, chemist of the National Research Council laboratories.

In a paper on asbestos and its uses, appearing in the Canadian In-stitute of Mining and Metallurgy Bulletin, Wolochow says knowledge of the physical nature of fibre ag-gregate and thereby the effects of milling processes on asbestos is being definitely increased and put on a sound basis by this investigation Used With Cement, Rubber, Oil Reviewing research in Canada, he says considerable work has already been carried out in the Coun cil's laboratories with a view to finding new uses for the mineral. Although a constituent of many products, asbestos fibre is used chiefly in conjunction with Portland cement, metal, rubber, graphite oil grasse and hituminous man ite, oil, grease and bituminous ma-terials. The five chief types of asbestos products are textiles and textile products, buildings materials, heat and sound insulating materials and molded products.

Canada has long been the chief source of world supply of the mineral, the output being obtained aleral, the output being obtained almost entirely from the Thetford district in Quebec. Russia and Rhodesia, South Africa, are the only other important producers. the same hen was in the news with an egg eight inches long and six inches around.
