

The toys in this picture have all been made by members of the London Fire Brigade. Since the bitzkreig on London came to a temporary stop members of the London Fire Brigade have found time lying heavy on their hands. To while away the hours of waiting, members of the Eastern District of the London Fire Service decided to make toys and dolls out of bomb debris to stock the nursery centres of the American Red Cross. Their completed work has just been placed on exhibition in a South London school.

DROUGHT-RESISTING WHEAT The Institute of Plant Pysiology of the Soviet Academy of Sciences treats wheat to adapt it for growth under unfavorable conditions. The seeds of Spring wheat, for example, are soaked in about one-third their weight of water. After the water has been absorbed they are raked over, piled up and left to dry, This operation is performed three times. For some varieties of wheat one treatment is enough.

It is reported that when thus treated seeds which normally grow well only in humid regions will do well in dry regions. The yields run from 10 to 100 per cent higher than for untreated wheat. In on experiment the difference was 32 per cent and in another 110. FAREWELL HAY FEVER

Canada Sets Up Curb on Strikes Strikes Called By Minorities

Ara Declared Illegal

Canada has erected new barriers gainst dislocation of war industries through unnecessary strikes. By the new Order-in-Council announced recently, strikes called by minorities are declared illegal Previous regulations have for-bidden workers to lay down tools until boards of conciliation have investigated their claims. 1 e new regulations carry the prohibition

After the findings of the board of conciliation in any dispute have been placed in the hands of the Government and the parties, a strike still nay not be "d until three conditions are fulfilled. First, the employees must give notice to the Minister of Labor that they contemplate a strike. Second, a general vote must be taken of the employees concern i under the supervision of the Department of Labor and subject to regulations imposed by the Minister. Third, a majority of the em ployees concerned must vote for The Department abor intends that when a strike is discussed any one who wishes may advance his opinion. There have been cases, the Minister of Labor Norman Mc-Larty states, where as few as 60 men have arranged the strike policy for a whole plant's employees of 3,000 to 4,000.

No measures were taken to see if the decision to strike really rep-resented the opinion of a majority of the men affected. New strike legislation provides penalty of $500, or not more than months imprisonment, or both, for anyone striking or inciting to strike in contravention of the new regulations.
