A SPRINGBOARD FOR MISTER MAGOR (continued from page one) The plant at Malton is said by experts to be as well equipped mechanically for the mass production of airplanes as any on the Continent. Airplanes, at this moment of awful hazard, are Britain's and Canada's and freedom's greatest need. But President Magor of the NSC Corp. is not having the Malton plant operate in any way as a war operation alone. He has said so.

The only connection between the plant and the "is that it is a springboard for us." No rock was thrown. It was a shareholders' meeting. When President Magor says "us" he means the National Steel Car Corporation. Mr. Magor and his shareholders seek to understand each other perfectly. The misunderstanding is between Mr. Magor and the people of Canada. It is time it was cleared up. The people of Canada did not pay Mr. E. Magor's cost-plus percentage, while he learned to produce war-planes at Malton in order that he might spend the first fourteen months of their battle for freedom jumping up and down on a springboard. Mr. Magor may think they did, but they did not. Somebody in Ottawa would have told Mr. Magor as much a month ago. But he would go around to it.
