SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HELP

School children of Ontario will undertake a large part of the work of supplying Canadian Active Forces with suitable reading matter, under a plan drawn up by the Provincial Department of Education, it was announced today.

In co-operation with the Canadian War Services Library Council, the Department is issuing posters to be displayed in all classrooms, setting forth the type of literature needed by the Forces and inviting pupils to supply one or two such books each supply one or two such books each school term, as well as recent copies of magazines. It is proposed to continue the activity for the duration of the war.

Local committees to supervise the work will include public or separate school inspectors, and representatives of the elementary and secondary schools. The I.O.D.E. is allowing its depots to be used as receiving and distributing centres. Arrangements will be made with Citizens' Committees or the Auxillary Services Branch of local military headquarters for the collection of literature from the schools and its transportation to the local I.O.D.E. depot,
Dr. Lorne Pierce is chairmar.

Slip a medium yellow K-2 filter on your lens, load the camera with any good "chrome" or "pan" film, and you get pictures with more natural tone values. Or, in technical phrase, more accurate readering of relative brightnesses as seen by the eye. Which, briefly, means that your picture of any outdoor subject will come closer to showing things as you saw them when you snapped the shutter.

Slip a deep yellow G filter on your lens, and you'll get clearer, better pictures of distant scenes that look deeper than normal in tone—very effective in some pictorial shots.
