LESSON XI BROADENING CHRISTIAN HORIZONS THE ANTIOCH MOVEMENT
Acts 11: 19-30
PRINTED TEXT, Acts 11: 19-30
GOLDEN TEXT.—For I am not ashamed of the gospel for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. Rom. 1: 16.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING
Time.—13 and 44 A.D.
Place.—Antioch was a great city of Syria, on the left bank of the Orontes River, 15 miles inland from the Mediterranean Coast, in the northern extremity of Syria.

In this lesson we find rich material for the study of Church growth and Christian fellowship. Churches spring up and grow where faithful preaching is carried on—where the word of God is opened, where the Lord Jesus Christ is exalted, and where men and women are led to believe in Him as their Saviour and where those who know the Word really labor in the Word to strengthen young believers. Most of those, it would seem, who were responsible for the founding of this (to be) great Church at Antioch were what we would call laymen, supported by secular pursuits of life, but dominated by a passion for proclaiming Christ.

Following Preaching
Acts 11: 19. "They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen." The persecution that followed on the death of Stephen had a two-fold effect. It made dispersed disciples preach Christ and found churches within Palestine and beyond Palestine. In our lesson the Apostle Paul appears preaching, and from now on he occupies an increasingly prominent and soon a dominant part in the history of the Christian Church as recorded in the Acts. "Travelled as far as Phenicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to men save only to Jews."

(The population of Antioch included many heterogeneous elements. The upper classes were mainly Greeks. The imperial officials were Romans; the masses were Syrians. But mingling among these, yet preserving religiously their distinction from them, were many Jews who had been drawn to Antioch, bringing along their sacred books.)

"MARCHING IN SWINGTIME"
Exploring the beauties of Nature or the effect of a new word on their beloved public, it's all the same to the credit unaffiliated, Woodhouse and Hawkins. Now they are exploring a form of life new to them—life that believed turned unto the Lord." This preaching to the Greeks was not a mistake, even though it was not official sanction. The evident blessing on their work justified this early evangelism.

Barnabas in Antioch
22. "And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch." The Twelve sent Barnabas who from his earlier training of Saul had shown himself a man full of Christian hopefulness, to tell the Jews about the admission of Cornelius, a Gentile, to the faith, and to declare to the Gentiles that Jesus was the Christ. 23. "Who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord." 24. For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit, and of faith, and many people were added unto the Church. What a difference such a practice would make in our churches today!

25. "And he went forth to Tarsus to seek for Saul; 26. And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch." Paul had been in Tarsus probably about six years. It seems probable that Barnabas was acquainted with Paul's commission to the Gentiles; that he sympathized with it, and that he saw in Antioch the divinely prepared opportunity for it. It is clear that neither of them thought for a moment that Gentile believers could be bound by Jewish law, that demand had not yet been raised within the Church. Thus the first Gentile Church, known history was called Christian Church.

First Called Christians
"And it came to pass, that ever for a whole year they were gathered together with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch." The disciples

Gardening ...

ARTICLE NO. 13
In most parts of Canada it is still quite possible to have a good vegetable garden even from seeds. It is not a bit too early for melons, cucumbers, squash and medium and late corn, potatoes, beans, carrots and beets; with well started husky plants, purchased from the nearest seed store or greenhouse, one can get out a whole garden with tomatoes, peppers, cabbage and celery. To catch up with this late gardening, it is advisable to cultivate frequently, water during dry weather, and to hurry along with a few applications of good chemical fertilizer, especially any newly set out plants, applied close to but not actually touching the plants or its roots.

Tie Them Up
Dahlias, tomatoes, large cosmos or nicotiana, young may use stakes, new climbers, all benefit from some artificial support while they are getting started.

For tall individual flowers or tomatoes, 6-foot stakes are advisable and the plant is tied to these loosely with soft twine or raffia. Stouter and perhaps longer stakes will be used with shade trees and correspondingly shorter ones for low growing plants. With vines getting ready to cling to fence or wall, string is used or perhaps a few applications of good chemical fertilizer, especially any newly set out plants, applied close to but not actually touching the plants or its roots.

Sweet Peas, Tomatoes
With sweet peas and ordinary garden peas, one may use chicken wire from three feet to six feet high, depending how tall the peas grow.

With tomatoes, dahlias, etc., usually wide shoots are nipped off, and the main stem only allowed to grow.

Give Them Room
Thinning, as any old gardener will confirm, is most necessary with the vegetables, flowers and shrubs. Nature when left alone is ruthless, killing or crowding out the weaker plants.

Of the three thousand seedlings sown, only five thousand seedlings remain that are lavishly strewn by the winds over an acre of land, less than a hundred are able to reach full maturity three-quarters of a century later. In gardening this stern but necessary example must be followed. If left to grow, crowded flowers become spindly and weak, easy prey for the first stiff wind, hungry or hungry insect. Vegetables, too, get spindly or woody.

Pasture Helps Milk Production
Is Keystone in Keeping Up Economic Milk Yield in Summer Months, Says Ont. Dept. of Agriculture

Pasture is the keystone of economical milk production and is the most important single factor in keeping up milk yield during the summer months, says the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture. No labor is required in harvesting and little loss of nutrients occurs through weathering, heating or moulding. Any summer production program must be built around pasture and the problems arising out of pasture production. Pasture has a special interest to cheese patrons as the best quality cheese is made from summer milk. It should be remembered that there is a two cent bonus on cheese offered by the Ontario government.

NEAR THE BARN
Pasture yields can be increased by seeding high-yielding mixtures of grasses and legumes on good soil that has a high fertility level. Wherever possible pasture land should be located near the barn. Walking cows long distances and from the pasture field is not conducive to high milk yields. In addition to using much water, it predisposes the cows to under injury and sore and cracked feet.

Do not overgraze pastures. Overgrazing reduces the yield, increases injury from drought and encourages the growth of weeds. Some grasses and legumes are actually killed by very close grazing. To prevent this, adopt a system of rotational pasturing.

Every Third Car Is Found Defective

One in three cars tested on Toronto streets in a recent three-week check-up has been found in defective condition, Traffic Inspector Dunn of that city declares. Forty autos were ordered off the streets to be scrapped or completely overhauled, he added.

Pins are going to be scarce in Britain. Before the war they had 5,000,000,000 pins a year; now they are rationed to 250,000,000.

Modern Etiquette

BY ROBERTA LEE

1. When an office employee is being constantly criticized and annoyed by another employee, should he protest to the head of the department?

2. Shouldn't a bride be considerate of the expense necessary for her bridesmaids, in the purchase of their gowns?

3. Is it proper to thank a waitress every time she serves one a dish?

4. When two persons are not speaking terms, and are seated together at the table, is it necessary for them to talk to each other?

5. If a bride wishes to wear her engagement ring during the wedding ceremony on which finger should she wear it?

6. May a young man invite a young girl to a week-end party at his home?

Answers
1. If ignoring these annoyances seems to have no effect, calmly and privately talk things over with this person and try to reach an amicable understanding. 2. Yes, unless she knows that each one of the bridesmaids will be used to pay. 3. No; but she should acknowledge any special service, such as bringing an extra fork. 4. Yes. It is rude and absurd if they do not. Such action might be overlooked in children, but not in adults. 5. On the third finger of the right hand. The invitation to the young girl who is a friend of the son of the family must always come from the mother, or from his sister. 6. Yes.

Italian Is Croat King

The blacksmith's sweatheart entered the forge just as he passed to wipe the perspiration from his face. "Shall we go to the pictures to-night, Jake?" "Nay, say," he replied. "I'm playing checkers at the club." She stamped her foot. "I'm tired of you and your silly old checkers." "Come, come," pleaded the blacksmith, picking up the heavy hammer, "a man must get some exercise sometimes."

How Can I?

BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I store my furs for the summer, instead of leaving them at a fur house?
A. See that the furs are thoroughly cleaned; sprinkle liberally with powdered talcum; place in a well box with close-fitting lid; then wrap securely in several thicknesses of newspaper.

Q. How can I prevent white spots from turning yellow when laundering?
A. Put bluing into each water, and hang in the shade (preferably in the dark) to dry, and it will not turn yellow.

Q. How can I prepare an excellent laundry solution for cuts and burns?
A. Dissolve one teaspoonful of weak acid in one pint of water. Q. How should an oil stove be cleaned for the summer?
A. Before storing the oil stove make a mixture of equal parts of kerosene, turpentine, and liquid soap, and apply two coats with a paint brush. Cover the nickel portions with lard.

Q. How can I purify the water in a cistern?
A. Throw about one quart of powdered charcoal into the cistern.

Q. How can I clean a pitcher that has become discolored from use?
A. Let milk stand in it until it sours. The pitcher will look like new when washed.

Notwithstanding war conditions, it is again deemed advisable to invite the farm people of the province to visit the College during the third week in June. This will include the date June 16-20th. A special effort is being made to provide a worthwhile war-time service at the College during that week.

There will be the usual livestock parade and visit to the experimental plots in the Department of Field Husbandry and Horticulture, but there will also be special exhibits and demonstrations of labor-saving devices and equipment, such as exhibits of weeds, insect pests, plant diseases, etc., and methods for their control; and all departments of the College will be prepared to provide useful information along various lines.

Then, too, the gardens and grounds will be in prime condition, and these give a new ending source of inspiration and delight for farm visitors. A day or two spent at the College will repay the time spent.

Clam From Sky Creates A Furore
Does it rain clams in Yuma, Arizona?
Skeptics can take for proof the story of an eleven-year-old boy who says a clam struck him on the shoulder in a rainstorm.

He said he was hurrying home to get out of the rain when something hit him. He looked down and there was a clam. The nearest natural habitat of the clam is the Gulf of California, fifty miles south.

An important sitting of the British Parliament was suspended outside to watch a balloon ascent.
