LESSON VIII STEWARDS IN THE KINGDOM

Matthew 24, 25 Printed Text, Matt. 25:14-27 Golden Text: - "Well done, good and faithful servant." Matt. 25:21 THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING Time — Tuesday of Passion Week, A.D. 30.

Place — The Mount of Olives.
This lesson gives us a new conception of the infinite wisdom and knowledge possessed by Christ concerning the future. His prophecies have been fulfilled, and are being fulfilled throughout the age. The one fundamental theme running ail through the Olivet discourse is the coming of the Son of man, as indicated by the recurrence of such phrases as "the sign of thy com-

The questions asked by the disciples in this chapter have troubled the minds of men in every age. Jesus made a prophetic pronounceconcerning the characteristics of four different spheres during the long period between his departure and his return. Nothing has taken place during nineteen hundred years in these four spheres to contradict in any way the startling statements of the Lord. He predicted that "the end of the age" would be a time of disillusionment, of expectancy, of confusion in the minds of men, when multitudes would be looking for deliverance. PARABLE OF THE TALENTS Matt. 25:14. For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. 15. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his several ability; and he went on his journey. 16. Straightaway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. 17. In like manner he also that received the two gained other two. 18. But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. 19. Now after a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and maketh reckening with them. 20. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. 21. His lord said unto him, well done, good and faithful servant: thou has been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the y of thy lord. . And he also ived the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. 23. His ord said unto him, well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over any things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 24. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I (Australia, Canada). man, . .... where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou did not scatter; 25, and I was afraid, and went away and hid my talent in the carety. in the earth; lo, thou hast thine own, 26. Canadians On The Ice In Battle Dress

The Canadian Expeditionary Force hockey team, which has been formed by Canadian soldiers now training in England, were so rushed for time when they visited Empress Hall for a workout that they took to the ice in battle dress. Here one of the Canadians is "on the run" with a young figure skater as a partner.

No matter how many books she has read or speeches she has listened to on how to be charming. no woman ever will be until she has a truly kind and understanding attitude toward the people she knows and those she meets. The only kind of charm worth bothering with springs straight from the heart. You can't strike an attitude of charm and be con-

The Really Charming Woman Nor can real charm be turned off and on to suit the occasion or your particular mood, asserts Alicia Hart, beauty columnist. If you are a charming person, you are a kind person and, with rare exceptions, you are kind all the time. The really charming woman can no more help being kind than the woman without charm can help being cruel in little ways and sometimes in big ones.

Kindness, and therefore charm. come with understanding of the short-comings of human nature. And it's as great a mistake to see only the good side as it is to see only the bad. By all means see the good. But see the bad, too. And, instead of condemning, try to understand the why's and wherefore's

Few of the British Public Are Continuing to Take Precautions, Observer Notes

One of the most alarming side lights of the war is the stubborn refusal of the citizenry of Great Britain to stay gas mask-minded, says an observer don, most people are going to be caught without protection.

A survey of the principal London treets showed that only about one man in six carries a mask. You just couldn't tell about the women.
MAY CONTAIN ANYTHING

The snooper is constantly thrown off the scent by the females because they tend to use a combined handbag and carrier. Worse still, it's never certain that the official square box, snakeskin case, or paer bag does really contain a mask. A. R. P. wardens report that often there's nothing in it but sandwiches, lipstick and a library book.

QUEEN CARRIES MASK Sometimes newspaper photographs show that even the King's mask is not always in evidence. But his heavy service mask is often carried by a member of the entourage or is parked within easy reach in an official automobile. Queen Elizabeth is never seen without her beige corduroy sack slung over the left shoulder.

World Cotton Output Lower

1938-9 Production Declines From Two Previous Seasons

The world did not produce nearso much cotton in the 1938-39 season as in either of the two seasons immediately previous, and i did not consume nearly so much as in the season second previous ccording to a review of the 1938-39 season contained in the twelfth Cotton Year Book of the New York Cotton Exchange just issued. U. S. GREW LESS

Production of cotton by the entire world in the season of 1938-39 was roughly 25 per cent. less than in the previous season. World production dropped from 36,784,000 to 27,407,000 bales, a decrease of 0.377-000 bales. The greater portion of this decrease occurred in the Unit-ed States, and was due partly to a eduction in acreage and partly a lower average yield per acre. Abroad, smaller production was reported by China, India and also Egypt.

Decoy Is Used To Rescue Dog

Patrolman Allen Chester of Ton-awanda, N.Y., believes he has a "sure-fire" method of rescuing icemarooned dogs—simply send another one out on the ice.

Unable to find means of transportation to reach a puppy strug-gling aimlessly in Niagara River last week, Chester attached a rope to another dog, then waved the animal out on the ice. The decoy dog's appearance aroused the endangered puppy, which promptly struggled to firm ice. As Chester pulled the decoy toward shore, the puppy followed, barely er where I did not scatter; 27. thou oughtest to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. In this famous arable of the talents which might really be called "the parable of the lord and his servants," we should remember that a talent in those days was the equivalent of about twelve thousand dollars. The re-ward in the case of the man with five talents committed to him and in the case of the man with two is exactly the same. The reward of service is apportioned according to fidelity to opportunity. In the case of the nfaithful servant, first is life was exposed; secondly, his talent was recalled; thirdly and finally he himself was cast out. The goods of the absent Lord are his velation of God and of man, his provision for man's great need; his perpetual call; his mediation; his
