LESSON VI
THE WORKS AND THE WORD OF GOD—Psalm 19

Golden Text — "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock, and my redeemer." Ps. 19:14.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING
Time — Probably written early in David's life, possibly 1050 B.C.
Place — This psalm cannot be identified with any particular location.

This psalm consists of two distinct parts, in which are contrasted God's revelation of himself in nature, and his revelation of himself in his word. It speaks first of his glory as seen in the heavens, and then of his glory as manifested in his law.

WITNESS OF CREATED UNIVERSE
Of the witness of the heavens five things are said: 1. The witness is specific — the heavens do not tell of God's will, grace, mercy, or love; they declare instead of wisdom, power, glory and goodness.

2. The witness is also incessant — in the heavens, the firmament, the stars, the night, 2. The witness is universal — the witness is not confined to the earth, but to the end of the world. 3. The witness is glorious — the sun is represented as a bridegroom, full of joy, and as a runner full of strength.

Psalm 19:
1. The heavens declare the glory of God;
And the firmament sheweth his handiwork.

2. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3. There is no speech nor language, their voice is not heard.

4. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their voice unto the end of the world.

5. In them has he set a tabernacle for the sun, which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.

6. His going forth is from the end of the heavens, and his circuit unto the ends of the earth: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7. The sun is as a person girded with solar spectra or stellar distances, but he heard a voice from out of the east waste heavens which had sounded to him as if it named God.

8. The sun is as a person girded with solar spectra or stellar distances, but he heard a voice from out of the east waste heavens which had sounded to him as if it named God.

9. The sun is as a person girded with solar spectra or stellar distances, but he heard a voice from out of the east waste heavens which had sounded to him as if it named God.

10. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold. Bible truth is enriching to the soul to the highest degree. Sweeter also than honey and the droppings of the honeycomb. The allusion is to honey that drops from the comb, which is therefore the purest. And moreover by them is thy servant warned. Through God's word man's duty is made plain and the consequences plain. In keeping them there is great reward.

A PRAYER
Through the first eleven verses of this chapter, God has been speaking to the psalmist; it is perfectly natural, then, that after God has thus graciously spoken to man, man should in return address God. The Scriptures are God's word to us; prayer is our word to God. The psalmist's heart here goes out in petition and thanksgiving to God. It is who can discern his errors? And clear them from hidden faults. The psalmist frequently acknowledged his known sins to God, and is cleansed of them by God's grace; but here he asks that he might also be cleansed and cleared from the sins of which he is not conscious.

13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; and from conceitings sins; and from all ungodly doings: lest I become a rebuke, and I should be despised.

Paper Company Donates Plane

When a new Cub "65" training plane, the fastest of its type yet produced in Canada, was donated by the Ontario Paper Co., of Toronto to the St. Catharines Flying Club, it boosted the ability of that club to train student pilots for the Royal Canadian Air Force. The plane was made available to the club by A. Schmon, president of the Canadian Flying Club's association, and holder of the McKee trophy for the most distinguished contribution to Canadian aviation in 1939, and Lloyd Stahl, president of the St. Catharines club, LEFT and RIGHT above. The plane was presented by A. Schmon, president and manager of the company, CENTRE ABOVE. The presentation was watched by young air force student pilots.

PATRIOTIC MUSIC EVIDENT
Dress and hats are red, white and blue — men sport their veterans' buttons proudly in their lapels, and concert orchestras insert patriotic tunes in their programs — which invariably close with the National Anthem that is played around the world.

"We've been noticing the growth of this feeling, and it means it is quite apparent that it isn't just a case of waving the flag, it's deeper — deeper in the hearts of all Canadians. Day by day, week by week, with our really realizing it, into the everyday life of Canada has crept a spontaneous expression of love for our country and freedom."

It's a sound consciousness in times like these.

And speaking of things patriotic — don't miss the CBC program "Britain Speaks," heard each night at 11.15. In this voice of Empire features, J. B. Priestley and other outstanding men in our great commonwealth of nations report on the day's activities — it is something everyone should hear.

In this part of Ontario "Britain Speaks" can be heard from CBI, CKOC, CBO or CKY.

Let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be clear from great transgression.

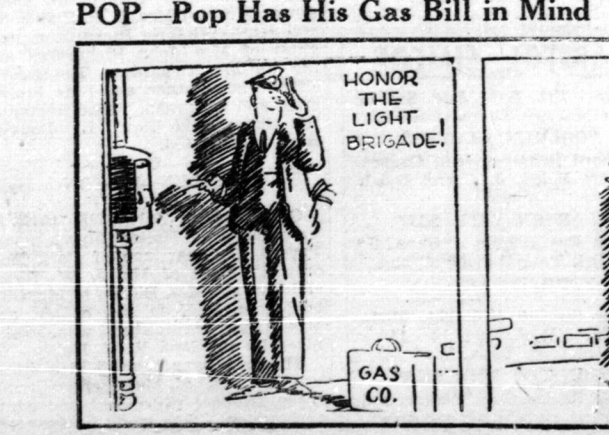

"Presumptuous" sins are sins men commit in spite of their consciences, perhaps at the height of some emotional experience.

14. Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Jehovah, my rock, and my redeemer.

He best loves the law of Jehovah who lets it teach him his sin, and send him to his knees; he best appreciates the glories of the silent heavens who knows that their witness to God is but the prelude of the deeper music of the Scriptures' declaration of the hear and will of Jehovah, and who grasps him as his strength and his redeemer from all evil, whether evil of sin or evil of sorrow.

Saving Ontario's Natural Resources

By G. C. TONER (No. 2)

About 150 years ago the first settlement of this country began. Before that time the prairie forests were undisturbed, except by the wandering tribes of native Indians. Even to a modern observer the land would have seemed inexhaustibly rich in its natural resources. We know from early fur-traders, birds and fish swarms in countless numbers. Yet, six generations only have looted and spoiled a heritage that should have been continually self-replenishing.

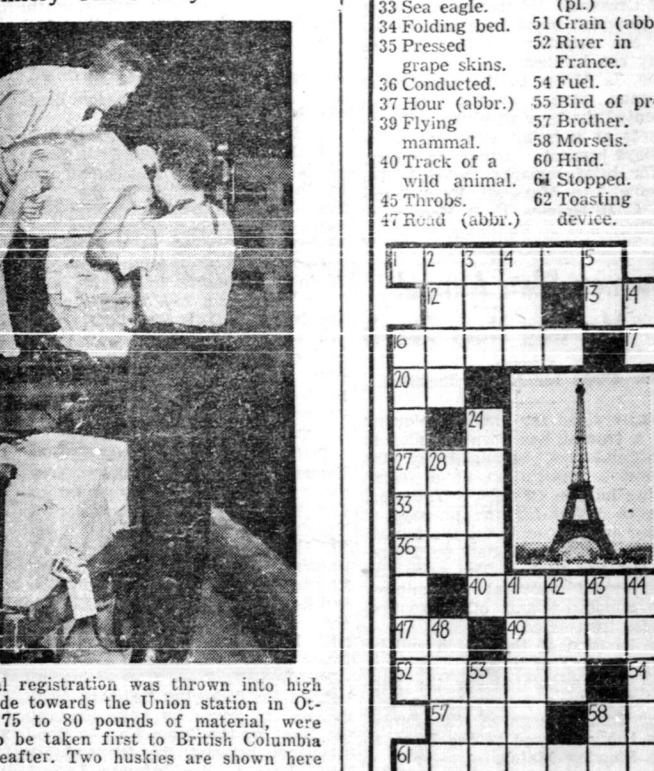

Uncontrolled Exploitation
Let us look at the record! Sturgeon were native to all the Great Lakes and to many of the inland waters. In the early days gauded as a nuisance, the fishermen had no market for them. Later, by 1870, they became saleable and in 1885, Lake Erie produced 4,500,000 pounds of sturgeon for the markets. Here, as elsewhere, over-exploitation took place so that between the years 1909 and 1934 the average production for this lake was 15,000 pounds. There was a decrease in the catch of 99.2% in 45 years. Atlantic salmon, an economically important fish, is commercially extinct and it will take many years to restore the fishery if it can be done at all.

Salmon Spawning in Lake Ontario
Along the north shore of Lake Ontario are a number of small, rapid rivers. Ninety years ago the Atlantic salmon, at certain times of the year, ran into these creeks and spawned on the gravel bars. Farmers and townspeople caught them by the wagon load while they were on the spawning grounds. Farms were paid for them by the Ontario government.
