and Queen History

Duke and Duchess of York visited Canada last week around the Duke who latter be George V also represented at the Quebec Tercentenary.

The present Duke while Prince of Wales in 1919, 1924. These events were history and absorbed through the years as great significance in the country.

The past week through the press and radio we kept in close contact with what will go down in history and precedent in significant present day, and in the future.

For many many years ago the Canadian people are as enthusiastic in impressing their Majesties. The Royal train will start at Cayuga and proceed to Hamilton via Jarvis.

Special Trains Arranged for School Children

West Haldimand Students Will See Royal Couple in Hamilton

JUNE 7 PROCLAIMED HOLIDAY IN COUNTY

Haldimand County school children will have an opportunity to see Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, on the occasion of their visit to the City of Hamilton on June 7th.

Through the efforts of Warden A. F. Head and Inspector J. L. Mitchell, space has been reserved along the route to be followed by the Royal train for the Haldimand contingent of children, who will be given an excellent opportunity to see Their Majesties at close hand.

Two special trains have been arranged by the Canadian National Railway to convey the school children and any others who wish to go to Hamilton on June 7th. Full details of the time of departure and return are not yet available, but it is definitely decided that these two special trains will be available. One of these will start at Cayuga and proceed to Hamilton via Jarvis.

The ROYAL VISIT

By S. J. Dorman, C.W.N.A. Representative on the Press Pilot Train.

First Release Covering the Visit of Their Majesties to Quebec and Montreal

Royal Train, May 13th, 1939.
"Having arrived in Quebec, the historic old city of early Canada, on Sunday afternoon, 14th inst. in order to be present at the conference of accredited press representatives, the train in order that we might leave ahead of the Royal Party, early on Thursday morning.

Enroute from Quebec city to Montreal, it was one long line of cheering citizens, some from miles nearby and some from the towns and cities near, in the larger towns and especially at Three Rivers, the press train received a tumultuous reception and the train bearing Their Majesties and suite. At Three Rivers I estimated the number of crowds of children and people of all ages which I estimated numbered ten thousand, as far as I could see.

Montreal was a scene of grandeur the press party was driven over the route of the procession which was 24 miles in length and teeming with tens of thousands of cheering masses with the buildings simply grand with decorations. I have been told by an official in this city of Montreal that the police department estimated the number of visitors reached 1,250,000 which together with the million and a quarter of a population made the reception a great spectacle.

It was impossible for your representative to accept any of the assignments for Montreal functions as this first story from the Royal train had to be prepared and written in order to catch the dead line set by the general Managing Director, Mr. Clarence V. Charles, it is being written in the Mount Royal Hotel where a battery of typewriters are going and the sound of fifty hands can be heard in the distance.

FLASH—Their Majesties have just passed the window and cheering is simply deafening. I had a look out to see the procession and the King is wearing the uniform of an Admiral of the Fleet while Her Majesty was dressed in pale blue ensemble with white fox epaulets and small pale blue hat with blue velvet draped around crown. (This full description has been supplied me by one of the society writers in the press party).

My impression thus far is one of great pride in the British tradition and all that it represents. I looked on the many face of the King, a young man with a great responsibility upon his shoulders; he is most ably supported by one of the most gracious and really lovely young women I have ever seen. Such hundreds of millions of subjects, their love and devotion to the Throne of the Empire. Such demonstrations of loyalty and affection as I have witnessed in less than two days makes me proud to be numbered among the 500,000,000 people over which His Majesty reigns, and especially to be a Canadian, for this great new land has already demonstrated to the world since yesterday morning, that Canada does behind the British Throne.

Holy writ has been fulfilled very definitely, for in the text, its first Samuel 10: 24, it is written, "And the people shouted and said 'God Save the King'."

ingly enough they are no safer. This remarkable fact was stressed today by J. L. Stewart in voicing the appeal of the Canadian automotive industry for safe driving amid the congestion which is foreseen along the route of the Royal tour.
