"The House of Quiet" and "The Thread of Gold" introduced us to a type of literature from which we have derived continual pleasure and profit. When you are tired of trying to solve the problems of the universe with the scientists, philosophers and theologians, when you are weary of attempting to understand the international situation and in despair of ever finding your way through the political and social maze; when the novelists and the critics cease to charm by a literary sedative. They are a select company — these entertaining gossipers. Kilvert is the latest addition to the company and he will by

In 1937 the Chief found ary to open the public door night lodging to more than light lodging to more than logging to more solve inights of the road. This figure dropped to 446 in 1938, and during the past year it is down to 380. All of which is indicative of better times generally.

Another fact contained in the Chiefs report was that during the year he found the doors of Twentytwe places of business left unlocked and as well on two occasions gas runna were left unlocked. All of which will give the public some sense of appreciation regarding the cost of police protection during the year.

The Church Times of England in-timates that the Lambeth Conference for 1940 has been practically declared off until the war is over. Punch has recently published a cartoon with the title "John Bull's War Aims." It represents a particularly ghastly looking gorilla holding in his grasp "Freedom" in the form of a helpless female, while a British Tommy is taking aim at the brute with his riffe.
