Will Spend More To Train Youth

Ottawa To Increase Vote For 1939 — 50,000 Canadians Benefitted Last Year

With particular emphasis on placement features, the Dominion-Provincial youth training program for the present fiscal year is mak-ing excellent progress, the Fed-eral Labor Department said this

"While it is naturally too early to determine with accuracy the number of young Canadians who will benefit by the plan this year, it is probable that last year's figwill be equalled if not exceeded," the department's state ment said.

Provinces Contribute

"Approximately 50,000 Canadians between the ages laid down in agreements with the provinces have profited by the program. The exact figures are: Men, 32,301; women, 23,156; or a total of 55, 457. Last year the amount voted by Parliament was $1,000,000. This year the Dominion contributed in the neighborhood of $1,500,-50-50 basis.

OFF THE SENTIMENTAL SIDE Apart from sentimental and strategic reasons, there is another factor why both Great Britain and the United States are interested in Canada.

There is $6,800,000,000 of outside capital invested in the Domin-ion. Of this amount, Great Britain has supplied 40 per cent. ond the United States has put up 58 per cent., leaving only two per cent. supplied by other countries. — Windsor Daily Star.

CANADA AND WHEAT PRICES

Under the 1932 treaty Canada and Australia are bound to sell wheat to the Motherland at the world price, which is the price on the Liverpool Exchange. This price is fixed by competition be-tween the buyers of the world, not the buyers of the United Kingdom alone. The British market is not large enough to absorb all the Canadian export surplus of wheat. The balance of this sur plus is sold in competition with the exports from the United States, Argentina, Russia, the Danubian countries, and every other wheat-exporting country. It is this competition with foreign wheat which fixes the Liverpool price and therefore the price Canadian wheat. For this rea the prefernce is not thought to be of much value. If the preference is repealed. Canada may sell les wheat to Britain, but, in that event, other countries will sell more and there will be less com-petition in selling to foreign couna case of six of one and half a dozen of the other.-Mancheste

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FIRST: In the Great War of 1914-18, it was the uniformed men in the front line trenches who hore the brunt of enemy punishment. Today, things are different, as we know from watching dress rehearsals (for another war) in Abyssinia, in Spain and China. It is the civilian population, women and children, who are the first victims of war, meeting swift death from the air, or a horrible mangling, or slow starvation.

They call it "totalitarian war". WHAT PRICE DISTRACTION? They tell us that whenever war appears on the world's horizon, women's fashions automatically become more elaborate, more ornery than ever—as a distraction, don't you know, from the grimness of reality.

This present season, judging from the specimens one has glimpsed on the streets of Ontario towns and cities, women's hats and hair-dos are providing a No.

has undergone some changes in the last few years. Once to be hospitable meant to urge a guest to come, urge him to eat (or drink) too much, urge him to stay longer than he should, and keep him at the door while he was urged to come back. Today, modern hostesses realize all that is a strain—even more of a strain on the guest than on the hostess. So women have started treating guests more casually. Not, mind you, in the affected "Why in the world did you turn up, but now that you are here we'll make the best of it" manner of the people who mistake rudeness for so-phistication. But in the manner of real friendliness that means "It you can come we want you. If you can't we'll understand." And then,
