A Newspaper

No matter how well edited or how many columns of real interesting news appears in a local paper, that newspaper is only fulprice changes, the new styles, the new materials, the new methods

A Town Without a Newspaper is a DEAD TOWN!

Opinion is almost unanimous that a town without a paper is would care to defend an opinion in opposition to this

A Store Which Does Not Advertise

Place yourself in the position of the reader of a town paper, and endeavor to analyze the impression created by the omission of news from any particular store. How can it fail to be anything but unfavorable. To the readers of any newspaper, store the most important....to some the most important part of the paper. Its omission cannot fail but have a harmful effect.

Edwin S. Rutledge, Editor of the Kenton (Ohio) News-Republican says: "Mr. Merchant, the newspapers from the larger cities near your community are coming into the homes of your own customers these days with advertising columns bursting with announcements of real values. "They are drawing the dollars out of the pockets of the people who should be purchasing from you.

"These city merchants know their advertisement in their city newspaper will bring results or they wouldn't be spending good hard-earned money for that advertising.

"Your own values are just as outstanding...and even more so...than the values being offered your customers by the city "If you are to get the dollars that are rightfully yours, you will have to inform your customers of this in big, bold headlines in your home town newspaper, and then back these headlines up with the price tags on your merchandise. merchants.

"If you will go to your home town newspaper advertising man he will help you with your advertising problems and make your advertising just as appealing to your customers as the "big city" advertising is:

"Local advertising has the jump on advertising that comes in from the outside, but you, Mr. Merchant, have to keep that lead by properly utilizing the home town newspaper columns consistently and with careful attention to the preparing of copy."
