LESSON II
THE PROBLEM OF FORGIVENESS
Matthew 18:15-19:30

Golden Text — "Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors." Matt. 6:12.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING
Time — The teaching recorded in chapter 18 was given in the autumn of A.D. 29. All that is recorded in chapter 19 occurred in February and March of the following year, A.D. 30.

Place — All the teaching here recorded in chapter 18 was given in Capernaum. The nineteenth chapter opens in Galilee, but the events of the rest of the chapter are in Perea.

The Law of Forgiveness
21. Then came Peter and said unto him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? until seven times? Peter's query indicated that he still regarded forgiveness as something outward and quantitative rather than something inward and spiritual.

22. Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until seventy times seven. Jesus clearly means unlimited forgiveness here. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, who would make a reckoning with his servants. This is the first of the parables in which God appears as king. We are the servants with whom he takes account.

23. And when he had begun to reckon, one of them came in, who owed him ten thousand talents. (A talent was about a thousand dollars.) But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

24. The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 25. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

26. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence. The extent of the lord's compassion is here indirectly compared with the vastness of God's forgiveness of sinners.

Towards One's Inferior
27. But that servant went, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

28. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 29. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

30. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

31. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 32. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

33. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

34. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 35. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

36. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

37. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 38. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

39. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

40. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 41. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

42. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

43. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 44. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

45. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

46. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 47. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

48. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

"Hunchbacks" of Finland Terrify Russian Troops

Carrying their knapsacks under the white coveralls that make them almost indistinguishable from the surrounding snow, these hardy Finnish ski troops look like hunchbacks as they glide to their front-line posts on the Karelian front. These men have been the terror of the Soviet invaders, swooping down on ice-wreaths, leaving confusion, terror and death in their wake.

lunge, and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. ("Hunchback" amounts to about 17c or about ten times that much in comparative value today.) According to Roman law a creditor was allowed to drag the debtor by the throat before the tribunal. The harsh form in which he demanded payment demanded his attention. His address to the fellow servant implied his own condemnation. 29. So his fellow-servant fell down and worshipped him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 30. And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. Such a man, so harsh and hard, when he walks otherwise than in a constant state of forgiveness received from God, ignorance or forgetfulness of his own guilt makes him unloving and cruel with others.

The Wicked Servant Condemned
31. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceedingly sorry, and came and stood before his lord, and said, Spare him, for he is our fellow-servant. 32. But he said, I forgive thee, because thou wast merciful; but this fellow-servant was not merciful; shall I also be merciful to him? 33. And his lord was angry, and said, I will have thee all. 34. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 35. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

36. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

37. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 38. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

39. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

40. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 41. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

42. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

43. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 44. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

45. The servant therefore went out, and found one of his fellow-servants who owed him a hundred pence.

46. And he laid hands on him, and took him, and said, I will have thee all. 47. And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

Ontario Village Shows Surplus

Things are getting better and better in the village of Rockcliffe Park, near Ottawa.

The annual report of the council showed an actual excess of receipts over expenditure of $28,268 for the fiscal year 1939. The excess for 1938 was $5,513.

Receipts this year were $140,792 and expenditures $112,524.

There were no cases of unemployment relief and during the year population increased 25 to 1,302.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THERE ARE NO ICEBERGS IN THE NORTHERN PACIFIC OCEAN.

IN SERBIA, THE COMMON CURE FOR HEADACHES IS A CRUSHED ONION MASSAGED ON THE FOREHEAD.

THE 7,008 ISLANDS COMPOSING THE PHILIPPINES HAVE A TOTAL AREA NO GREATER THAN THE STATE OF ARIZONA.

SINCE the organization of the ice patrol, after the sinking of the Titanic, in 1912, not a single fatality has resulted from icebergs in the area of 150,000 square miles of the North Atlantic is patrolled throughout the berg season.

What Science is Doing

SOLID WATER — NOT ICE
"Solid" or vitrified water is produced by science by an ingenious arrangement of two steel plungers, a child's toy pistol and a medicine dropper. This device produces a solid form of water which has a temperature of 200 degrees below zero.

The solid water is not ice, but a form which does not exist in nature. It has none of the crystalline structure or other features of frozen water. It retains all the crystal pure transparent qualities of water, yet is about as hard as steel.

ORIGIN OF CELLULOSE
The discovery of how plants manufacture cellulose, the major part of their structure, has just been made.

The finding shows that the cellulose is manufactured in a round living factory so tiny that when magnified 4,000 times it is no bigger than a 25-cent piece. This microscopical factory floats about in the living protoplasm inside the cells of plant tissues. The discoverer is a woman scientist Dr. Wanda K. Farr. Her discovery is a step toward artificial creation of this very great raw material by machines and chemical reactions.

MORMONS GROW ON VITAMINS
Most disease germs, like human beings, need vitamins to grow and keep "healthy," scientists now believe.

Some disease germs, it is found, can manufacture all but one or two of the vitamins or the parts of the enzyme they need, but are unable to multiply or grow effectively unless these all-important substances are given to them.

Denmark can claim the senior national flag as their Royal Standard, the oldest national flag in existence.

Maple Leafs' Brilliant Centre Temporarily Out of Running

All taped up and scheduled to do none of his twirling and whirling over National league ice surfaces for a month or more is Syl Apps, brilliant centre with Toronto Maple Leafs, who sustained a fractured collarbone in the Christmas night game with Rangers. At the time of his injury he was second in the scoring race and Toronto's Davidson-Apps-Drilling line was leading the league in effectiveness.

How Can I?

Q. How can I prevent fish from sticking to the pan while frying?

A. Put a teaspoonful of salt into the pan and rub thoroughly with wet paper.

Q. How can I make a good pan holder?

A. Instead of making pan holders in the usual way, why not make them in the form of thick pockets? The hands will then be thoroughly protected against the hot vessel and the steam.

Q. How can I cream butter more quickly?

A. Heat the mixing bowl with scalding water. Wipe, and put in the butter. It will cream much more quickly than when mixed in a cold bowl.
