

Seven thousand determined young Canadians got their initiation army life at Exhibition Park, Toronto, during the winter months. Comforts not usually associated with active service, even to batteries of hot shower baths, were available in well heated buildings. In the illustrations above they are seen entraining for summer encampments and their smiling faces would seem to indicate that the prospect is a pleasing one. The big camp is now being prepared for this year's Exhibition. The buildings will be occupied by troops again next fall following the "Ex."

BORN TO MISERY

Of all the livestock that men raise the chicken is by far the most ill-used. In the brooder, artif icially heated, the chicks cry,

"What is home without a mother?

and afterwards, when they have come to years of discretion and would like to enjoy a run where they can scratch, they find themselves stacked up in hen-batteries, each one in a narrow cell of its own, and are compelled to lay eggs to save their lives. The modern hen es, and $5 millions for fuel and comes over the Columbia chain on an band leaders in the dance field, will soon return to the band stands with an orchestra of fifty pieces should be good, for the Detroiter

AROUND THE DIAL

CKOC at 10:15 a.m. . . . Rendezvous on Mutual at 5:30 with Ramona, Jimmy Shields and the Tune Twisters . . . Monday, L'il Abner from NBC - Red at six . . . Blondie

on the Columbia Chain at 10:30 .

Tuesday, Fun with Revuers via the NBC-Blue at 9:30 . . . Composers series on CBC at 10:30 . . . Wednesday, Mr. Keen, Tracer of Missing

WABC-Columbia at 10:45 . . . Fri-

An Editor Looks West on CBC at 7:45 . . . Saturday, Hit Parade on CKOC at 1:00 p.m. . . . Sky Biazers with Col. Roscoe Turner on Columbia at 7:30.

day, Uncle Don via WOR at six . .

Sevillana from CBC at 8:30 Thursday, I Love A Mystery at 8:30 on NBC-Red . . . Nan Wynn on Dialing little known radio treats

Sunday, Four Star Revue from Tuesday nights at eight.

aturing swing sy

VOICE OF THE PRESS

DIALING FOR TROUBLE You no longer need to borrow grouble. You can get it delivered on he radio daily. - (Brandon Sun

SHORTER SPEECHES There is merit in the principle behind the proposal made by Mr. Ralph Maybank, Liberal M.P. for Winnipeg South Centre, that the length of parliamentary speeches on matters affecting Canada's wa fort be limited. Discussion, o the point that it contributes to provement of legislation. Beyond that it is a waste of time. — (Wind-

> RADIO REPORTER By DAVE ROBBINS

TRY YOUR HAND Among radio listeners there are folks who would like to try their hand at writing a radio program — maybe a mystery tale, a drama or comedy sketch, or possibthey may have an entirely new Mea for the air - so why don't you and you put your ideas on paper and send them to a radio sta-

Radio stations are always looking for new stories and new ideas - and yours might be the one tha

NOTES AND NEWS One of the breeziest programs presented over the NBC-red network is Plantation Time - heard on Wednesday nights at 8:30. The Plantation Party includes Louise ere. Tom. Dick and Harry, a smart rocal trio, and other top-notch en

For facts with an unusual twist we suggest you tune in Stranger Than Fiction — presented over station CKOC each weeknight at six.

One of the better midwesk prochores of the Atlantic, when Marforie Payne directs a concert orchestra in music of the lighte wein. This treat is on Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m.

Imagine a theatre seating thirty million people! That, by actual curvey, is the estimated audience of the Radio Theatre conducted by oil B. Demille, veteran showman each Monday evening at 9. That means only one thing — that the

When Steve Wilson, of Edward & Robinson's Big Town program sked for a vote from radio listenere on whether Steve and Lorele ld continue their racket-bust ing tales of Big Town = or present folks on the receiving end voted everwhelmingly to continue the g Town series. The program

THE WAR-WEEK-Commentary on Current Events

ITALY'S ENTRY CARRIES WAR TO MEDITERRANEAN

Hitler's armies crossed the bor-ders of the Low Countries, Muss-olini declared war on Britain and France, ushering in one of the critical hours in the his tory of the world. Never before had the British and French Empires been in a position of such supreme danger. France, beating off encirclement of Paris, fighting for her very life, now found herself attacked on still another front, her supply lines to Africa threatened. Briain, not yet recovered from the lisaster of Flanders, hourly expecting a Nazi invasion, was forced to action on far-flung fronts in Africa, the Near East, the Mediterranean, Gibraltar, Suez. Objectives Italy went into the war demandng Tunisia, Djibouti, French and British Somaliland, Corsica, Mal-Gibraltar, Suez, Savoy and two French departments of the laritime Alps. To those possessions Italy "aspired," as well as unct democracies." After attack ing France's lines to Africa, prime Italian objectives were seen to be Tunisia and Egypt. But one at a time, and perhaps Egypt first, since capture of Alexandria from the rear by mech-anized columns (like Hitler's capture of the Channel ports) would achieve more and probably be easier than cutting into Tunisia and French Morocco. Meanwhile the Germans, driving on Paris, were aiming for the capture of Paris and the Lower Seine River, no matter how terrific their losses, in the hope of forcing French capitulation and cutting France off from her ally, Great Britain. The Allies, on the other hand, were attempting to hold Germany until Empire and industrial resources could be mobilized for a successful counter offensive. Should Paris fall, the French were expected to make a stand in the valley of the great Loire River which cuts well across France from the west coast South of this line would be both agricultural and industrial areas to support the effort. is born to misery from the egg on-The time factor was in favor wards. - (Fort William Timesof the Allies; against the Germans, who knew they must win be-fore their effort slowed down, The manufacture of chemicals before the United States could and allied products in Canada during 1938 totalled $146,139,-312. About $61 millions were enter the war with all its vast resources. spent on materials and supplies, $29 millions on salaries and wag-

Goodbye To Neutrality UNITED STATES: One of the nost tensely listened-to speeches in the annals of political history was made during the week by President Roosevelt, preparing the American people for the participation in the European war which is so sure to come. "We will pursue two obvious and simultaneous courses," he declared: "We will extend to the opponents of force the material sources of this nation and, at the same time, we will harness and speed up the use of those reselves in the Americas may have equipment and training equal to every defense." The republic-to-the-south-of-us was no longer neutral; it was non-belligerent. Following his address, Presi dent Roosevelt warmly endorsed an organized "Stop-Hitler-Now" movement, working to rush all possible material help to the Allies, while Congress continued its rapid-fire action on the national defense program, grown to $5,-021,619,622.

Another colossal problem was thrust before the United States by the possibility that the British Government, if Hitler won the war, might move to Canada and continue the fight against Germany from here. Washington was a bit upset by the idea. For the first time in its life, the supremacy of the United States in the Western hemisphere would be challenged; another great fleet would be stationed on this side

One month to the day after of the Atlantic; the war would itler's armies crossed the borbe brought to America's very doorstep.

CANADA: That same possibility was reflected in the sixth ra-dio address of Prime Minister Mackenzie King on the war situation. He declared that Canadians are prepared to fight to the finish in this war, "will proudly accept" their new responsibilities, undaunted by the threat of spreading conflict. There was talk f the British Throne being transferred to Ottawa . . . Two days later Canada declared war on Italy, and Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and her two children arrived in Halifax. . . . The nation was saddened during the week by the tragic death in an air crash of Hon. Norman McLeod Rogers, Canada's De-fence Minister, a man of fine character who had worked unceasingly in the public interest . Many Canadians woke up one morning to find that war had SCOUTING . .

ing July first no one could cross to the United States without a passport. Other events of the week: Rain unceasing; saturation of land, atmosphere, clothing (some people blamed it on the war clouds) . Arthur W. Roebuck, Liberal, Toronto-Trinity, charging in the House of Commons th tario Government had treated single unemployed transients with brought them a new inconvenience, (taxes, etc. aside),-start-

"cold brutality" . . . anti-Italian demonstrations throughout the country . . . Puzzle: Had the Vimy Memorial really been bombed? Still merely a report, this story had neither been confirmed nor denied by the Canadian Government.

. . . In The Baltic RUSSIA: The Soviet Union, suddenly the centre of renewed diplomatic attentions from three European nations, patched up her Far Eastern dispute by an agree-ment with Japan on the Manchoukuo-Outer Mongolia boundary question, which had produc-ed two battles and several years of intermittent fighting - Russia and Japan agreed on the exact frontiers to be respected in future . . . Two newly named Ambassadors from the Allies — Sir Stafford Cripps of Great Bri-tain and Eric Labonne of France -arrived in Moscow; and it was announced that Italy and Russia would once more keep ambassadors in each other's capitals Diplomatic observers in Stock-holm advanced the theory that itical agreement with Finland and Sweden to forestall any German BALKANS: It appeared to be the devout wish of all Balkan capitals last week that their countries should not be drawn into the growing vortex of war. And indications were strong that for the time being at least, south-eastern Europe would be left alone; that the Italian campaign in the Balkans would be diplomatic rather than military. Greece was already reported to have made a "deal" with Mussolini.

Russia, determined that Germany must not expand further in the Baltic, was seeking a definite pol-

Eastern Mediterranean Sooner or later, however, it was thought that the conflict would somehow hit the Eastern Mediterranean, and then there would be a rush to Salonika from both the Italian and Near Eastern sides. The stand of Turkey was seen as all-important.

NORWAY: The war in Norway came to an end last week when King Haakon ordered the capitulation of the entire country to the Germans. It was announced, however, that his government would continue to fight with the Allies on the Western

GOLDEN SYRUP

-A Great Energy Food

SOUTH AMERICA: Faseism reared its ugly head again in the Western Hemisphere. President Vargas of Brazil, in the first outspekenly Fascist speech by any South American President, justified the aggressions in Europe of Germany and Italy. Vargas, who has ruled Brazil through ten years of dictatorship, spoke of the beginning of a new era under Fascism. Previously it had been believed in South America that Brazil would follow the United States policy toward the European situation. A nasty shock, of the 2nd Moose Jaw, Sask., Troop gather the comic sections of the White-Yellow -Black Races

lation every 80 years, yellow 60 years, and the black in week-end papers and present then ver's Sea Scout fleet is t the 40th Vancouver (St. Au

Girl Guides and Brownies

Walkem, wife of Col. Ga

by Rev. J. A. Leighton, Ch.

Walkem, and dedication was n

the Vancouver Mission to Sear launched with full ceres

Nova Scotia's Blossom Queen And Her Princesses

The Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, Nova Scotia's mo colorful spring party, this year was a gay event centred in the fragrabeauty of the British Empire's largest single apple belt. Queen Anapolisa VIII (Miss Audrey Clarke of Wolfville, N. S.) is seen he with her Princesses.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

FRED NEHER. 8.9 "When I Say Three You Hit Pop an' I'll Yell for Mom!

A Delicious Blend

GREEN TEA

OREN ARNOLD

seconds later, unquestionably, would have had two massive pis-at Holliman's stomach. He had been known to do just that with other men, and daring them ever to resent it. But—at that instant "Supper iss ready," she announced, "and Bawb say to tell you not to wait for them, as they had fully cleared, Holliman was sitting down at the crude camp table, dishing up a pint or so of rich red chili. The old man discharged enough tobacco juice to drown a good-sized mammal, tab-

Honey Bee Girl appeared.

might not be back at all" Before Hades' aston

Lost Kingdom

CAST OF CHARACTERS OBERT BARRY-hero, ex-

MELISSA LANE - heroine Barry's partner. HONEY BEE GIRL - Indian ember of Barry's party. HADES JONES - pio ember Barry's party.

last Week: Lost together avern, Bob and Melissa find s eep dependence on each other Together they struggle back to find their packs. Is this the end?

CHAPTER XIV Zachary "Hades" Jones was a bit weary when he returned t mp that night. The 24-mile und trip had taken him two danged mules is con a thunderstorm," -he grumbled. "They ain't pack broke good yit, Here, Holliman, would ou help me with these here kags, They unloaded the fresh coo water, ample for drinking, cooking, and scantly toilet until another week should pass. Then Hades released the animals for a it of grazing nearby. There was ole of satgnant water just a nile away, all right for the stock too alkaline or "salty" for Where at's the boss?" Hades "Ain't seen him all day. And

"Eh?" Hades paused to look uestionably at Holliman. "Well fact is, Hades, he's out with 'Lissa. Just them two." Hades spat rather copiously and lared at Holliman. "S'posen he is? Ain't no lion, she? Ain't gonna hurt him as he got taking a young gal ut by herself." Hades Jones, aged 70-odd, "What do you mean, Holliman? Vhy you lyin'-!" "Shut up, old man. Want me to you down?"

A New Quarrel one had dared to speak us to Hades Jones in more than If a century. Uncle Hades had nds, and enemies who respecthim, in practically every councorral from El Paso to He had punched cows unhe joined a gold rush and more money. Then he had a prospector since. He had without water and food for days straight, helping dea settlement from an Apache an attack in his youth. When was nearing 60 years of age had shot it out with two Mexiwho essayed to hold up k at the time, and Hades all the dozen people there ded. People said he still own scalp of the redskin who father, and he never of his "sass" which saved nan some serious embarnent, there in camp. jaw just dropped. Five

SEE YOUR DEALER or write to us

ISSUE NO. 25-'40

was no mistaking his earnestness. He meant precisely what he said. Holliman tightened. He had started to grin at an old man, but he didn't. The keen old eyes spoke a silent warning more po-tent than the words. Holliman moved very slowly—hands away from his hips.

"All right, Jones. Forget it. You're old. I ain't goin' to fight no oldtimer." It was a wise decision. But the situation was still shaky.

"You been eyein' Miss 'Lissa yoreself, Holliman. I seen you. I know th' signs. Waal, that ain't no insult, as such. Any young man'd be a fool not to set up to her. Ef she wants you it's her cusiness; but you be dang shore she does. Now I wanta knowdo you know where they're at now? Why ain't they here? It's well after dark." . . .

Where Are They? Holliman had been surprised indeed to hear that old Hades knew of his "settin" up" to Mary Melissa. The old fool must have eyes everywhere! But this was no time to argue. Besides, his own curiosity about the missing ols aimed with terrible accuracy own curiosity about the missing pair was mounting.
"I swear I don't know, Hades.
And quit bein' warlike. I told you I ain't fightin'."

Hades grunted.
"Woman," he called to Honey Bee, "come out here. What about the two bosses? Where they at?"
"They are not here," said Honey Bee, stupidly. Hades bridled again. Contempt almost suffused him. But Holli man spoke first.

EPILOGUE

(Written by the noted English poet, William Ernest Henley, in 1901, these lines have peculiar application to the situation as it exists in the world this week.)

Into a land
Storm-wrought, a place of quakes, all thunder-scarred, Helpless, degraded, desolate, Peace, the White Angel, comes.
Her eyes are as a mother's. Her good hands Are comforting, and helping; and her voice Falls on the heart, as, after winter, spring Falls on the world, and there is no more pain.
And, in her influence, hope returns, and life,
And the passion of endeavour; so that, soon,
The idle ports are insolent with keels;
The stithies roar, and the mills thrum
With energy and achievement; weald and wold Exult; the cottage-garden teems
With innocent hues and odours; boy and girl Mate prosp'rously; there are sweet women to kiss; Mate prosprously; there are sweet women to kiss; There are good women to breed. In a golden fog, A large, full-stomached faith in kindliness All over the world, the nation, in a dream Of money and love and sport, hangs at the papa Of well-being, and so Goes fattening, mellowing, dozing, rotting down Into a rich deliquium of decay.

Then, if the Gods be good,
Then, if the Gods be other than mischievous, Down from their footstools, down
With a million-throated shouting, swoops and storms War, the Red Angel, the Awakener,
The Shaker of Souls and Thrones; and at her heel Trail grief, and ruin, and shame!
The woman weeps her man, the mother her son,
The tenderling its father. In wild hours, A neonle haggard with defeat A people, haggard with defeat, Asks if there be a God; yet sets its teeth, Faces calamity, and goes into the fire Another than it was. And in wild hours Another than it was. And in while hours
A people, roaring ripe
With victory, rises, menaces, stands renewed, Sheds its old peddling aims, Approves its virtue, puts behind itself
The comfortable dream, and goes, Armoured and militant,
New-pithed, new-souled, new-visioned, up the steeps
To those great allifudes, whereat the weak

To those great altitudes, whereat the weak Live not. But only the strong Have leave to strive, and suffer, and achieve.

led his plans for discipline, and went glaring into supper himself. His spirit calmed some as he ate-as what man's doesn't?

Honey Bee might be surly, stupid, or whatever, but she shore could cook! Many another woman has been forgiven her short-comings because of her culinary art. Hades forgave no redskin anything; but he ate.

He got up before Holliman did, and walked to the foot of the castle cliff. BANG! BANG!

Holliman and Honey Bee peer ed out in alarm. But Hades was only signalling. His old neck was craned upward, studying the He fired again, twice rapidly.

t was a time-honored call of the outdoors - for anyone within hearing to answer or come. Hades never thought but what Bob Barry would know it, and answer if he "They ain't up there," the old man muttered presently, and came back to the dining tent. "Holliman," he began, his eyes flashing, "I come dang nigh killin' you a while ago. You ain't old enough to know better yet in enough to know better yet in some ways, and it may cost you. We ain't known to each other plumb good yit. Now I don't want no trouble, but you don't be so free and careless with yore tongue, young feller. This Barry is our boss. You can quit any time; we c'n git more help, if I have to ride in after it. But by god, Holliman, I'll kill you deader'n a petrified snake ef you git too petrified snake ef you git too fresh: You savvy?"

· He leaned forward just a little, hands ready to draw. He was a trifle comical, because of his wrinkles and his stoop. But there

"Well where are they?" The

"They have gone, for maybe long time," Honey Bee declared.
The Indian girl had expected thus to be questioned. She was not at all happy in her own mind. She didn't want Bob Barry to be alone anywhere with the white girl, much less in a dark cave. But—Bob was her employer, as well as the man she wanted; she virtually worshipped him. He had emphatically told her to keep the secret of the new cliff cave. She meant to do so.

"Hell, didn't they say where?" Hades was losing patience.
"They just say tell you both make thee better camp, thee bet ter corral for thee mules and hors. ing. Then she had an idea. "Meester Bawb, he say must go. Maybe all day, maybe longer. They take food, canteen, go that way."

The Horses Are Here She pointed—not toward the cliff dwelling, but in the opposite direction. The men grumbled about it at length, but after all the note Bob had left also told them to go ahead with their own work, and forget about him and 'Lissa. Suspicions thus were not aroused, at the time. An hour later, though, Hades went for a last night check-up on the horses and mules—his regular job. clamied. "Their horses is both here!"

Bob and Mary wouldn't have started to go far on foot. The old man turned to stare back at the camp, suspious, confused. He didn't trus that Indian girl. Nor Holliman. (To Be Continued)

BUTTONS AT BACK

PATTERN 4463 By ANNE ADAMS

There's a fresh, clean-cut, American-girl spirit about Pattern 4463! It's an Anne Adams dress, which explains its unusual verve and originality. That button-up the-back idea is ingeniously young combined with the bow of the sash which comes from the front panel or winds all around. You might have the yokes and sleeves in sprightly contrast. Notice the smart front panel and the new touch of buttons that march down Omit the sleeves and you'll have a real sportster!

Pattern 4463 is available misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 7/8 yards 35 inch fabric. Send TWENTY CENTS (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE

NUMBER. Send your order to Anne Adams, Room 425, 73 West Adelaide St., Toronto.

Money For Beauty The American Hairdresser beauticians' trade paper, report-ed that 40,000,000 women in the U. S. spend $142,000,000 annually in beauty salons. Of this amount, approximately $6,000,000 is spent for scalp treatments; $13,000,000 for cosmetics; $15,-000,000 for manicures; $17,-000,000 for dyeing and bleaching hair; $18,000,000 for facials; $73,000,000 for permanent wav-

The stone sharpens knives but is dull itself.-Roman.

By SADIE B. CHAMBERS ANOTHER SIMPLE SUNDAY

DINNER

The ideal simple Sunday dinner should be one ou which most of the preparation can be done before hand; and one which presents something just a little different from the ordinary week-day meal. We are choosing ham for the meat course, which may be broil-ed or baked. If baking, and in fact broiling too, personally I like to steam it beforehand, the time according to the amount. Then the broiling or baking takes only a few moments. The steaming may be done the day previous. Before placing in the broiler or in oven for baking, spread the surface lightly with butter and if you wish, add a little brown sugar and mustare (which have been mixed together), and a few cloves. All this can be done just before placing in the oven for the browning.

Now, that pineapples, (the large, luscious kind) are at their best, they make an ideal appetizer. Mint always bears a touch of favor and flavor served at the beginning of the meal in any type of fruit cup. Crush the leaves of a spray or two of mint and bury them (leaving on the stem) in the shredded, chopped pineapple, I prefer to run it through the food chopper, being sure to retain all the juice mixed with fruit sugar, which does dissolve so much better. This fruit can be prepared on Saturday and placed in the refrigerator or a very cool place. Leave the mint in according to the type of flavor you desire. Some prefer just a suggestion of the flavor; then it can be removed after a few hours. Others who like a deeper flavor may leave it in till moments to boil it. Serve with the for this vegetable is that it can be prepared well within the half hour.

to break up the rice leaving just as it is (it is not so attractive, if it ould be steamed (this also can be is mashed). If one wished, the rice done before): then place in casse ole just before serving and pour over it the cheese sauce sprinkling the top with grated cheese; time in oven about 20 minutes in moderate

For your simple salad a valuable addition is salted wafers (be sure they are crisp).

ready to serve. MENU Pineapple and Mint Cup Broiled (or baked) ham

Fresh asparagus Rice and cheese sauce Watercress and Radish Salad 34 cup milk Whipped Cream Cake Hot Beverage Milk
If you have had freshly picked asparagus in the refrigerator, where it is crisp, it will only take a few floured board, pat and roll bout 1/2 inch in thickness. cut melted butter atnd seasoning to taste. One of the recommendations place in pan and bake in hot oven grees. Hoping this will answer the re-quest for a "plain soda biscuit":

I like the plan to cook the rice eforehand taking pains to keep the grains whole and separate 2 cups flour teaspoon salt The cream sauce can also be made ½ teaspoon soda 1 teaspoon baking powder before hand, a plan which saves much time when dinner is being aseembled. Heat the sauce in the double boiler, adding 1/4 cup grated cheese for each cup of sauce, this being added as sauce is reheated. Add the rice to the sauce in the (if using crea- 1/2 the butter). ter, add buttermilk gradually and double boiler and do not attempt mix as biscuits above. Oven 400 de

> READERS, WRITE IN! Address your letters to "Miss Sadie B. Chambers, 73 West

For your dessert make your fav-Adelaide Street, Toronto." HERE'S BALANCED NOURISHMENT THAT EVERY FAMILY NEEDS TWO SHREDDED WHEAT . . . A CUPFUL OF MILK . . . FRESH STRAWBERRIES This meal contains eight vital food values: Three Vitamins (A, B<sub>1</sub> and C), Proteins, Iron, Calcium, Phosphorus and Carbohydrates. You get all these precious elements in one delicious dishful. Give the family this Shredded Wheat treat for breakfast, while strawberries are at their best. THE CANADIAN SHREDDED WHEAT COMPANY, LTD., Niagara Falls, Canada SHREDDED WHEAT preferably the long pan type. All you have to do is to add the whip-per cream, which also may be pre pared before and kept chilled. A few strawberries added gives you a strawberry shortcake of the sweet-cake type. For those who feel with the pineapple it is too many acids mixed, the cake and cream alone makes a very luse BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

It is true I have not said anything about biscuits for a long time and to answer the request for my favorite baking powder biscuits here you are:
2 cups flour (bread)

4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt 4 tablespoons shortening (level) Mix and sift dry ingredients, work in shortening and add liquid, gradually making the soft type soft as possible to hadle. Turn on Time 15 minutes. Oven 450 de-

1½ tablespoons butter.
1 cup butermilk or sour cream Sift dry ingredients, mix in but-grees. Time 15 minutes. Miss Chambers welcomes personal letters from interested readers. She is pleased to receive suggestions on topics for her column, and is even peeves." Requests for