LESSON IV THE CITIZENS OF THE KINGDOM.—Matthew 5:1-16 Golden Text.—Even so let your light shine before men; that the may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. Matt. 5:16. THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING Time.-Spring, A.D. 27.

Place.-On an unknown mountain, possibly in Judaea.

The Sermon is undoubtedly the greatest single discourse ever uigreatest single discourse ever uigreatest. ered by any teacher or statesman or philosopher in the whole history of the human race. It is not, however, the sum and substance of Christianity. It reveals, instead, a divine ideal and a perfect standard of conduct.

dard of conduct.

1. And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2. and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying. 3. Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. To be poor in spirit means to be in inmost reality con-scious of need, of dependence on God. Christ begins his portraitur of a citizen of the kingdom with the consciousnes of want and sin. All the rest of the morality of the sermon is founded on this.

4. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Christ refers here to those who feel, who are sensitive to the griefs and joys of others. 5. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Meekness is here given place as the first of the social virtues. It is the grace which opposes patient gentleness to hatred, in jury or antagonism.

Striving for Something Better 6. Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness. for they shall be filled. It is remarkable that it is the hunger and thirst for righteousness, and not the possession of it, that is proced blessed. Such a longing is sure to induce the person who feels it to strive hard for the object of his desire. We ought never to be cotent with our moral and spiritual condition. We must ever have a hunger and a thirst for something better.

7. Blessed are the merciful; for they shall obtain mercy. Mercy is more than meekness. It is really love in exercise to the needy, especially the unworthy. It embraces pity, charitable forbear-ance, and is revealed in acts, in words, in tears. Poverty of spirit, sorrow, hunger after righeousness, bring deep experiences of God's gentle forbearance and bestowing love, and will make us like him proportion as they are real. 8. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Cleanness of mind and sincerity of purpose are implied here. The attitude of the will here is all-important, and is the key to the possession. Only the pure in heart can stand in the inner circle and see God's face.

Peace To A Troubled Soul

9. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God. We might define peace roughly as the effect of God's nearness to an untroubled conscience producing the sense of for-giveness, moral tranquility, of jea-lousy overcome. 10. Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil agains you falsely, for my sake. 12. Reyou falsely, for my sake. 12. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven:
for so persecuted they the prophets that were before you. However great the loss and suffering persecution produces, it is blessed because of the compensation it brings in the purifying and en-richment of the character. It brings out its finest qualities.

Effects of Christian Character 13. Ye are the salt of the earth: wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, bu to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. Salt keeps things from going rotten (especially in climates like Galilee). Jesus' disciples were to be the custodians of moral health, to keep community life from going rancid. 14. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth to all men that are in the house. 16. Even so let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. The value of a light is illumination. The truly Christian life should light up all around it, by showing men what would result if all the world were obedient to the throne of God. It will help people who are groping

Tourist Trade Up As Dollar Drops

Decline in value of the Canadian Decline in value of the Canadian dollar in the United States is un-derstood to have caused a large decrease in Canadian travel to that country, although figures have not been received yet from the Un-ited States immigration author-

But tourists from United States have entered Canada in increas-ingly large numbers. Immigration authorities at Ottawa said last week that while returns are not complete, the influx of American travellers was much greater in July and August as compared with the same period in 1938.

Increased travel from the United States in recent weeks is due not only to the appreciated value of United States money in Canada but to war conditions which prevented many holidaying Americans from going to Europe, immigration officials said.

Wheat Crop Spurs Trade Out West

Buying of Implements and Do-mestic Needs Already Swel-ling

The wealth of Western Canada's 1939 wheat crop has begun to make itself felt in the retail trade centres of the Prairie Provinces A preliminary estimate indicates that the new crop will pour more than $246,000,000 into the pockets of prairie producers. The appraisal based on the last survey which estimated Western Canada's wheat yield at 432,561,000

Farmers Buying Machinery Many farmers who have finished storing their grain or who have completed delivery to country ele-vators and terminals, are turning to towns and cities to replenish their stocks of machinery, clothing and other necessities.

Farm implement and machinery dealers report that while business has not been as brisk as it was last year, sales are picking up and are expected to reach satisfying levels

Mail order houses also are be-nefiting from the promising crop which is filling farm purses all throughout the west. A large mail order firm advises that it has now found it necessary to hire addition al help to cope with the rush of the

Britons Eat Lots Of Canada's Cheese

t Meets Their Requirement of Quality — Canadian Ched-dar Ranks Second in British

Total consumption of cheese all kinds is much higher in the United Kingdom than in most other countries, amounting to an annual average of approximately 425,000,000 pounds. Imports of cheese into the United Kingdom in 1938 totalled 2,928,114 cwts. of which New Zealand supplied 1,639,-486 cwts. and Canada 678,130 cwts. In reporting this to the Department of Trade and Commerce, G. R. Paterson, Acting Canadian Animal Products Trade Commissioner at London states that, "Canadian Cheddar cheese enjoys a premium over other imported cheese of this type. During 1938 the average pre-tory. Home production is indicated to be less than in 1938, and consumption slightly increased, due, it is suggested, to some extent, to the present program of military training. There would seem to be some opoprtunity more well-matured extra quality Canadian Cheddars finding favour with consumers who in the past have demanded high quality home-produced farmhouse Cheddar. Present production of the latter is very limited, and Canadian is the only type capable of taking its place."

SCOUTING

Former world's heavyweigh oxing champion Gene Tunney has been elected to the Executive Board of the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York.

A summer visitor to Canada was Juke Waterman, a Dutch Boy Scout from near Amsterdam, who came across to meet Saskatoon "pen pals" with whom he had been orresponding for some years. -0-

August, all French Boy Scouts over 14 years of age were at the disposal of the French Agricultural Ministry to assist in harvest operations.

When a Boy Scout of Bishop-stope, England, climbed a 60-foot ivy-covered church tower to rescue a cat, he found it impossible t descend with the animal. Parishioners spliced several ladders is order to rescue Scout and cat. Boy Scouts of St. Marys, Ont., during the past summer provided life guards and swimming instructors at the local swimming pool.

First aid was also rendered childred who suffered cuts and bruises on the rough concrete walls. A notice in the local paper advised parents to direct their children, in case of cuts, to report to a Scout for first aid treatment, as a precaution against infection.

A stout bit of backwoods first aid was that performed by Archie Macdonald, a former Patrol Lead-er of the 1st Fort Erie, Ont., Scout Troop, and a companion while prospecting in the rough country north of Timmins. Coming upon another prospector gravely wounded by the accidental discharge of a rifle, Macdonald rendered first aid, improvised a stretcher, and with the help of his companion, bore the wounded man 27 miles through the bush to Timmins Hospital.
