THE GOLDEN RULE (Armistic Sunday).—Luke 6 PRINTED TEXT, Luke 6: 27-38. GOLDEN TEXT-"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." Luke 6: 31. THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING Time.—All the events of this chapter occurred in the early summer of A.D. 28.

Place.-The plucking of grain ocourred near the city of Capernaum; the healing of the man with the withered hand occurred in Galilee, though we do not know exactly where. The choice of the Twelve and the Sermon on the Mount both occurred near Capernaum.

This lesson speaks primarily of personal enemies. We are living in a time when the hearts of men are being made sour and corrupt by brooding over what they think are crimes of other peoples until the whole life is filled with bitterness. Such a stream of pollution can be washed out only the life of which Christ here speaks. At the very beginning of this lesson we have clearly revealed the mysterious and yet continually em-phasized fact that men in Palestine, for the most part, and especially those high in religious circles among the Hebrew people, not only lid not sympathize with the work and teachings of Christ, but did everything they could to find fault with the ministry of the Master, to oppose him, and to bring the disapproval of others upon him. Emphasis On Love

In this sixth chapter of Luke we have Christ teaching the true meaning of the Sabbath in relation man; choosing the twelve disciples; revealing the characteristics of a life which God can fully approve. After Jesus had chosen he twelve apostles on the summit of the mountain where he had spent the night, he descended to a level place on the mountain-side, and there met the multitude and delivered the sermon which holds first place among all the discourses in the world. If this address is the same as the Sermon on the Mount, (found in Matthew), it is to be noted that each account begins with the main body of the discourse, differs only in the aspect of truth emphasized by the two writers. In Matthew the essence of the Christian life is described as true righteousness in distinction from the formalism of the Pharisee. In Luke the essence of righteousness is found in love. Matthew was writing with Jewish Christians in mind. Luke was writing for the world.

35. But love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, never despairing; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be sons of the Most High: for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. This law or principle of Christian love is enforced in a fivefold way: first, Jesus gives various striking modes in which this love manifests itself (vs. 27-30); he then shows what common definition can be gathered from these instances (v. 31), and how this love is distinct from other kinds (vs. 32-35); he explains that it is a love akin to God's way of loving (vs. 32-35): to God's way of loving (vs. 35, 33); and lastly, he shows that this principle of love should influence all our judgments. "Love" here denotes the love full of intelligence, comprehension, an corresponding pur pose; it sees all the malevolence and wickedness of the enemy, feels his stabs and blows, but this only fills the loving heart with the one desire and aim to free its enemy from his hate, to rescue him from his sin, and to save his soul. The Measure of Men 36. Be ye merciful, even as your Father is merciful, 37. Farm Notes .

Balance Manure With Phosphate (By B. Leslie Emslie)

Superphosphate forms the base of nearly all commercial fertilizer mixtures and supplies the much needed phosphorus in which most soils are naturally deficient. Turnips and corn are heavy en a fairly liberal application of manure may require only superphosphate as a supplement. Farmyard manure contains notable amounts of nitrogen and potash but very little phosphorus, for the reason that animals retain and utilize this subsance in the building of their bony structure, and phosphorus is also an important constituent of milk and muscle. Superphosphate in Stable

Inspecting a series of turnip plots on the Dominion Experimental Farm, Nappan, N.S., during a field day in September, visitors were told by Mr. Smith Hilton that 100 lbs. of 20% superphosphate is worth one ton of turnips, meaning that with the addition of 500 lbs. of superphosphate per acre the yield was increased by five tons over manure alone. On this occasion a shrewd farmer from Pictou County stepped forward and stated his conviction that the proper place to start the use of superphosphate is in the stable. Now, this farmer was not talking through his hat but knew whereof he spoke, having like many others proved the merits of granular superphosphate in the stable. The practice has bee preached for years but may be new to some. It consists o spreading the phosphate in and on both sides of the gutter, at the rate of one or one and a half pounds per animal per day, after cleaning out the stable. The superphosphate, when used in this way, performs several functions. Not only does it add the phosphorus which ordinary manure lacks but absorbs and holds valuable nitrogen that would otherwise be lost, thus enriching the manure in both these plant food substances. Further, phosphate in the stable, shed, pen or poultry house reduces flies, absorbs malodorous gases and disinfects the premises.

More Pork, Veal Less Beef Eaten

In Canada During 1939 - Increase In Total Meat Consumption Here Last Year Was Two Per Cent

Consumption of meats in Canada in 1939 per head of popula-tion is officailly estimated at 118.9 lb., an increase of more than two lb. per head over the 1938 consumption. With reference to individual commodities, more pork, veal and lard and less beef were consumed in 1939 than in 1938. The consumption of mutton and lamb remained unchanged. The consumption of pork per head of population in 1939 is placed at 52 lb., an increase of 4.2 lb. on the previous year; veal consumption rose from in 1938 to 12.1 lb. head in 1939, and lard at 5.8 lb. per head showed an increase of nearly 1½ lb. over 1938.

from 51.6 lb. per head of population in 1938 to 49 lb. per head in 1939. Although the total output of cattle in Canada in 1939 showed an increase over that of 1938, exports of cattle during 1939 were almost double those of 1938. The consumption of mutton and lamb at 5.8 lb. per head of population was the same as in 1938, which in turn was one lb. less than in 1937. It is expected, says the official report, that during the next three or four years consumption of beef will continue to decline. While the numbers of cattle are continuing to increase on Canadian farms, the present tendency is to withhold stock from market for the purpose of building up herds. Pork consumption during 1940 will probably be even greater than in 1939.
