Weed Week

Weed Week Proclaimed

Now is the time to effectively control many of the harmful and troublesome weeds. The weed problem is even more important during war time and every patriotic citizen of Haidimand county is called upon by the Warden of the county to get behind the weed campaign and do every thing possible to destroy these "fifth column" enemies of our crops. It has been claimed that noxious weeds gained a foothold in Ontario during the Great War, 1914-18, and they have increased rapidly in the years immediately following. This has been responisble for the loss of millions of dollars annually to the farmeers of the province.

Crop production is of vital importance in the present conflict and the Department of Agriculture is determined that a similar situation shall not the process of the province.

an aggressive campaign of weed control. Weed control can be looked at from at least three angles.

First, from a tourist view point. It is estimated that the tourist bus inness of Ontario now amounts to $100,000,000 a year. If a municipality is marred by unsightly growth of weeds, visitors get a bad impression and usually move as quickly as possible. A clean, attractive municipality will be an inducement for tourists to stop with you and return with their friends.

Second, from an agricultural point of view. There is nothing so discouraging for a taxpayer or a farmer to be living near an area where weeds are neglected. When weeds and weed seeds become a menace to adjacent property, weed control becomes a public problem.

Third, from a health view point. Ragweed is responsible for 70 per cent of the hay fever cases in the province. Poison Ivy has ruined many a holiday.
