Place - At Tel-abib, at the river phrates River, near Nippur, in Bab THE PROPHET EZEKIEL

Of the man Ezekiel himself (his name means "God strengthens") we know very little. In Rabylon he was planted with others of his own nation by the banks of one of the irrigating canals which was called Chebar. He was a married man, and terrible way, was made by divine (24:15-27). He spent 22 years in fice. In grandeur and variety of only Isaiah and Moses can be compared with Ezekiel, WATCHMAN OVER ISRAEL

ISRAEL 10. And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye and our sins are upon us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live? The people had now come o regard their calamities as due to their sins and as evidence of them. 11. Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, house of Israel? God would have Israel know that he took no pleasure in seeing the wicked die, and that his will was ever for men to turn to him and live.

THE PAST NOT IRREVOCABLE 12. And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall turneth from his wickedness; neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth, 13. When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live. If he trust to his righteour commit iniquity, none of his right sous deeds shall be remembered but in his iniquity that he hath committed, therein shall he die. The prophet's purpose here is to teach the general truth that the past of one's life does not of necessity determine the future either in itself . in the judgment of God This, next to the assurance of God's gracious will regarding men (v. 11) was the truth most needed to com fort the people and awaken them out of the stupor which lay on them The past is not irrevocable, a fut HOPE FOR UNRIGHTEOUS

Calf Requires Special Care

The care given to the dair calf from birth to six months of age has a very definite ef-fect on its ultimate usefulness in the dairy herd. Calves worth raising are worth special care.
The practice at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, states V. S. Logan, Division of Animal Husbandry, is to separate the calf from its mother immediately and teach it to drink from a pail.

Means Later Usefulness It is essential that the newborn calf receive its mother's first milk or colostrum for a period of six to nine days. This milk provides a laxative and also contains substances which inhibit the development of disease germs present in the digeswhole milk feeding should be ntinued for the first four weeks at the rate of about one pound of milk per 10 pounds weight of calf. Beginning at four weeks, skim milk should be gradually substituted for whole milk at the rate of a pound each day. At this change, meal rich in fat may be introduced to take the place of the fat that is removed from the Skim Milk, Good

Scalded flaxseed meal with water added to make it the consistency of gruel makes an ex-cellent fat substitute. The gruel should be added to the milk age, allowing one-quarter cup per feed and increasing the amount gradually to a cupful per feed at two months of age. If available, skim milk may be used until the calf is at least six months old. Where skim milk is not available, whole milk should be given for a longer period and gradually replaced with warm water.

Cleanliness Essential the calves should be provided with all the good quality legume hay they will eat, and at three weeks, a meal mixture such as one part ground oats, two parts bran, one part corn distillers' grains, one part oil cake meal in small quantities. This mixture should be increased gradually to a rate of two pounds per day at three months of age. Clean stalls and clear feeding utensils are positively essential in order to avoid dis ease in young calves.

Gardening

CAN START YET Even in the warmer sections of Canada it is still possible to have splendid garden. There are plenty of things to plant which will al come on quickly. Experienced gardeners in recent years have been erposely holding back a portion of lettuce, spinach, carrot and othr vegetable seeds so that the har-

It is not safe in man districts to set out celery, tomato cabbage and pepper plants much sooner. There is still plenty of time to plant dahlia, gladiolus and canna bulbs or corms among the flowers NEED SUPPORT Dahlias, tomatoes, large cosmos climbers, all benefit from some artificial support while they are getting started. For tall individual flowers or tomatoes, 6-foot stakes of wood or steel are advisable and the plant is tied to these loosely with soft tine or raffia. Stouter and perhaps longer stakes will be used with the shade trees and correspondingly shorter ones for the smaller flow-
