AT WAR OR NOT: In the course of a fiery speech last week before the House of Commons, Georges Heon, Conservative M.P. for Argenteuil, demanded the calling of a general election to decide ther Canada should automatic ally go to Great Britain's aid in any war. Said Mr. Heon:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier propounded the policy that when Britain is at war Canada is at war, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King has reaffirmed this . . . I do not infer that we should never take part in any war. What I say is that any war in which we do take part must be a war in which something better than sentiment, actuated by propaganda, is at stake. It must be a war that threatens our very liberty, independence and existence, and the sue of which would be of immediate vital concern to

THE WEEK'S QUESTION: Why is Germany's financial situation desperate? Answer: Germany has no foreign exchange for the pur-chase of raw materials abroad. Up to now, subsidized exports have provided enough foreign cur-rency to buy vital imports. But this year the Reich's exports have sunk away down, incurring an un-favorable balance of trade. In ad dition, the annexation of Austria and the Sudetenland make foreign-exchange needs even more desperate.

Ice Harvest

Farmer May Reap It From His Own Ponds And Streams— Free From Contamination.

The ice harvesting season fortonately comes at a time when there is the least work on the farm for men and teams, and consequently the actual money cost is usually not very great.

Water for the ice supply should be entirely free from contamination or pollution. Ponds and sluggish streams usually have grass and weeks growing in them, so that the ice harvested is likely to contain vegetable matter, which is always objectionable. They should therefore be thoroughly cleared of such growths before the ice has

Filling the Ice-House A cubic foot of ice weighs about 57 pounds, so in storing ice it is customary to allow from 40 to 50 cubic feet per ton for the mass of ice. At least 12 inches must be left between the ice and the wall of the building for insulation, un-less the ice house has permanently insulated walls and an unusually large space for insulation beneath large space for insulation beneath and above the ice. From these figures it is possible to calculate readily the quantity of ice that any given ice house will hold.

Wolves Are Seen In Brant County

Deer, Partridge, Beaver, Are Also In Evidence In Southern Ontario.

Four wolves, three large and one small, reported seen a few days ago on the farm of William Hutchinson in Blenheim Township near Princeton, Ont., owe their freedom to assistance from the weatherman Peter Porter, district game over-seer, told of the incident. Fred Fearheller, working on the farm, told his employer that he had seen the four wolves in a field. Mr. Hutchinson believed his employee had seen police dogs and had mis taken them for wolves. Later Mr. Hutchinson was driving a team when he also saw the wolves and was convinced they were not dogs. They approached so close he feared they might attack his horses. He raced the team to the barn for Thought To Be Police Dogs Having no gun available, Mr. Hutchinson borrowed one from a neighbor, but darkness had set in by that time and nothing could be accomplished. Deer are still being seen in Brant County and in that section of Cxford County where the wolves were sighted. Partridge have become numerous, Mr. Porter said, in the South Dumfries preserve. In the vicinity of Scotland, where beaver are numerous, an area two miles square has recently been pested as a game preserve.

Selection Of Poultry Breed

Choosing Best Type—Depend On Strain And Management

A subscriber who intends start keeping poultry wants to know what is the best breed. The fact is there is no best breed. Ev-erything depends on the strain and the management.
It stands to reason that no matter how good the management is, results cannot be got if the birds are inferior, either in strain or stamina. Healthy birds are ablutely essential at all times and Healthy Birds Essential In purchasing the nucleus of a flock, a visit should be paid to the farm where the stock is being bought and every observation given to the health of the main stock. In selecting a breed, consideraon must be given to the space available. If space is limited, then a light breed will be the most suitable and they will be kept for egg production alone. More space desirable for heavy breeds, which may be kept for the supply of table birds at the same time.
