Canadian Seamen Wear Navy Badges

More than 200 Canadian merchant seamen who have served in waters where enemy craft operate now are wearing the Canadian Merchant Navy badge authorized by the government in last summer.

Officials of the department of transport, which has charge of distributing the badges, said a constant stream of applications is being received as Canadian seamen return to Canada from foreign ports.

The badge is intended to be worn by men on shore leave in civilian attire in order that they may be recognized as "officially" part of the fighting force of Canada. Three months service in danger zones waters, or less if their ship has been attacked by the enemy, is required to qualify for the badge.

Violette Kimball Dunn

SYNOPSIS

When Mark, Alexander's beautiful wife Ellen, died, he was left with Valerie, Ellen's daughter by a former marriage. As it is the family business, Valerie wanted to which Ellen left her, but Mark would not hear of it. He took Valerie on a long trip. On the way home, they met Lucy Trederie, who was engaged to marry Mark, and Dorothy and warns her that Lucy is likely to marry Valerie.

Three cheers for Miss Lucy! said Mark. "Then what?" "Miss Trederie," said Miss Lucy, "I'm going to marry you." "I see," said Mark. "I don't believe I want to hear any more of that. You go on with you. After all, I might have known!" He stood staring at the girl, who had just come before him, but he was not looking at her. He had a queer white, as he stood there, his hands clenched at his sides.

TABLE TALKS

By SADIE B. CHAMBERS

A Happy Christmas To All

Upon our first retrospection it might seem this will not be a Merry Christmas for many and over all of us hangs a gloomy cloud of anxiety and uncertainty. However, through that cloud there shines a ray of sunshine which never fades, for upon this day we commemorate the birthday of him who brought the only true peace, joy and happiness to the world. As a nation let us not lose heart, for Victory is sure to come. "I save" she began.

Three cheers for Miss Lucy! said Mark. "Then what?" "Miss Trederie," said Miss Lucy, "I'm going to marry you." "I see," said Mark. "I don't believe I want to hear any more of that. You go on with you. After all, I might have known!" He stood staring at the girl, who had just come before him, but he was not looking at her. He had a queer white, as he stood there, his hands clenched at his sides.

SHE JILTED ME!

Mr. T. H. COFFEE NERVES

"Mary was a sweet thing until I got her in my clutches with too much coffee and sugar. She developed a coffee-craze. Her eyes fairly flashed for all the time. Then she made a meddler out of her with the matter and personal life of Postum and I got out."

Headache, nervousness and sleeplessness are the warning signals of coffee-craze. Coffee, when taken in excess, is not only a stimulant, but a poison. It is a habit-forming drug, and its use should be limited to a few cups a day. Postum is a healthy, natural food, and it is a good idea to substitute it for coffee. It is a good idea to substitute it for coffee.

Merry Christmas

The Christmas Saint

The Nativity

(St. Luke II)

1 And there were in the same city shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

2 And the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

3 And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

The Cock Crowed

Why does the cock seem to crow with unusual persistence during December? Our ancestors believed it to be some evil spirit from the holy season. They chattered many legends which made a hero of Chastice at continued to tell his with a story concerning the bird's behavior in the North. No man changing to a new game, he en-joying a game, it is advisable to stop the game after a few minutes and change to something else.

Mothers' Night

The oldest English name for Christmas is Mother's Night, or Mothers' Night. In the early days, when our forefathers had just settled down in the country, they were in the habit of giving their mothers a special dinner on the day of December 25th. This was given over to feasting, but the night was given to the special honour of their mothers. They occupied the seats of honour, and everyone brought them gifts. Sons and daughters who had gone out into the world strove to be at home on that night in the year.

Simple Games For New Year's Party

New Year's parties are always fun, but they are always new life and interest if several new life games are included with the old favorites. Spelling bees have been played for many years, but a few modern variations of these games can make them more popular than ever.

Joyous Greetings

Markonetta looked dully at her mother. "I met my purse," she said solemnly. "Some kid snatched it this morning. It looked just like that bag Jimmy so much but he ran so fast I couldn't be sure."

Christmas Carols

The singing of Christmas carols originated in England. According to tradition, this is the chorus of the very first: "Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth, Peace, Good will toward Men."

Wrapping Small Gifts

An unusual way to wrap a number of small gifts that are to be given in a good-sized Christmas box is to pack each one in an envelope made of either plain red, blue, or green paper. Wrap each gift first in plain white tissue paper, folded in envelope style, and seal the flaps of both the tissue and outer envelopes with contrasting seals. It is better to use the same color for all the envelopes can be cut from ordinary envelopes by tearing on part and either enlarging on it or trimming it down.

Add Gay Colors To Yule Candles

Christmas candles for gifts or home decorations can be made at home from bits of discarded candle, and the whole family may have fun doing it.

There is no limit to the shape and size of molds to be used. Card-board boxes such as salt packages or ice cream cartons are very satisfactory. The cartons in which butter-milk is sometimes sold are good for the tapered candles. Good results have even been reported with fancy gelatin molds of certain types and with jelly glasses.

First Christmas Tree

In Strasbourg, Germany, in 1604, the first Christmas tree appears in literature. It is thought that the custom of using Christmas trees in Germany spread from Strasbourg.

When Queen Victoria married Prince Albert, she introduced the Christmas tree custom into England.

From the early emigrants of Germany and America was derived the custom of the Christmas tree in America.

Accidents Offer Threat To Gaiety

Nothing can spoil the festive gaiety of a Christmas celebration more completely than a fire or accident in the home. There are several essential precautions which will help to assure a truly Merry Christmas.

Don't risk using frayed cords and broken plugs.

Don't handle electrical appliances with wet hands.

Don't yank at cords or run them under rugs.

Don't forget to have insulated staples on hand for stringing cords around.

Don't overload your house circuit. Usually 1,000 watts is as much as any circuit will stand.

Don't neglect providing plenty of extra lamp bulbs of the various sizes and colors used for stringing Christmas cheer, so you can replace burned out ones.

Don't put pennies in a blowing fan. A blown fan is a blowing fan.

Poinsettia Lacks Yule Tradition

The poinsettia has no Christmas tradition. Possessing beautiful red and green leaves (the flowers themselves being the main attraction), and being available at color of this plant to the Christmas decorations. The plant is native to Central America and Mexico and was adopted some years ago to cultivation in the United States. It is distinctly modern and American.

Christmas Special

A justice crust set off a colorful fruit pie. It's made with strips of dough twisted or laid flat across the pie at right angles. Each strip should be moistened where it meets the rim of pastry. Another trick to show off the filling, and at the same time make the pie a Christmas special, is to set out little trees and stars from the pie dough, prick with a fork, dust with nutmeg and granulated sugar, and bake in a hot oven a few minutes until lightly browned.

A HOME FROCK THAT IS GAY

By Anne Adams

At last — a home frock pretty enough as you don't have to dress yourself. "People will love it," says Anne Adams. "The basic waist slips in front and in back, matching the dipping neckline. Note, too, that the bodice buttons down the back. The handkerchiefs at the neckline and sleeves may be made of contrasting fabric like the twin heart pockets." If you like this frock all one fabric, the gay contrast border of this prettily scalloped skirt may be used on the inside as a hem facing. Optional, of course, is the length of the sleeves. . . you may make them short, three-quarter or long. The Sewing Instructor guides you step by step.
