A. L. MILLER, Editor

Rantin, Rovin, Robin

—By R.E.M.—
One hundred and eighty-two years ago the subject of this sketch first saw the light of day in a humble cottage from which, as if prophetic, a free from hypocrisy and cant and his blast o'Januar' win' removed the thatch a few days after his birth. Thirty-seven years later the curtain was drawn on the earthly career of the most colorful song writer of all time.
It was the irony of fate that he was denied the recognition during his lifetime, which in succeeding years has been so lavishly bestowed. Today Burns Clubs encircle the globe. Among the uninitiated there is much curiosity and speculation regarding the why and wherefore of it all and many who picture the "night on my bare knee" as an outburst of haggis, heather dew and hilarity.
It is true that the haggis is piped in according to established custom. The star of Robbie Burns' sung as only Scots can sing it but it is "The Immortal Memory" which controls the spotlight and strange to say, its rendition is not confined to the Scottish tongue. Burns belongs to all humanity. His philosophy of life was all embracing, his songs touched every heart-string, his religion was free from hypocrisy and cant and his genius remains undimmed. His faults were many and of those his admirers are under no illusion, but even his failings failed to detract from the most colorful song writer of all time.
Addressing the Burns Literary Society recently, Dr. Stuart Parker said "This was a being whose life was a struggle to be a cog in the national machine. Burns, the singer of the common man's rights is the poet of the present war. It is Burns against Hitler."
In support of the above we quote from "The Dumfriesshire Volunteers" Does haggis Gaul invasion threat; Then let the louns beware; sir; There's wauls wauls upon our sea And volunteers ashore, sir; The Nith shall rin to Jonken The Criffel sink in Soweray. We permit a foreign for King.
Shall haggis as high's the steeple But while we sing "God Save the King" We'll ne'er forget the people.
Of the true democrat he has this to say: We ho' on hanely far we dine Wear hoddin' gray and a' that Geart their silks and knaves A man's a man for a' that. A King can mak a belted knight, A marquis duke and a' that, But an honest man's aboon his might. Gude faith he maunna fa' that, For a' that and a' that Their dignities and a' that The pith o' us pray that come it may As it will for a' that That sense and worth o'er a' the years, May near the gree and a' that For a' that and a' that It's comin' yet for a' that That man to man the world o'er Shall brothers be for a' that.
When visiting Alloway cottage, Robt. J. Ingersoll concluded a glowing tribute with the following lines: "Here the world through all the years, As long as day returns, The tribute of its love and tears Will pay to Robert Burns."
