Lightning Bolts Debunk Adage

Struck Twice in Same Place Near Campbellford, Ont., All Within Five Minutes

Michael Moran is not so sure now about that adage which says that lightning never strikes twice the same place.

During a violent electrical storm in June, Moran's home on the Brighton road, near Campbellford, Ontario, was struck twice within five minutes. One bolt followed an aerial wire and ruined a radio set and the other took the Hydro wires and blew a fuse in the house. No fire resulted however. The storm was so severe that 12 ephone poles were blown down in the district, disrupting service in

The Book Shelf

MINE INHERITANCE By Frederick Niven

Frederick Niven, in the from rank of contemporary writers, tells in his new novel, "Mine Inher!tance", the story of the first important British settlement in the Canadian West - on epic in the history of Canada.

From the first days of this ven ture, when the settlers put out from Scotland under the leadership of their governor, Miles Macdonell, to the final achievement, after unspeakable hardship, of their great ambition - "to establish them selves in a part of the world where they could own their land, from which they could never be evicted, that would be an inheritance for their children" — the story is told of David Baxter, a young clerk in the service of Miles Macdonell. Through his eyes we see the ter-rible struggle for existence that confronted the settlers.

Mine Inheritance" . . . by Frederick Niven . . . Toronto: Collins Publishers, 70 Bond St., . . . $2.75.

Character First, Then Education

vantages of University Education Are Secondary Reguirement In Young Citizens

Character comes first, cation second, Magistrate David M. Brodie, of Windsor, told members of the graduating class of the extension department of the University of Western On-tario of Windsor.

"The young man or woman who would fill a leading place in life needs more than the advantages of a university edudeclared the Windsor magistrate "I suggest to you character is the foundation of any career you may choose follow if you would be suc-

Guest speaker at the banquet which was attended by nearly including many alumni of extension department, Mag-te Brodie declared his experience on the bench has taught him that the young person who ments of those who point the easy way" is most likely to make a success of life. have learned that the things which come easy to young people are not always good for them," he warned, regood for them," he warned, re-calling that many of those born to good fortune and ready fac-lities for a high education often fail A weak character, he said, is a greater handicap than a lack of education.

Vancouver Air Traffic Grows

Airport There Has Become One of the Business Commercial Terminals in Canada

As western anchor of Trans-Canada Airlines, the Vancouver airport experienced a rapid rise from an ent-of-the-way landing field to one of the busiest commercial terminthree months of this year, airplanes earried 69,008 pounds of mail, 14,-$27 pounds of freight, and 4.607 engers into the airport, a combined land and water base not far from the City's center. This was an increase of 54 per cent, in mail. 179 per cent in freight, and 148 per cent. in passengers.

Canada Airlines national service had much to do with the growth. Only a few barnstorming pilots were the customers when the City went in for airport development a few years ago. United Airlines put It on the map by making a side trip from its transcontinental terminal t Seattle. Nowadays, an airline takes off for some distance point of the continent, or lands from one, every 81 minutes between early dawn and well into the night.

Vacation Delights In the Canadian Rockies

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Stanfield, of Truro, N. S., vacationing in the Canadian Rockies, are seen in the corral at Banff Springs Hotel just after their return on horse-back from a visit to Sunshine Lodge. Gulde who accompanied them is on the left of picture.

—Canadian Pacific Photo.

THE WAR-WEEK-Commentary on Current Events

Latest Soviet Move Blocks Hitler's Pathway To East

many. These were all categorically denied, former Prime Minister

Chamberlain even going to the to refute them. Nevertheless there were powerful forces at work in Britain anxious to remove all the "men of Munich" from public life, at any was under way to make sure that there are no "appeasers" in the Cabinet waiting to seize power as Petain did in France and conclude an ignominious peace with the enemy. Peter Lyne, Christian Science Monitor correspondent in London, quoted Lord Strabolgi, prom-inent debater in the House of Lords: "Unfortunately the past of these two statesmen (Chamberlain and Halifax) is so identified with the appeasement policy that, so ong as they are in the Inner War

Cabinet, the German propagandists will find credence for their Alternating with talk of peace with Britain, came Nazi press reports that the drive against England was almost ready. "The joint forces of Germany and Italy are uniting for the final attacks," declared the Boersen Zeitung. "The Atlantic coast from Brittany to Norway is being organized into an aggressive front against England.

Every category of arms is ready.

The Reich's military resources are being reinforced daily and army, navy and air force are being concentrated to an extent never before

R.A.F. TAKES INITIATIVE

fairy tales about Britain suing for an armistice."

witnessed."

trouble of making a radio speech

The centre of crisis in Europe ast week shifted overnight from west to east. The imminent invasion of Britain by Hitler's hordes was relegated to the background of the world's attention by the swift-moving events in the Balkans that changed the shape of the conflict between Britain and Germany, endowing it with an entirely new se of possibilities. To many, the Sov success in Rumania meant that would be in the east that Hitler might meet his final defeat THE VITAL STRAITS

The small agricultural province of Bessarabia was seen as of little importance to the immense Soviet Union. Rather the significance of its seizure lay in the strategic new position Russia was enabled to acquire thereby - the Reds were now encamped along the vital Danube, right in line for cutting off Ger nany's Rumanian oll supply; they had stolen a march on Hitler in the firection of the Dardanelles, and could easily gain control of those straits which are the key to the

MIGHT BEAT HITLER TO IT From a certain well-informed quarter in Washington came the prediction that the war would shift eastward in September with a headon clash between Germany and Russia. Would Britain first be blitzkrieged? Or would Hitler spare the British Isles in view of the new threat in the east? Did Stalin expect to be the next Axis victim? If so, might he not be getting ready now to attack first, catching Germany at an unprepared moment exhausted from battle in the west Fear of the conflict spreading all throughout the entire Balkan area mercilessly and effectively."

OUST "MUNICH MEN"!

tions between Britain and Ger

Britain seized the initiative during the week with sea and air raids on German continental coastal baswas largely discounted last week es, and German-occupied industrial Russia had Bulgaria and Yugoslav areas in France, Belgium and Holis pretty well in hand. Greece was land. Information leaking out of Germany indicated the R.A.F. atfrightened. Hungary was being held back by German desire to keep tacks were taking their toll of inthat country at peace and in a posdustrial production, with many facition to supply all the agricultural tories being forced to abandon the products likely to be needed this night shifts. At the same time, fall and winter in the Reich. German planes flew daily over the GIBRALTAR MENACED British Isles, dropping a deadly On the other hand, an Axis pusi load of bombs. in the Spanish peninsula was not altogether unlooked-for. London Watch Ireland, warned the London News-Chronicle. This widelydiplomatic commentators suggested read Liberal paper demanded that that Hitler might send troops the Government forestall possible Spain to attack Gibraltar in an at-German plans for invasion of Iretempt to cut British communic land (hence striking at Britain tions into the Mediterranean. They through the back door) by providexpressed the belief that the fall ing "sufficient" forces in Northern of France and the German occupation of the French side of the Span ish frontier had completely swung Great Britain was worried about the Far Eastern situation, as the General Franco over to the side of Germany and Italy. The Madrid Japanese land blockade tightened around Hong Kong. The Japanese newspaper Alcazar hinted at a pos Army was reported moving troops sible Spanish attempt to seize Gib down from the Yangtze area, with raltar. "The rock has lost almost 100,000 already billeted on Hainan all its strategic value," the paper Island. The French Indo-Chinese de contended, "From the Moroccan fense, 50,000 mostly native troops coast or from the nearby mount almost entirely unsupported by air-planes, would probably not last ains, Gibraltar could be shelled long against the Japs without help from British Singapore. During the week wild rumors went the rounds of peace negotia

WHITE MAN ON SPOT "To Japanese militarists, occupation of French Indo-China was a delightful prospect. It would shorten both the long faces of discour aged civilians at home and the China campaign — by cutting China-Kai-shek's chief supply ines. If and when the United States fleet were shifted from the Pacific to the Atlantic, Japan could begin her long-planned campaign to drive the white man from all Asia."

("Time", July 1st.). INDIA: Mohandas K. Gandhi emerged from silence last week with an appeal to all Britons to cease hostilities with Germany, urging that they settle their differences with "non-violent methods." The leader of the millions of India urged Britain not to enter "undignit competition with the Nazis in desructive power." Gandhi said he was placing his services at the comnand of His Majesty's Governmen to "advance the object" of his ap-peal. The day previous, Gandhi's Leftist rival, Subhas Chandra Bose, had been arrested under Defence of India Regulations.

JEALOUSY? ITALY: Marshal Rodolfo Grazfani, chief of staff of the Italian army, took command last week of all Italian forces in Libya, which formerly had been commanded by the late Italo Balbo. Balbo three days previously had met his death in an air crash under peculiar cir-cumstances. The British Foreign Office news department suggested that Balbo was deliberately killed because he clashed with Mussolini personally as well as over the dictator's policy of tying to Germany. Might not Graziani also have been ealous of Balbo?

U.S. PLACES NEW EMBARGO UNITED STATES: Two very imortant moves were made by Pres ient Roosevelt last week. First he invoked the power to seize foreign-owned shipping. Second, (serious for Britain), he placed a virtual embargo on the sale to foreign countries of any munitions, materials or machinery needed in the U.S. national defense program. Fear of a Nazi revolution in Mex ico immediately following this week's election continued to pervade the U. S. Fear of German ec onomic domination of South Amer ica through barter prompted the loan of $20,000,000 to Argentina for purchases to be made in the United In the field of domestic polit the nomination of Wendell L. Will kie as Republican Presidential candidate overshadowed all else; confirmation of the appointment of Henry L. Stimson, Republican, to the vital post of U. S. War Secretary, took place with little or no CANADA: Succeeding boats during the week landed very different cargoes on our shores. The first Nazi war prisoners arrived in Canada for internment here, "sulky, swaggering louts" . . . Frau Dollfuss and her two children debarked from the next ship amid a crowd of wealthy refugees from the United Kingdom . . . Two people the boats did not bring were the Princesses Elizabeth and Mar-garet Rose "who will share the fate of other British children" remaining at home . . . the full influx of evacuee children from the United Kingdom was reported delayed several weeks due to a mixup in red tape . . . which gave Canadian homes and foster-parents longer to prepare for the reception of new members into the family . . .

The Western wheat problem moved into the limelight again as the prairie farmers began to wonder what would become of the good crops they expect this year. Eleva-tors were still full of last year's wheat . . . and nowhere to dispose find ourselves trading again with Hitler, who needs the grain badly . . In Ontario a serious shortage of farm labor was beginning to b felt, since so many former "hired men" had joined the army . . . The Federal Cabinet changes forecast for the week did not materialize, although a Wartime Industries Control Board was established, with sweeping powers to mobilize the industries of this country for war purposes . . . announce ment was made that Britain would build 35 plants here, at a cost of $50,000,000, to turn out explosives, guns, shells and small arms am munition - total output to reach a quarter of a billion dollars an nually ... Conservative M. P.'s and C.C.F. leaders in the House assailed Henry Ford for refusing to manufacture plane motors for Britain during the week a new trade treaty was signed with Paraguay, a increased trade opportunities to the south of us since the otubreak of war in Europe . . . A tragic event of the week was the sinking of the Canadian destroyer Fraser following a collision off the west coast of France; fortyfive were dead or missing, 115 rescued . . . Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, in bad shape, rested in Battle Creek Sanitarium across the bortalls of a new unified pres for radio stations in Canada wer being worked out, the system to be on a co-operative basis with CBC and the recognized news encies working together. For present, the existing news age their broadcasts as in the past, but the day of sponsored newscasts to

Firestone CHAMPIONTIRES

WITH this great record record of achievement, no longer can there be any question of which tire is safest. One tire-and only one-has the exclusive safety features demanded by race drivers - Firestone - the tire that has been tested on the speedway for your safety on the highway! Have the nearest Firestone dealer put Firestone Champion tires on your car now. Specify Firestone when buying your new car.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Nemer

"I know his sort-always drops in at meal time!!

REG'LAR FELLERS-Self-Preservation

The Perfect Thirst Quencher

ICED TEA

Lost Kingdom

grew in them. They could enjoy for it, they knew.

his pocket.

OREN ARNOLD

some sleep, but this was no time

. . .

Bob Barry-Dr. Robert Wilson

Barry, PhD., now-was studying thought himself of another funda-took his shiny gold watch from

With some show of pomp, he held it out and walked to the man who had ordered their food.

The brown man accepted it, evi-

Instanly the visitors were for gotten while the natives gathered

"They don't even know what watch is, Bob! Look." Mary Me lissa whispered, intensely inter ested. "Have they never even Suddenly one of them discovered the ticking, laughed and talked excitedly in announcing it dently with high pleasure.

around the shining gift.

seen a watch before?"

mental in human nature, and so the situation intently. He be

MELISSA LANE - heroine Barry's partner, HONEY BEE GIRL - Indian member of Barry's party.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

ROBERT BARRY -- hero, es

Last week: At the end of their endurance, Bob and Melissa are rescued by a strange, brown little people. They start downward in CHAPTER XVII They had no idea where they were going. They were just walkng, under escort.

"This is going to make a good story, if we ever get back to tell " 'Lissa ventured at last.
Bob smiled through his bewilerment. "I'll say!" "We're going down all the time, Bob."

"Up and down both. I can't esmate how much. But if we suddenly come onto the devil himself I won't be surprised." "I'll never be surprised at any-hing again! Know what I'm thinking, dear?"

"No 'Lissa. What?"
"About New York. And life there. I used to be so bored with Nothing ever happened! That's why I answered your advertise

The brown men watched then carefully, spoke frequently to each other, showed them a fairly smooth path. Bob held Mary Meissa's arm all the while, to aid answered it?" He looked at he She was even more lovely than had imagined her to be, when they had kissed there in the dark ness. At least he told her so; actually she was sadly tousled and unkempt not to mention her weariness. "No," she declared, smiling, "I'll never be sorry."

Another Tribe walk wasn't very long. With that sudden surprise which a train emerges from a tunstrange party turned ar angle in the cave and blinked at daylight. Near the exit they saw other things, too; mostly grea askets and jars, and some stacks f animal skins. The area seemed be a kind of storehouse. Bob's mounted rapidly.

"We've surely stumbled onto another tribe of Indians," said he, "and lucky for us. They're some tribe strange to me, but probably a few of them speak nglish. We'll come around here gain and investigate. I thought knew all about this border coun-thead with the news of the white ouple, for as they emerged from ne cave, blinking and squinting, they saw some dozens of men, women and children hastening tovard them. They, too, were all Bob and Mary Melissa instant-y noted the complete absence of any evidence of "civilization." In possessions, manners, even speech, these people were some-thing from another century, from omewhere back in the middle ages as man reckons time.

"Do any of you speak Eng-lish?" Bob called. Evidently no one did. All stopped talking, and stared. He tried

"We are hungry. Please give food, and water." He pointed his mouth, and to Mary Me-

They understood that. At least ne dignified elderly man did, H poke a few words as if in com and and two women hastened away. Shortly they were back earthern bowls, both water and food. The food was a thick not gruel of corn meal, with some leces of meat. The hungry pair e again, gratefully, and strength

Quints, Chief Drawing Card

> Tourist Attraction of Northern Ontario

Callander is one of the focal points of world interest today aside from the war. In this North ern Ontario village is being conducted an experiment in child welfare and psychology which is being watched with the closest at tention, not only by the medical profession but by the public at large, on practically every continent; for it is the birthplace of those remarkable Dionne Quintuplets — Yvonne, Annette, Ce-cile, Emilie and Marie, who since their birth on May 28, 1934, have become the most famous babies known to modern history, and wards of the Ontario Government.

Each year thousands are drawn Callander and the Dafoe Hospital, their home, which was named in honor of Dr. Allan Roy Dafce, to whose skill and care they survived and grew into a healthy, normal childhood.

FINE HOSPITAL This hospital is modern in every way and, in miniature, is the equal of the large institutions of its kind in great cities. An excellent supervised outdoor playground adjoins the hospital, which stands within its own grounds. The Dafoe Hospital was built by the Ontario Red Cross Division. Organizations and corporations, located in Canada and the United States have offered every co-operation, and thus the children are growing up under ideal conditions. Health permit-ting, they may be viewed each

First Canadian Nurses Overseas Greet England With A Cheer

Among the first Canadian nursing sisters to go overseas, t rs who have arrived in England from this country.

listen then, as if they were so many children. In time, though, they looked querulously at Bob;

The young scientist pointed at the sun, and at the watch. With extended arm, he swept in an arc from horizon to horizon, then with his finger he indicated the motion of the hour hand. He held

As if by royal command, then a murmur of awe swept through the brown audience. The leader spoke a short sentence of two, and the entire assembly lifted both hands—held them high as if in worship or salute. Silence reign ed, while Bob Barry's jaw fell.

He and 'Lissa stared in fresh surprise at this phenomenon. Nearly a hundred people had sud-denly saluted a watch. The attitude was undeniably one of re-

"Lower the watch-lower Bob," whispered 'Lissa. He had unconsciously kept it held high,

Not A Word of English

He got the point. When he lowered the trinket, and with great show of deference gave it back to the brown leader, the people dropped their arms and began talking again.

"Imagine that!" Bob murmured. "But it makes sense, by George it does, 'Lissa! These people are sun worshippers. See?

It's a common thing. Most of the aborigines in this country were. All strength comes from the sun, all good things, all of life. Even the Hopi Indians, and the Navajo home is always built with the door facing east, to catch of 1939.

spect, of reverence even.

to reflect the sun.

up the watch and the yellow gold he stepped forward and took the watch again.

Sun-Worshippers

give a hearty cheer on their arrival at an undisclosed British port. They are among the 129 nursing to the others. Everyone had to the sunrise light. Many Indian Fashion Flashes

"Yes!" she replied. "And Box

—you told them that the watch was a sun, a little sun. See?"

done so, it was a lucky move, he told her. What more likely to impress the simple folk, than to be messengers bearing a "little

They looked then to study the countryside. It was typical of the Mexican border country, as to mountains and cliffs, but imme diately before them lay a valley that was cultivated and green. It was not large, maybe a thousand acres. There was but one village.

Houses were built of stone, and were clustered near the great cave which Bob and 'Lissa had just

"This is in some kind of a box canyon," Bob declared, studying the terrain. "Look at those sheer

Their arrival had completely upset the community. Evidently all the citizens—Bob counted 90-odd of them-came to see the white couple. But not one could speak an English word, although Bob caught some phrases much like the speech of pueblo Indians.

"I'm going to tackle that chief again," he told 'Lissa, "and see what I can do by drawing picture

Million More Shoes

Produced In Canada

Leather footwear production in Canada during the first fou months of 1940 totalled 8,781,974 pairs compared with 7,360,581 pairs in the corresponding period and making signs.'

cliffs, all around us."

By SADIE B. CHAMBERS

information, please write in.

RASPBERRY SEASON AGAIN Of course you are planning to can just as many of the small cheaper fruits for our own families. Secondly, each one of us should try to meet the requests of the various organizations so iciting our help for extra fruit. Thirdly exra fruit is useful for those very personal gifts, (do not forget, with each type you can, to set aside a few jars for this purpose). What a joy it will give you at gift time to wrap then in attractive cellophane or othe papers and present these goodies to those who are ill, to the lonely or to other very intimate friends. We have not the space to give you all the different methods of canning and recipes for different jams and conserves we should like to. Many of you who have filed some of these last year can refer to them; those who desire and juice dissolves. Boil on med fruits as possible. Firstly, we must take advantage of the Naturally we are hearing much about raspberry jam these days. This is my method:—After picking over and washing the berries thoroughly, place in some earthenware vessel, sprinkling alternate layers with sugar in equal measurements. Let stand over night and in the morning place in preserving kettle with ½ cup water, sufficient to keep from sticking to the pan, until sugar

ly for 30 min., then strain and measure and for each quart, add

1 pint sugar. Boil slowly until thick, then bottle and seal. Raspberry Vinegar 4 quarts raspberries 1 quart vinegar (mild)

Raspberry Whip

1 cup fruit sugar 1 egg white beaten stiffly Crush the berries and allow to stand with sugar for one hour, fold in egg white. Pile in sherbet glasses and top with whipped cream or custard sauce. Garnish with whole berries.

Minted Raspberry Beverage 2 cups fresh raspberries Few sprigs mint slowly to extract the juice, adding a little water if necessary. Strain the juice through cheese-cloth. Add sugar and crushed mint. Cool and add juice of lemons and oranges. Chill. To serve add twice the amount of cold water and pour over cracked ice in tall glasses; garnish with sprig of mint.

2 oranges

READERS WRITE IN! Miss Chambers welcomes per-sonal letters from interested readers. She is pleased to receive column, and is even ready to listen to your "pet peeves." Re-quests for recipes or special menus are in order. Address your letters to "Miss Sadie B. Chamers, 73 West Adelaide Street, Toronto." Send stamped, selfaddressed envelope if you

There is a room that I remember always was mysterious and Keening all week a sort of Sunday air,

Have been a place where people really stayed. smell of rose leaves cedar wood Clung to those things that never

Now, looking down the arches of the years, time to learn What heartbeat lingerschild no more Than dusty silence back of a clos-

Leslie Nelson Jennings. -- In Christian Science Monitor

WOMEN WANTE 38 to 52 years old. Women who are estless, moody, NERVOUS—wear hot flashes, dizzy spells—to ta elping women during these "try mes" due to functional irregula

ISSUE 28-'40

with wool handknitting are among autumn sports models at Maria Krum, London handknit house.

There are also tweed topcoats

A fitted wine wool evening jacket with flashing beaded shoulders, worn with a wine and white printed crepe dinner gown, is included among the Norman

Hartnell models chosen by Ma celle Rogez, the actress, for her forthcoming visit to America. She Dinner frocks with sheer tops is selecting several beaded ever and long sleeves are strong. Like-wise are jacket ensembles prominent for evening. One designer features tailored beaded evening

Cotton, also spun rayon suitings, reflecting Scotch tweeds, are starting to percolate through the Scotch piece goods collections for jackets in flower designs.

spring, 1941.

with hand-knitted yokes and container using either paraffin or some of the new seals. Store in cool, dry place.

length) 4 teaspoon mustard seed 1 teaspoon preserved ginger cups sugar Pick raspberries and simme then drain and add the mustard cinnamon and ginger. Boil slow

Sugar Place 2 quarts of the berries in a bowl and cover with vinegar. Cover closely and allow to stand in a cold place for 2 days, then mash berries and strain the vinegar through cheesecloth. Pour it over 2 quarts of fresh raspberries. Allow to stand another 2 days Mash berries and strain and put in a preserving pan with sugar. Allow 1 pound sugar to 1 pint heat slowly, skimming when vinegar begins to boil. Boil gently for 12 to 15 minutes and seal in sterilized jars. Use 2 tablespoons raspberry vinegar to 1 glass of water, when serving.

Crush the raspberries and heat

Raspberry Ade 3 cups orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup raspberry juice. I quart water.
Mix all the ingredients together and stir until sugar is dissolved.
Pour into glasses which are quarter-filled with cracked ice. This makes about 21/2 quarts.

Too elegant for comfort and too For any child to think it ever seemed to fade.

For all its plush and crystal chan-

Bride Forgot The License

And now a bride who forgot Marano, jr., of New Orleans, La., left the license with his bride-to-be, Mildred Claasen, "for safe keeping"; told her to bring it to the church Mildred Classen, was to be accepted to the church Mildred Classen and to be accepted to the church Mildred Classen and to the church Mildred Classen and to the church Mildred Classen and the churc the church. Miss Claasen was on me-without the license. While bride, relatives and friends waited, Moran dashed to City Hall, got ried.

FLAVOR • Every day millio cooling, long-lasting flavor of WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT GUMblended from fresh garden mint. It's good for you, too— helps keep teeth bright and attractive. Dentists recommend it.

Scotland Knows No Nightingales

The nightingale is seldom, if ever heard in Scotland, says a writer in the Manchester Guardian. Early last century Sir John ing neglect was due merely to ignorance of the amenities of the northern kingdom, procured a supply of nightingales' eggs from the south of England and had them placed in robins' nests about his estate. In due course, the young birds made their appearance, and seemed quite happy in their surroundings. In the autumn, however, they migrated—and not one of them returned.

MATRON'S WELL-CUT "UNDIES"

4308 By ANNE ADAMS

These coatless summer days your frocks must be "underlined" with special care. Pattern 4308 is a slip style designed by Anne Adams to fit to the mature figure meticulously with no disturbing ridges or bumps. The smooth pair elled lines are so easy to stitch. And those ingenious extra seams at the hips prevent riding-up and help to make a nicely fitting bodice and a perfectly hanging, non-twisting skirt that has plenty of fullness. Notice how the straps are cut in one piece with the side panels. There's a choice of two necklines, one slightly lower, and you may add dainty lace edging.

Pattern 4308 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, cepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER. Send your order to Anne Ada duplicate. Then they were mar- ams, Room 425, 73 West Adelaide Roomily cut blocmers or pantier are included in this "must-have"