LESSON 15 The Mission of the Seventy-Luke 10: 1-24. Printed Text, Luke

Time-December A.D. 29. Place-Perea. Appointment of Seventy

1. "Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them two and two before face into every city and place, whither he himsel was about to come." Our Lord is now near the end of His public ministry. be done quickly. For this rea son he chooses seventy men and sends them forth to prepare the hearts of men in the cities and villages of Palestine for hearing the message of the Gospel, when the Lord would soon be coming o them teaching and healing These seventy were sent forth in thirty-five couples for compan-ionship. Moreover, the testimony ef two would be weightier than that of one, and they had to bear witness to Christ's words and

2. "And He said to them: The the laborers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest. 8. Go your ways; behold I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves." What a blessed relation between the workers in the harvest and the Lord of the Harvest! The wolves work here represents the world. and the lambs, the Seventy, those who are doing the Lord's work.

3. "Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes." This specific instruction was given to the Seventy, with the understanding that their work was to be of very short furation and they were not to be burdened with material things. 4. "And salute no man on the way." Our Lord did not want these men to tarry on the way but to go straight to the places their work, and to pass on to "And into whatsoever house ye shall enter, first say 'Peace be to this house'. 6. And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon him, but if not, it shall turn to you again." This Jews whose common salutation is 'Peace to thee'. A son of peace means one who truly deserves this peace that Jesus offers through messengers. 7. "And in that same hous emain, eating and drinking such things as they give, for the lab-orer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house" Or this occasion, everything told to he sevently implied urgency. What they were to do at this time they must do quickly. Disciples Elated

17. "And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the demons are subject unto us in Thy name." All the seventy would not return at once, and probably did not all return to the same place, but met Jesus at different points as He followed them. When they said that even the demons were subject to them, they meant that more had happened than they expected for they had only been told to heal the sick, and they were elated at possessing this power.

Revelation Is To Babes 21. "In that same hour he re-joiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, 'I thank thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, that Thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes. Yea, Pather, for so it was, well-pleasing in thy sight." Jesus does not mean that wise men will not understand the simplicity of the cospel and have no place in the church. What he does mean to say, however, is that men who are learned will be greatly tempted le ignore the Gospel and to think that their own wisdom is adequate Revelation Through Jesus 22. "All things have been delivered unto me of my Father, and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father, and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to rereal Him." The only people on earth to-day who truly know God are those who know Him through the Lord Jesus Christ, that is, they are the Christians. 23. "And turning to the disciples, be said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: 24, for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear. heard them not."

you remember the rest of the words that we sang to a bugle march in the last war? The song ended on a derisive note. But it was all good fun and while we may not actually have loved our sergeants we certainly got along well with them. The "Colonel Blimps" have long been quoted as saying that "the N.C.O. is the backbone of the Army." I have a sneaking suspicion that they didn't say it when they were young officers, though. Just who forms the backbone of the Army is, and probably altainly it is a point that has no particular significance in an Army staffed by many officers who have been N.C.O.'s themselves not so very long ago.

He has lived and travelled in most of the countries ow directly affected by the war, and because of his keen interest and intimate knowledge, is qualified as few others, to speak with athority on the Far Eastern

Dr. Salmon's wide experience and study is ably reflected in his war commentaries - CKOC, Monday through Friday at 7.15 p.m. -Sundays at 6.00 p.m.!

Listeners to Fibber McGee and Molly (and that includes most of us) may have often wondered who the versatile individual is who takes so many of the 'character' roles on the program. Let it be known that it is Bill Thompson, a young man in his middle twenties, who can do anything from bird whistles to the most difficult kind of character role. Wallace Wimple, the Old Timer, Horatio K. Boomer, and Nick De Popolus are one and the same Bill Thompson. Mayor la Trivia is portrayed by Gale Gordon, anther versatile radio actor, who has had a long stay in the cinema city, primarily as a radio actor. If you listen to some of CKOC's transcribed action thrillers — Speed Gibson at 5.00 p.m. daily and the Crimson Trail at 7.30 p.m., you will find that the res-

High Standard of Living "The outstanding fact is that after two and one-half years of war, during which our announced purpose has been the complete mobilization of our full productive resources to divert everything possible to our war effort, our civilian population is still left with a high average standard of comfort-a standard just about as high as it was before the war and, certainly, one of the highest in the world at the present time. In the face of that self-evident fact I simply cannot understand why any surprise should be expressed when I point out that we are not yet organized for total war. What Science Is Doing

DRIED MILK TO THE FORE Dried milk is nothing new. Large amounts are used in the tropics and by bakers. But more ought to be used, especially since we have learned something about the importance of vitamins and minerals in food.

In the drying process, milk is sprayed as a fine mist, whirled in a warm chamber and trapped as a fine powder. There is no doubt that the process destroys some vitamins. These can be added. But some vitamin G (actually a "B") remains and all the calcium, which is usually lacking in the Canadian diet. No other food can match dried skim milk in its content of calcium, protein and phosphorus.

What makes powdered milk so form and its keeping qualities.

A quart of separated milk reduced to powder weighs about three ounces, fills three-quarters of a teac-cup and keeps months in a maisture-proof has in a moisture-proof bag.

Roughly, one pound of milk powder makes five quarts of retituted milk. A quart of mill made from powder contains about three per cent more of the body-building elements of milk (cal-eium, protein, phosphorus) than a quart of whole milk because there is no fat.

Now that the war has spread to the Pacific, the need for pow-dered milk is more pressing than ever. In powder form, milk can be shipped across the American continent for as little as the cos of moving whole wet milk six miles. And the dried milk resists bacterial attack a hundre times more effectively than liquid milk and in some cases one thou

Since its inception, it has supplied the R.A.F. with nearly a quarter of a million fish meals, representing a catch of 121,240 pounds (six thousand kilograms) and worth more than £6,000. When the weather is good, some of the boats trawl, but most
