SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AN EXACTING DISCIPLESHIP. PRINTED TEXT, Luke 9: 49-62 GOLDEN TEXT .- No man, having put his hand to the plow, and look ing back, is fit for the kingdom of

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING twelve apostles occurred in the autumn of A.D. 28, the immediate subsequent events in the winter of A.D. 28, 29, the confession of Peter and Christ's transfiguration in the autumn of A.D. 29; Christ's journey through Samaria took place in Nov ember and December A.D. 29.

Place.-The Twelve were commissioned in Galilee; the events recorded in 9: 10a took place in Capernaum; the feeding of the five usand is to be located in Bethsaida, at the northeast end of the sea of Galiee; the confession of Peter and the subsequent teaching are to be located in Caesarea Phil ippi; the transfiguration probably occurred on Mount Hermon: th events recorded in verses 52 to 56 occurred in Samaria; the concluding teachings reported in the remainder of the chapter were utte ed on the shores of the Sea of Gal

In this lesson we may gain a profound conception of what might be called the centrality or the absolute supremacy of the Lord Jesus Christ: Christ here reveals himself as supreme over his disciples; he shows himself the central figure upon every occasion when a great need arises, because of his ability to meet that need; he is the one person men ought to believe as the Son of God; he is the one who is supremely worthy of our absolute

The Gospel Ideal The ideal of the gospel received through its perfect incarnation in Jesus Christ is not that we should be ministered unto, but that we should minister, bear one another's burdens, love one another, prefer one another, pray for one another. Luke 9: 49. And John answered edify one another in the Lord. and said, Master, we saw one casting out demons in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. 50. But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against you is for you. Even outside the circle of the permanent disciples of Jesus there were men in whom his word and his works had called forth a miraculous power. These sparks, which fell beyond the circle, had made flames burst forth here and there away from the central fire. Purpose of Christ's Coming

And it came to pass, when the days were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerus alem, and sent messengers before his face:

52. And they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. 53. And they did not receive him because his face was as though he were going to Jerusalem. 54. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said. Lord wilt thou that we bid fire to come down from heaven, and consum

55. But he turned, and rebuked them, 56, And they went to another village. The concluding twelve Gospel give in some detail that which is found more briefly in Matt. 8: 18-22, and Mark 10: This begins what is commonly called the Peraean ministry of our Lord, which commences with Christ's final departure from Galilee, here noticed, and ends with his final arrival in Jerusalem John and James here forgot of what spirit they were, the spirit of both the Old and the New Testaments, and gave way to fleshly desire for revenge. While we must disapprove of the spirit here of the two dis ciples, as the Lord certainly did, yet we must recognize that their request only sprang from their burning zeal. It must have surprisnes and John when Jesus rebuked them. It is true that the village rejected Jesus; but we must ask, Had any special effort been ade to win them to Jesus? Had the gospel been preached to them? We must answer no. Worthlessness of Excuses 57. And as they went on the way, a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 58. And Jesus said unto him, foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head, 59. And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 60. But he said unto him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom of God. 61. And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; but first suffer me to bid farewall to them that are at my house, 62. But Jesus said unto him. No man, having put his hand to the Flow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God. This markable passage is not to be found in any of the other Gospels, and is a remarkably rich paragraph for careful study if space allowed. Three types of men are seen in the presence of the enterprise of lesus, attracted to him, wanting to be loyal to him, desiring to be enrolled under him, wanting to serve him. The first was a man attracted by Christ. The second was man whom Christ called to cer tain and definite relationship with himself. The third was a man wanting to serve Christ, but postponing his service. Christ's call is superfor to the highest and most beau-tiful of earth's obligations. That is the cross. Christ had flashed upon him the light of a tremendous enterprise, the enterprise of preaching the kingdom of God; and that demanded the abandonment of the earthly tie when it conflicted with

Stones From Sky

Stones are more mysterious than people think. Mr. William Barber, of Iken Cliff, Suffolk, England, has grown stones by watering them every day. They increase in size at the rate of three-sixteenths of an inch every year. The model of a stone bull in Southern India, anointed with oil regularly by worshipful natives, grows constantly in size. Because of this, it is credited with having life. In the West Indies, it sometimes rains stones. Quartz pebbles fall down from the skies without warning, then stop suddenly. Nobody has ever explained this phenomennon, for there isn't any quartz in the vi-

THEY LIKE IT OVERSEAS When the Canadian troops in England were questioned as to what Canadian radio program they would like to hear in England, one of the first programs they mentioned was the "Happy Gang." This is proof of the appeal of this completely happy and generally screwball session with Bert Pearl, Kathleen Stokes and the rest of the happy crew. We think it's a good sign that Canadians still get a augh out of sheer nonsense and as long as Canada's soldiers can augh, this Dominion need have no fear. It will take more than Hitler make Canada's warriors lose their sense of humour. The "Happy Gang" is heard over the CBC chain each week-day afternoon at one (daylight).

AROUND THE DIAL We like the story about the would-be musician who appeared at an audition — played a piano number — and then blandly informed the program director it was absolutely original. "Shake Mister," said the radio man, "I never thought I'd see the day I'd be face face with Beethoven!

Last Saturday night the old master was back with the NBC Symphony for the weekly program at 10.35 — for as the big second hand on the clock neared the deadline Arturo Toscanini, world-famous conductor, took the podium. Toscanini's presence means something to symphony musicians - for it was obvious Saturday night that the members of the orchestra were just a little more keen and getting just a trifle more out of their efforts. If you like the best in music, you should dial in this splendid program - heard in this part of On-
