A Weekly Review

Ottawa, October 21 — The campaign in this country against the forces of inflation is becoming sterner and more widespread. Minister of Finance, Illsley in his speeches has made it quite clear that the government is determined to prevent the commodity price structure of the country being cut adrift from its moorings. At the time of writing the cabinet has been holding daily meetings at which the problem has been fully discussed and an announcement is expected at any moment of new measures of price control. There has been a difference of opinion on the question of whether the government should impose "ceiling" prices on goods and services or whether it should be a gradual evolution from the system of control admistered since the war started by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. In any event the new regulations are certain to be drastic and they will be imposed by addition all powers granted to the prices board. They will aim to keep living costs within reasonable limits and prevent the already pyramiding war costs from swelling still further?

Ottawa from widespread. Minister of Finance, Illsele mand for workers to produce moder mand for workers to produce modern implements of warfare. It has been implements of workers to produce modern implements of warfare. It has been implements of warfar costs from swelling still further through advanced prices of material and labor. The whole program of economic control which has been developed by the government, and administered by the cooperative efforts of various departmental boards, has included as major objectives, the increasing restriction of civilian industrial to the work of the price stream will overflow its banks. It has however been argued that present a forecast of what new steps the government will take to fix wage rates. Wages form a very important tributary swells beyond control, the tributary swells beyond control, the main stream will overflow its banks. It has however been argued that present a few works and the purity being raw materials.

of various departmenial boards, has included as major objectives, the increasing restriction of civilian industry and the switching raw materials and labor in greater volume into war production. It aims, in a word, at creating an "all out" economic war front in Canada.

Lower standards of living will have to be accepted by the Canadian people during wartime. Luxuries will have to be abandoned, or in any event their use will be creatricted. By direct measures of control and by pelas the government seeks a sharp curtailment of purchases of the electric, gas and oil appliances which have become part of every modern home. And in close relation with this retrenchment program has been the government's call on the people to save every penny they can to invest in war savings certificates and other Dominion securities. It is an urgent appeal to the people to accept sacrifices and present a common front to the peril that faces the country.

Word is expected from the government on another pressing problem, which has been under debate. The Stady curtailment of civilian production must naturally mean the release of a considerable number of workers for war industry. This is however, only a partial solution of how to utionly a partial solution of how to ution in the most effective way the increases for a considerable number of workers for war industry. This is however, only a partial solution of how to ution in the most effective way the increases treatment of civilian production in the most effective way the increases to core equitably advances to cover equitably advances to cover equitably advances to cover equitably advances to cover equitably advances to five people and paper milis and milister has been in the cover and present a common to the people to seek statutory force only adopting the principle adopted in all industry over which provincial authors of the principle adopt

The question is much more acute than in the last war in spite of the increase by nearly fifty per cent over this armount will be exported during the country's probably fifty per cent over this armount will be exported during the country's probably fifty per cent over this armount will be exported during the country's probably fifty per cent over the same of the increase by nearly fifty per cent over the same of the increase by nearly fifty per cent in the country's popula-continues to present difficulties per cent in the country's popula-continues to present difficulties per cent in the country's popula-continues to present difficulties per cent of the increase by nearly fifty per cent over the same of the probably fifty per cent over this armount will be exported during the solution of a good reserve of wheat in storage han remembering those of our number who are passing through deep sorrow.

The meeting closed with Hymn 372 and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The ladies served a light lunch and a social half hour was great.
