NEW TORPEDO BOMBER TECHNIQUE

A quick mastering of a new phase of weapon by the Allies, may see a change in coming sea fighting. Powerful new torpedo planes, now recognized as fitting rivals for battleships in sea fighting, are the reason for this new technique being developed.

Experts call the Avenger the deadliest torpedo plane in the world today. Powered by a motor of 2,000 horsepower, it cruises at more than 270 miles an hour, about 50 miles an hour faster than previous types.

The Army now has its torpedo planes, to Martin B-26 bombers have been successfully converted for torpedo attacks in offshore operations against the enemy.

Although torpedo planes were invented by an American—the late Great Britain was the first to build and use them. In 1915, during the previous war, British divers sank four Turkish ships in the Sea of Marmora with 30-pound Whitehead torpedoes.

dealing with this war, speeches and speakers can be had at the proverbial "dime a dozen" and the conventional phrase, "the war has had the effect, not of uniting, but of divorcing, public opinion to such an extent that apathy reigns and only the words of world leaders such as Stalin, Churchill or Roosevelt are heard or heeded with any degree of truth."

Words were cultivated as a fine art among the Greeks, and their orators knew the power of words—they could build great empires and weave wonderful pictures in words—but the words were always followed by ACTION!
